—14 Americans Missing—Turks Move on Constantinople

LONDON, Sept. 15.—The admiral commanding the British squadron at Smyrna has warned the Turkish authorities in the city that if the massacres are continued, the Turkish quarters will be bombarded, says an Exchange Telegraph despatch from Athens.

Fourteen Americans Missing
LONDON, Sept. 15.—It is believed here that the 14 naturalized Americans reported missing in Smyrna are members of the American International college, which comprises the bulk of the American population in Smyrna. They were at the Paradise college compound, three miles from Smyrna, according to a telegram dated Sept. 12.

Hundreds of Bodies in Streets
MALTA, Sept. 15.—(By the Associated Press.) Hundreds of bodies of victims of the Turkish massacre in Smyrna were lying in the streets of the city when the British hospital ship Maine left there with more than 400 refugees on board. It is stated by Reuters's Smyrna correspondent, who arrived here today on the Maine.

"When I left Smyrna," he said, "the Turks were still pillaging and massacring, and hundreds of bodies were lying in the streets of the city and the outlying districts. Two villages five miles from Smyrna were on fire. The British had withdrawn all patrols and guards, and several British houses had been requisitioned for Turkish officers."

1000 to 2000 Massacred
LONDON, Sept. 15.—(By the Associated Press.)—From 1000 to 2000 Christians had been massacred in Smyrna, it was said.

LABOR CONFERENCES

Two Meetings Affecting Different Groups of R. R. Workers on Calendar

NEW YORK, Sept. 15 (By the Associated Press).—Two labor conferences affecting different groups of railroad workers, were on the calendar here today.

At noon, W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, and L. E. Sheppard, president of the Order of Railroad Conductors, went into conference with A. H. Smith, head of the New York Central lines, and about 40 other road officials and labor leaders, to receive the New York Central's answer as to whether it was willing to agree to continuance of present wage scales, working conditions and rules in a new agreement.

Later in the day Mr. Smith and other officials of the New York Central were scheduled to meet federal chairmen representing the systems striking shopmen.

Charge Plot to Smash Unions
CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—(By the Associated Press.)—The government yesterday speeded up its case against the striking rail crafts in an effort to complete the evidence in support of Attorney General Daugherty's indictment bill by Saturday noon.

While two assistant attorney generals and Daugherty's attorney, assistant to the solicitor general, worked in relays reading additional affidavits of violence during the progress of the case, the defense announced it would seek to show the railroad executives were in a conspiracy to force a strike in an effort to wreck the unions.

"The government has sought to show presumption of a conspiracy among the shopmen to carry out acts of violence, attorneys for the defense said. 'We will show a strong presumption that certain rail executives were in conspiracy to destroy the unions.'"

"We will show they first sought to bring on a strike and then did everything in their power to prevent peace."

Evidence which the unions could not produce heretofore because it might hurt their peace negotiations, with Daniel Willard and other rail residents can now be brought forward, it was said.

If the government completes its case by Saturday afternoon, the trial for the defense and for final arguments before the expiration of the present restraining order next Thursday night.

Approximately 200 more affidavits from non-union men and others alleging assault and intimidation during the strike were placed on record today.

CHEMICAL EXPERT SAYS ENTOMBED MEN ALIVE

JACKSON, Cal., Sept. 15.—(By the Associated Press.) Dr. L. H. Dusehak, consulting chemical engineer of the California Industrial Accident commission, today issued a signed statement in which he predicted that the 47 miners entombed for 18 days in the Argonaut mine would be found alive.

"There is ground for assuming that the men under ground were not come by the poisonous gases from the fire zone and that these gases are not now passing through the parts of the mine in which the men sought refuge," Dr. Dusehak's statement said.

CAN THANK CROWS FOR BUMPER POTATO CROP

CAPE MAY, N. J., Sept. 15.—F. P. Harris and Henry Shaw, two farmers near here, can thank a flock of about 300 crows for what they now believe will prove to be a bumper potato crop. They had about given up hope of saving the plants from the crows' attacks when the field was in a few minutes, according to observers, had picked the worms clean from their four-acre patch.

BRITISH AND JUGO-SLAV TROOPS READY TO RESIST TURKS

Warships Also Will Be Used if Head of Turkish Nationalist Forces Attempts to Occupy Constantinople and Cross the Straits of Dardanelles

LONDON, Sept. 15.—(By the Associated Press.)—One of the possible immediate results of today's British cabinet conference is that Mustafa Kemal Pasha will be informed that he will be met not only by British troops and British ships, but by a Jugo-Slav army if he attempts to occupy Constantinople and cross the Straits of the Dardanelles.

It is an established impression in military circles that the Turkish nationalist army is large enough to take the Turkish capital if Kemal so desires also that he has sufficient guns to drive the fleet out of the Bosphorus. It is considered unlikely, however, that he would take such desperate measures unless he was persuaded that in no other manner could he obtain the capital or Thrace. On the other hand, there are intimations that the Jugo-Slav government, are determined not to have the Turks as neighbors in Thrace or to permit the Bulgars to secure a foothold on the Mediterranean sea.

Sullivan Charged With Perjury, Larceny of Auto and Highway Robbery

CAMBRIDGE, Sept. 15.—John J. Sullivan, arrested in Portsmouth, N. H., and brought back here yesterday, pleaded not guilty in the superior court today to three indictments charging perjury, larceny of an automobile and highway robbery. He was held in $20,000 bonds.

Sullivan is charged with having been implicated in the robbery of $2355 from John Murphy, a messenger of the Somerville Trust Co., in Somerville, on February 21 last.

RECEIVED REMOVAL OF EVANGELINE BOOTH

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Expressions of regret at the removal of Commander Evangelina Booth as head of the Salvation Army in America, at a date yet to be fixed, today were universal. Miss Booth received notice of her impending removal through a radiogram message from her brother, General Braywell Booth, supreme head of the organization, with headquarters in London.

"I shall obey the order," she said today. "I have enabled my brother for further information."

The only previous intimation that she was to be recalled from the position was two years ago, Miss Booth's brother, when her brother told her "you cannot expect to remain at the head of the organization all the rest of your life."

"I have always felt that America claimed my best," she added, "and, ungrudgingly, I gave my best. The one and only regret is that I had not a better host to give."

She has been commander of the organization in America for 14 years.

BUDGET BOARD NOTIFIES MAYOR

Figures Show Possible Appropriation Net Deficit of $188,689.83

More Money Borrowed in 1922 Than Will Be Paid Off on Principal

That the city of Lowell this year to date has borrowed $45,000 more than will be paid off in principal charges on loans already on the books and that a financial statement for the first eight months of the year, embracing 42 departmental appropriations, shows that unless a miracle occurs there will be a net deficit in appropriations at the end of the year of upwards of $180,000 were two startling announcements made at city hall today that vitally affect the city's financial status.

More Than Half Million Borrowed
To date the city has borrowed this year $512,600, with at least $100,000 more that is authorized, but not contracted. Against this amount actually borrowed, the city will pay off on principals of previously assumed loans, $497,405, or $14,035 less than already borrowed.

This means that the city will make no gain in 1922 on its loan account, in fact, it will lose ground.

The financial statement of all departmental appropriations for the first eight months of the year, or from January 1 to September 7, inclusive, has been prepared by City Auditor Daniel E. Martin and copies presented to the mayor and members of the budget and audit commission, who were the real authors of the 1922 budget.

Immediately upon receipt of the detailed statement, the budget commission sent a communication to Mayor George H. Brown, calling his attention to the story told by the figures and making his intentions relative to the budget and audit commission, who were the real authors of the 1922 budget.

In arriving at a net deficit in excess of $180,000, figures were carefully marshalled and arranged in the auditor's office. In each instance, they were arrived at by taking a departmental appropriation, plus credits and deducting therefrom total expenditures up to Sept. 7. The total expenditures were prepared upon a monthly basis, thereby securing an approximate figure of expense for the balance of the year.

In other words, if a department in which a deficit now seems a probability, continues to spend monthly what has been the average monthly expenditure for the first eight months of the year, such a deficit will be established. Either such a department must curtail its expenditures to allow the balance of its appropriation to last out the year, or spend as it has been spending and find its money exhausted long before the appointed time.

Out of the 42 appropriations contained in the statement there was found a net deficit at the end of the year of $192,523.98, against a total excess of $103,534.83, not including the water debt.

MRS. HUBBARD GUILTY

Pleads Guilty to Manslaughter in Connection With Killing of Husband

BOSTON, Sept. 15.—Mrs. Carrie N. Hubbard, after pleading guilty of manslaughter for the killing of her husband, William B. Hubbard, head of the germicide business that bears his name, was sentenced today to serve five years and a month in the women's reformatory at Sherborn. She had been indicted for murder in the first degree. Hubbard was shot down in their home in the Roslindale district on May 2, after he had quarreled with his wife and returned from a walk with Edward Pitcock of Chicago, a discharged naval officer, who was a guest in their home. Mrs. Hubbard was subjected to sanity tests after her arrest with the result that she was eligible to stand trial.

Bootlegging Murder Mystery

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Believing they are facing a bootlegging murder mystery, police today sought to throw some light upon the killing of "Bobby" Reynolds, a former saloonkeeper, whose body was found yesterday, floating in the East River. The body had been placed in a sack and the feet were tied together. Reynolds was shot in the head and stabbed several times in the body. The police believe he may have been engineering a liquor deal when he was killed by robbers.

Take Up Impeachment Charges Saturday

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—Impeachment charges against Attorney General Daugherty as the result of his petition for an injunction in the cases of striking railway employees as presented to the house Monday by Representative Keller, republican, Minnesota, will be considered by the judiciary committee at a meeting tomorrow at which Mr. Keller will be heard.

More war heroes anxious to work off surplus energy and see the U. S. A.

before the millennium and aftermath, were unable to eliminate Lowell from their hike schedules, and marched into the city yesterday after a saunter down from the Green Mountain state and other New England precincts. Merrill S. Gridley and Jim Perigo of Boston are the latest to attempt a 20,000-mile walking tour of the U. S. A. firmly convinced that they are going to visit every state capital from Maine to the Golden Gate before calling it a day.

Although the young men were not soldiers in the great war, they went over with the War Camp Community forces. Neither was accepted for the battle line because of injuries received before the struggle, but they remained in France doing excellent service on the danger territory outside of St. Nazaire. Gridley has appeared on the Kith circuit, as a singer and pianist. He is minus his left arm. Perigo sings and hits the piano, also, and has a left leg missing.

The young men are armed with a letter of introduction from Mayor James M. Curley of Boston, and plan to appear at the Jewel theatre this and then south on the country circuit.

CONSIDER PROGRAM TO LIMIT COAL PRICES

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—Consideration of a program of voluntary action to limit coal prices and effect the most advantageous distribution of fuel supplies, was the purpose of a conference in which nearly half a hundred representatives of business, industry, railroads, public utilities and the government met today at the department of commerce.

Specifically, the conference was to consider measures not only for the expedition of coal movement, but also for the voluntary limiting of coal stocks accumulated by business and industrial consumers as well as for the diversion to general market requirements of coal normally produced only for certain industries.

LUTHER BURBANK TALKS

Hopes Laws in Plant Life Will Be Applied to Improvement of Human Life

SANTA ROSA, Cal., Sept. 15.—(By the Associated Press) If fulfillment comes to the hopes and ideals of Luther Burbank, foremost plant breeder of the world, history also will record his influence in the developing of better man, as well as better plants, for he regards improvement of mankind as greater work than improvement of plant species.

"I hope that the same laws, as far as practicable, which I have discovered and demonstrated in plant life will be applied to the improvement of human life," said the dean of plant scientists in his Santa Rosa home.

"This, in a measure, can, must and will be done," he asserted. Although every possible minute of Burbank's day is given to his plant experiments, he is glad to give time to civic affairs, especially to the Boy Scouts, playground activities and school doings, for in these he sees the beginning of the application to mankind of his principles of plant breeding.

"Only time is all too short to do all I wish and hope yet to do," he says. The improvement of plants, according to Burbank, is in its earliest infancy, but the possibilities are limitless," he declares.

"In mechanics and electricity great progress already has been made, but in every scientific knowledge, it is hardly a beginning," says Burbank, in comparing mechanical and plant knowledge.

After sixty years of plant breeding he enunciates the principle: "Plants are pliable and amenable to the will of man, but this has never been summarized by the general public until the last twenty-five years."

Agriculturists a few years ago reported to Burbank that the tall stalks on which sunflowers grew made it unhandy to harvest the seeds. Burbank set to work on the problem, and this year is marketing seeds of a sunflower which grows on a three foot stalk. The bloom has been so greatly enlarged that it is a heavier producer of seeds than other varieties and the seeds are white.

Next year he will give the world six new peaches, a new plum which does not need to be dipped before drying, a new plum and a new nectarine. He has also been working several years on potatoes in the hope of producing a new variety which will rival his famous "Burbank" grown and used in greater quantity than any other, and after countless experiments has narrowed his experimental varieties down to sixty, from which he will eventually bring out one or more varieties for the world.

FOREIGN AND LOCAL NEWS

ly bring out one or more varieties for the world.

The Santa Rosa plant scientist, having produced many fruits, berries, vegetables, grasses and grains of great benefit to mankind, is today giving a bit more of his attention than ever before to the development of beautiful plants and blossoms. Although in no measure setting up his work and interest in food, clothing and timber producing plants.

But it is in the development of striking colors in plants and flowers, of pleasing flower fragrances and new flavors in fruits that his experiments today show breadth of imagination. Hundreds of visitors stop in amazement each day at the low fences surrounding his experimental plots in this city and gaze enraptured at the shades of some glorified popular flower—some new zinnia, poppy, gladiolus or larkspur.

Burbank has a hundred thousand new color shades and varieties of the gladiolus, in every conceivable color and combination of color and of unequalled size and freedom of bloom.

His new amaranthus "Molten Fire" is his newest pride. It is a plant from three to four feet in height and three feet across and whose leaves develop an iridescent, fiery, crimson, salmon color, a hue never before seen on land or sea, in any plant or anything else except the intense heat of the electric furnace. It retains its brilliance of color for three months. Two years ago there was only one of these plants in the world.

Constantly increasing publicity for Burbank's work has resulted in his experimental grounds here becoming the Mecca for thousands of scientists and world notables in every profession. He receives as many of these as possible, but the unnumbered thousands who come cannot, of course, be admitted to the grounds, or his work soon would have to be discontinued. He has now an average of 150 callers a day, of whom he can see but few. In a recent Sunday afternoon automobile were parked three deep in the street for the length of a block beside his gardens.

"I would willingly entertain all who wish to visit my grounds, yet the very nature of my work requires absolute freedom from interruption," he says. All of Burbank's business is carried on by mail only, a necessary measure because of the demands made upon his time.

SAGE TEA TURNS

GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application of two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold. Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair. Everybody uses "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous.—Adv.

MELON AND PEAR SALAD

BY BERTHA E. SHAPLEIGH
Of Columbia University

Just now there are plenty of melons and pears. Each may be served in many ways and combined they make a most excellent salad. Two cups melons, 1 head lettuce or romaine, 2 cups pears cut in the same shape, 1 pintanto cut in strips, 1/2 cup French dressing, made with lemon juice instead of vinegar, seasoned with paprika, salt, pepper and a tiny bit of currie powder. Pare and cut the melon and pears into cubes—mix with the pimento and part of the dressing. Chill.

MARRIAGE A LA MODE

Among certain South American Indian tribes the man goes to live with his wife and her family after marriage. He is treated as a stranger until the birth of the first child, when he is received on a less formal basis.

In case of the death of his wife it is necessary for him to marry her sister or nearest female relative. If you read Sun classified ads, remember others would read yours.

FEWER BIRTHS AND DEATHS

LONDON, Sept. 15.—There has been a general reduction in births and deaths in England and Wales during the second quarter of this year, according to official figures. Births totalled 200,000 or 7,028 less than the previous quarter. The birthrate is the lowest recorded in any second quarter except during the war period.

Deaths totalled 120,315 or 45,162 fewer than the previous quarter. Opportunity awaits one in New York. Another man who went there a poor boy owes $18,000,000 now.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS IRREGULARS ATTACK

POINTS IN DUBLIN

in Re-election of Grand Knight John E. Hart

At the annual meeting of Lowell Council 72, Knights of Columbus, held last night, John E. Hart was re-elected grand knight for the ensuing year. Other officers elected for the coming year were: Deputy grand knight, Roger J. Lang; chancellor, James B. Coughlin; warden, Frank J. Flanagan; financial secretary, Philip J. Brown; recording secretary, Patrick J. Nevin; treasurer, Thomas J. Fitzgerald; advisor, George E. Toye; inside guard, Michael A. Keefe; outside guard, John J. Lane; trustee for three years, Charles J. Landers, P.D.D.; delegate to the state convention, George F. Brigan, P.G.K.; first alternate, William F. Thornton, P.D.D.; second alternate, John H. McNally, R.G.K.

JOHN E. HART

Mr. Hart has just completed one year as grand knight and has won the support of all the members by his progressive and enterprising leadership. The social calendar carried out by the knights last fall under his direction was one of the most enjoyable and entertaining in many years and the members returned him to office in consideration of his faithful work in behalf of the council.

The remarkable vote of confidence accorded Grand Knight Hart is a tribute to his work the past year, in his remarks, expressing his appreciation, he said he felt, with the splendid building, next year's activities would be conducted on a much more pretentious scale and that he was looking forward to an era of success. Thomas R. Delaney, retiring warden, and John P. Golden, retiring trustee, were accorded votes of thanks and the former spoke appreciatively of the honor done him in his twenty years of service as warden.

Preliminary plans were made by the council for the observance of Columbus day on October 12 and arrangements were left in the hands of the committee.

BELFAST, Sept. 15.—(By the Associated Press) Forces of irregulars attempting to seize various strategic points in the southern section of Dublin, according to despatches received here. The places attacked included the Wellington and Portobello barracks, the telephone exchange, and the Kingsbridge station of the Great Southern and Western Railway.

INCREASE IN DEATHS FROM ALCOHOLISM

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Deaths from alcoholism are increasing here, Dr. Royal S. Copeland, commissioner of health, said today. During the first eight months of this year, there were 169 deaths from alcoholism as compared with 112 during the whole of last year. During the first eight months of this year there were also five deaths from wood alcohol poisoning and five from grain alcohol poisoning.

A committee of ten. The members of the council will parade in a body to St. Peter's church to attend mass on that day as the central feature of the holiday observance. At first it was thought the new home might be ready for dedication on that day but announcement of the dedication date will come later.

The recommendation of the carnival committee embodied in a vote of the council that a carnival be held in next month on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, October 23, 24 and 25. This affair will be held for the benefit of the new building.

During the meeting Joseph Duffy, the well known athlete, was appointed athletic director of the council and will have charge of the various teams of the council in the future. In connection with this Grand Knight Hart was appointed a member of a state committee of 10 to encourage amateur athletics in the Knights of Columbus and to promote them in every possible way. In the future the Knights intend to frown on professional athletic teams within its councils and will not place a team on the field that will accept money for its performances.

John V. Donoghue was reappointed lecturer for another term. During his incumbency Mr. Donoghue and Grand Knight Hart secured the services of such speakers as Hon. David J. Walsh, Edward F. Mcweeney, Hon. Charles S. O'Connor, Peter W. Collins and Hon. William H. O'Brien who are greatly sought throughout the state.

It was announced at last night's meeting that the carnival committee would hold a meeting in the rooms on next Monday night.

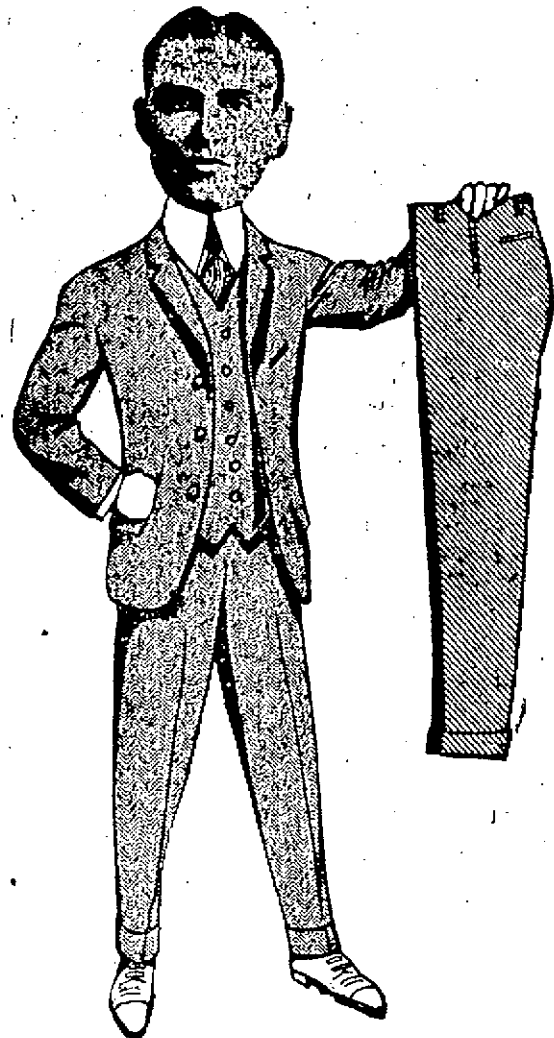

The meeting was by far one of the largest in the history of the council and as the opening gun of the fall and winter program it was all that could be desired. The election committee in charge was Henry L. Watson, John F. Roane, Arthur J. O'Neill, Edward Callahan, James J. Molloy and John Mc-

COLLINS MAKES GOOD
IN SISLER'S PLACE

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 15.—Manager Fohl's infield shift will be abandoned. It was learned today, since Pat Collins, the substitute catcher, showed such impressive ability at first in the absence of George Sisler. McManus goes back to second base and Foster back to third. Collins yesterday accepted 15 chances perfectly and delivered three timely hits. Sisler's sprained shoulder, it became evident today, will keep him out of the first game of the crucial series with New York, starting tomorrow.

PRIZES AWARDED
AT ANNUAL OUTING

At the second annual outing of the J. L. Chaffoux Mutual Benefit Association, held yesterday afternoon at Allard's farm, the following members won prizes: 100-yard dash, Louis Oppenheim, silk shirt; Alrah Johnson, pipe; Wheelbarrow race, Callahan and Shea, neckties; three-legged race, Al Johnson and Sider, cuff links; Relay race, Oppenheim and Shea, silk hose; Hack race, Al Johnson, Candy race, Ben Sheer, silk hose; Fifty-yard dash for women, Miss Collins, silk hose; Thread and needle race, Miss Marion, lar pin; Fat ladies' race, Miss Killoy, Mary Garden compact; Potato race, Miss Anna Lane, collar and cuff set. Throwing contest, Miss Gormley, silk hose. The raffle for $250 in gold was won by Mr. Roche. The men's baseball game was won by Al Johnson's team by the score of 6 to 2, and Miss McCann's women's team defeated Miss Gormley's, 14 to 13.

AMATEUR BASEBALL

According to information received today, the challenge from the Emerald Seconds to the St. Columban, which appeared in last night's Sun, was printed without the knowledge of any body connected with the Emeralds. The Emeralds are out for the 11-12.

year-old championship of the city and not the 14-15-year-old championship. The challenge was no doubt sent to The Sun by some team which the Emeralds defeated this season, thinking it would put the Emeralds in a wrong. The Emeralds did not issue the challenge.

The Ramblers claim the 15-17-year-old championship of the city, having won the title in the Junior Twilight league from the following field of contenders: Legion Juniors, Butler Blues and Butler A.A. A total of 23 games was won by the Ramblers this season. The Tyler A.C., one of the few teams to defeat the Ramblers this season, refuse to accept another challenge. The Ramblers are willing to meet all 15-17-year-old teams at the Chamber street playground.

The Maple A.A. and the Wanderers will meet on the South common tomorrow afternoon to determine the amateur championship of the city. "Babe" Lawson, who has lost but one game this season, will pitch for the Maples and "Iron Man" Trash will work for the Wanderers. Riley and Ray Linton will be on the receiving end for the Maples and Wanderers respectively. As this is the only game in the city scheduled for Saturday afternoon, a big crowd is expected. The contest is being to be contested as a side bet of $100 has been posted. Tommy Hickey will do the calling of strikes and balls by mutual agreement of both managers. The following Maple players are requested to report to Manager "Red" Wallace tomorrow afternoon on the South common at 2 o'clock: Riley, Brady, B. Lawson, J. Lawson, McDonald, Souza, Harrington, Kitch, Dickenson, Bagley and Cawley.

Plan For Reciprocal Registration to Be Broached at Meeting Oct. 2

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—An arrangement between states which would permit an engineer registered in one state to practice in other states will be broached at a meeting of the Council of State Boards of Engineering Examiners to be held here October 2, according to C. B. Hammatt of Jacksonville, Fla., president of the council.

"A tentative plan will be submitted at the meeting," he continued, "whereby the several state boards can make the state laws operative for reciprocal registration without changing them." The states represented in the council comprise Arizona, Colorado, Florida, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Louisiana, Michigan, Minnesota, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Oregon, Pennsylvania, South Dakota,

South Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia, West Virginia and Wyoming. With the announcement of the meeting comes a statement from the officers here of the American Association of Engineers that the committee on the classification of engineering positions has issued its first report. The committee, headed by A. B. McDaniels, educational specialist in the United States war department, is preparing an occupational index of engineering positions in the United States. Its program, according to the statement, includes the sending of questionnaires to at least fifty practicing engineers in each position to be studied, and criticism by members of the profession of preliminary specifications for publication.

A. F. OF L. TAKES STEPS TO IMPEACH DAUGHERTY

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 15.—The executive council of the American Federation of Labor yesterday formally inaugurated plans for impeachment of Atty. Gen. Daugherty and Federal Judge Wilkerson, in connection with the Chicago injunction proceedings and for bringing "this unconstitutional conduct of the attorney general and Judge Wilkerson into every congressional election."

In a statement of the council's action, Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, said: "Every possible effort will be made to arouse the people of America to the necessity that government by injunction must stop." Mr. Gompers' statement continued, "and this constitutional government by law must govern. If we are to perpetuate a government of free people."

Steps already have been taken to begin impeachment proceedings in the house of representatives. It was announced by Matthew Wolf, vice president of the A. F. of L.

NO QUORUM AND NO MEETING

Absence of a quorum made it impossible to hold a scheduled meeting of the board of public service yesterday afternoon. At the last moment, Mr. Powers was called out of town and Mr. Leary was unable to attend. Chairman Dennis J. Murphy conferred for a few minutes with City Engineer Kearney and opened bids on the proposal to furnish and install necessary pipe connections for the air pump at the boulevard water works station.

The Atlantic Machine Co. was the low bidder, $1200. Welch Bros. bid $1325 and Thomas E. O'Day Co., $1340. Chairman Murphy said that, subject to the approval of the other members of the board, the job will be awarded to the lowest bidder.

The board will meet next Wednesday noon at 12 o'clock to take action on bids to be opened on the contract to erect a new bridge in Lundberg street.

NEW AGREEMENT ON THE TARIFF BILL

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—A second agreement on the administration tariff bill was reached last night by the conferees, and it was the hope of majority leaders to have the measure ready for President Harding by the end of this week or early next week.

In accord with the direction of the house, the conferees eliminated the dye embargo licensing provision and the one and one-half cents a pound duty on potash.

In lieu of the embargo, the managers increased the rates on dyes and synthetic chemicals and medicines; the products of coal tar.

For the first two years the duties would be 10 cents a pound and 55 percent ad valorem on intermediates and seven cents a pound and 60 percent on the finished products, while after two years they would be seven cents a pound and 40 percent on the intermediates and seven cents a pound and 45 percent on the finished products.

At least in cases where the valorem would be based on American valuation.

It is the plan of majority leaders to call the conference report up in the house today. Leaders declared there were no questions about adoption of the conference report.

In the senate yesterday Senator Moses, republican, New Hampshire, presented a letter from acting Secretary Phillips saying the provision to secure protection of trade marks to persons domiciled in the United States who have registered trade marks in the United States patent office would be in contravention of the convention signed by the United States and most of the European nations in 1922. Mr. Moses expressed the hope that the senate conference would not bring in a bill that will make our treaties mere scraps of paper.

When the conferees concluded their work, it was stated that the trade mark provision had not been considered.

MANUFACTURERS SUE LYNN UNION MEN

LYNN, Sept. 15.—Lynn shoe manufacturers yesterday filed suit in the supreme court against officers and members of Women's Stitches' Local No. 57, United Shoe Workers of America, charging that the vamps, by their unauthorized strike since Tuesday, have violated stipulation made before the court, striking that there would be no more strikes and lockouts pending wage settlements.

The vamps persisted in their strike yesterday, despite the advice against a strike submitted by their officers. The striking vamps, 500 in number, declare that they will not return to work until a price list favorable to them has been agreed upon with the manufacturers.

Mayor Harland A. McPheters' adjustment board was working on the wage scale at the time the vamps went on strike.

HENRY FORD'S DRIVER FINED FOR RACING

SPRINGFIELD, Sept. 15.—Michael Hudak, 37, chauffeur for Henry Ford, automobile manufacturer, was arrested yesterday charged with racing in the street and reckless driving. He pleaded not guilty in district court and was fined $20. A similar fine was paid by Joseph Woods of Newark, N. J., who was racing with the chauffeur.

Motorcycle Officer A. B. Clifford, who made the arrests, said the machines were running at a speed of 60 miles an hour.

Hudak said he was on the way from the Maine camp of Henry Ford to New York.

R. I. GOVERNOR WARNS COAL PROFITEERS

PROVIDENCE, Sept. 15.—An extra session of the legislature to enact anti-profiteering laws, if coal prices soar further, was threatened by Gov. Elnery J. San Souel in his "Governor's Day" address at Kingston fair yesterday. The governor said that his appointment of Capt. George H. Webb as fuel administrator as having been made to "avert hardship and suffering."

The governor said if coal dealers are guilty of profiteering, however, he would not hesitate to act against them. He also declared that during the textile strike he had "acted in no uncertain manner."

PULMOTOR FAILS TO SAVE NEW BORN INFANT

BOSTON, Sept. 15.—Firemen from Ladder 18 and Rescue Company 1 worked for more than three hours yesterday at the Commonwealth avenue in an effort to save the life of a new-born infant by the use of a pulmotor.

Four and a quarter cylinders of oxygen were pumped into the lungs of the infant before Dr. William J. Whitney, the attending physician, announced that the case was hopeless.

This is the first case in history, local medical men believe, in which a powerful pulmotor has been used on a new-born infant in an effort to keep life in the tiny body, and is one of the few cases in the records of the Boston fire department in which so large a quantity of oxygen has been used.

It was about 4:30 yesterday morning when officers of the Back Bay police station notified Capt. William Swan of Ladder 18 that a pulmotor was required at the Commonwealth hospital. Ladder men Jones and McKenna were sent to the hospital in a police automobile.

Two cylinders of oxygen were taken with them. When they got their machine set up and found they were to work on a baby who would almost sit into a coat pocket they were puzzled, but started to work just the same.

At Strat Jones and McKenna feared

SPRING OIL —And— RUST SOLVENT

Apply a few drops of this oil to rusted nuts, bolts, valve cages and wheel rims. This will enable you to remove them easily.

To lubricate auto springs wipe off any dirt and apply the oil to the edges. It penetrates between the leaves, softens rust and deposits a coating of FLAKE graphite. Springs thus treated ride easily, absorb shocks, and will not squeak.

WARN STYLE DICTATORS

Women's League Wants Spectacularly Designed Clothes for Business Girl

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—With a solemn warning to male designers of feminine flattery that they "felt up and take notice," 500 Napoléonettes of the commercial world members of the Professional and Business Women's League, are preparing to make a fashion show all their own at the Commodore hotel September 18-23.

Their purpose, they declare, is to point out to the business flapper the incongruities in her get-up; to bring about a closer affinity between beauty and the working girl, and, most important of all, to impress upon male designers of feminine fashions the imperative need for a standardized attire for business women only.

The business girl, instinctively trying to keep up with the fashions and at the same time look and feel practically dressed, has been guilty of some innocent atrocities, these fashion show promoters admit.

To date the male designer has confined himself to thinking up novel effects for the "frivolous flapper," the delicious debutante, the society matron, globe trotter, dancing girl, beach beauty, tennis devotee, Diana of the

that the machine was so strong it would injure the lung tissue of the baby, but the greatest care was used and the pumping apparatus slowed to the minimum speed.

Two cylinders of oxygen were used by these men and all the time the doctors found a spark of life in the little body. As the second cylinder began to empty, a call was sent for help, and the big machine of Rescue 1, under the command of Capt. Daniel Hurley, was sent at break-neck speed from the station on Church street, to the hospital.

With Capt. Hurley were Privates Grammer, Martell, Montgomery, Cronin, Coleman, Casey and Walter. These men relieved Jones and McKenna. They took turns at the machine and used four and one-quarter cylinders, when at the end of two hours and 12 minutes, the doctors pronounced the case hopeless.

The baby was born to Mrs. J. J. Donovan of 42 Winthrop street, Charles town. No cause could be given by the physicians for the almost lifeless condition of the baby. Mrs. Donovan was in good condition and gained rapidly.

As the crew from rescue were returning to quarters, after dropping Jones and McKenna at their own station, a fire was discovered in a car of paper in the Huntington ave. yards of the Boston & Albany. A still alarm was given, Engine 33 and Ladder 15 and the three companies soon had it extinguished.

Hunt and Laessle of the Niblick." Is the way they preambled their declaration of rights.

Torn between her desire to dress as well as any of these, and with no accredited pattern book to clip, there has been evolved a "Business Flapper" who, they say, doesn't dress the way they do because they enjoy being the butt of humorists and cynics, but simply because they love beauty and want to express it in the only way they can—through their clothes.

"Because beauty" which would fit their needs has never been assembled and offered them in concrete form, and because they haven't time or money to spend making beauty flimsy, many of them have made mistakes," the league continues. "They have not yet learned that there may be both beauty and utility in garments if designs are right."

The desire to uplift anybody or anything is entirely lacking from the purpose of the style show sponsors.

"Nothing is further from our purpose," asserted Mrs. Caroline Radner Lewis, advertising manager for a silk manufacturer, and Mrs. L. M. Russell, a magazine editor. "Business women of the country do not require uplifting; they have done and will continue to do this for themselves."

The big thought back of our plan is to impress on designers and manufacturers the fact that a group of women who earn millions of dollars a year are worthy of more consideration at the hands of the style-dictators than they have received in the past."

Of course, despite her difficulties, "the American business woman is the best-dressed woman on earth," they maintain. "But the business flapper is not really to be classed as a business woman; but rather one in the making."

MRS. CULLINAN SURPRISED

A very pleasant party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Smith, 193 Washington street Wednesday evening, the event being a surprise to Mrs. F. J. Cullinan on the occasion of her 15th wedding anniversary. Mrs. Cullinan was showered with gifts and was extended the best wishes of all present. A supper was served and interesting numbers were given, those participating in the program being Mrs. George McCarthy, Mrs. James Bergan, Mrs. George Underwood, Mrs. James Kilrune and Mrs. William Smith.

Bull's-Eye

Bull's-Eye Bedbug Killer

AT DRUGGISTS

"This mop-water kills germs but doesn't hurt my skin"

"My skin is sensitive and chaps so easily. That is why I had never used disinfectants in scrubbing around the house. I felt positive that anything strong enough to kill germs would ruin my hands."

"But that was before I heard of Sylpho-Nathol. Mary Adams told me about it. She had used it for a long time. Her hands are soft and pink and pretty."

"I phoned the grocer. He said that he sold lots of it. And, following the simple directions on the bottle, I put a tablespoonful in a pail of warm water. The minute I wrung out the mop in that clean-smelling, pearly gray solution, I knew I had found the right thing."

"I use Sylpho-Nathol every day—in all the scrub water, in the sink pipe, in the cellar, in the garbage pail. Once or twice a week I use it around the bathroom fixtures, and as a flush for the closet bowl. I don't know what I'd do without it—it makes everything so sweet and clean and healthy smelling. And, best of all, it hasn't hurt my hands the tiniest bit—they're just as soft as Mary's."

Sylpho-Nathol is so safe—so effective, so easy to use, so economical. Sylpho-Nathol is 4½ times stronger than Carbolic Acid—yet it is as safe to have in the house as a cake of soap.

The unseen disease germs which live and thrive in even ordinary house dust don't linger where Sylpho-Nathol is used.

The annoying smells which persist in such places as closet bowls, damp cellars and garbage receptacles of the most scrupulously kept homes give place instantly to its faint, clean, friendly odor.

Sylpho-Nathol comes in 15c, 35c, 65c and $1.25 bottles. The complete, easy-to-follow directions are on the bottle.

Most good grocers and druggists have it. If yours hasn't, he can get it easily. Just ask for it by name—"Sylpho-Nathol."

Which Way Do You Like To Do Business?

Made to Order

We don't believe any man likes to buy clothes where he has to look sharp—insist—fight for his rights.

You don't like it and neither does any one else.

It's a whole lot easier—safer and pleasanter, too—to buy in a store like this where there are no wrong goods. There's only one kind of dealing here—that's Square Dealing.

Only one kind of merchandise—the thoroughly RIGHT and HONEST kind; only one cash price—and that made remarkably small through big volumes of business and large buying power.

ALL you need look for here is the pattern and style you want. We will take care of everything else and GUARANTEE your complete satisfaction.

TRANSPORTATION COST

Drives Many Industries Out of New England, Says Gov. Brown of N. H.

MANCHESTER, N. H., Sept. 15.—That the cost of railroad transportation was an element that caused the removal of shoe business from New England to the middle west, the loss of iron and steel business in Manchester and that the cotton industry is in danger of going out of New England entirely, were assertions made yesterday by Gov. Brown at a hearing in city hall on the subject of the consolidation of the New England railroad commission. The New Hampshire commission named by the governor convened for its first sectional hearing on the railroad topic. Lester F. Thurber of Nashua is chairman of the commission. Gov. Brown shared with A. B. Jencks, sales manager of the P. M. Hoyt Shoe company, in dispensing valuable information, both going into the subject exhaustively. Gordon Woodbury of Bedford and all members of the commission also dwell on various phases of the railroad question. Mr. Jencks said: "I believe that the New England roads can be grouped as a unit and that the financial problems can be solved and the control of the system remain in New England hands if the plan of G. L. Crocker, a member of the joint commission and chairman of the governor's Rhode Island commission, is set up."

KILLS WIFE, HER MOTHER, LLOYD GEORGE INVITED THEN ATTEMPTS SUICIDE TO LEGION MEETING

BANGOR, Me., Sept. 15.—Adelbert W. Wilson, aged 51, produce dealer, farmer and general storekeeper at Higginsville, in Kenduskeag, about 10 miles north of Bangor, shot and killed his wife, Nellie, aged 32, and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Lottie Darling, late yesterday afternoon and then shot himself, inflicting a wound which it is believed will be fatal. He is in the hospital here. Wilson is 51 years old and has two children by a former marriage and four by the wife he killed yesterday. The tragedy took place in the home at Higginsville and was witnessed only by the children. The motive is not clear. Neighbors say that Wilson was not a drinking man, but much wrapped up in his business, and was very nervous and irritable.

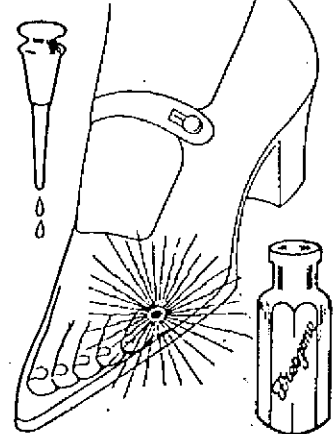

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Premier Lloyd George of Great Britain has been invited to attend the fourth national convention of the American Legion, to be held in New Orleans, beginning Oct. 16. R. E. Condon, secretary of the committee on arrangements, announced yesterday. Mr. Condon has just returned from London, where he personally delivered the invitation. Acceptance depends entirely on England's political situation at that time. Mr. Condon was informed. The secretary also visited Paris, where he met representatives of the allied veteran organizations of England, France, Italy, Serbia, Roumania and Czechoslovakia. These organizations are all members of the Inter-Allied Veterans' association, which also holds its conference in New Orleans next month. Each overseas country will send five delegates here.

O. M. I. NOVITIATE AT HUDSON, N. H.

There are ten students at the O.M.I. novitiate at Hudson, N. H., and it is expected that as soon as the improvements, which are being made to the buildings are completed, this number will be doubled. The novitiate is under the direction of the French-speaking Oblates of the North American province and its superior is Rev. Fr. Pelletier, O.M.I., formerly of this city. The novitiate was established a few months ago when a large farm located in Hudson and abutting the Merrimack river was purchased by the vice provincial, Very Rev. J. E. Turcotte, O.M.I., who is also pastor of St. Joseph's church of this city. The students studying for the priesthood will remain one year at Hudson and then they will go to Ottawa to complete their theological studies. The novitiate of the province is located at Colebrook, N. H., and is in charge of Rev. Edouard Carrier, O.M.I., who is being assisted by Rev. Gustave Berneche, O.M.I., both formerly of this city. At present the large hotel recently purchased by the order is being converted into a house of study and as soon as the improvements are finished students will be admitted. Under the present regulations a young man will remain five years at Colebrook and from there he will go to Hudson, where he will be sent to Ottawa. It is expected that within a few years the province will have a university of its own, where the ordinations will take place for the first time for American young men, train them for the priesthood and have them ordained in this country.

GIRLS' CLUB PLANS WINTER ACTIVITIES

With the closing of the summer camp, the winter season for the Girls' City club has started. The program committee has not met formally yet, but the activities planned by various groups will keep the club active during September.

The popular weekly dances will begin tomorrow. New invitations for gentlemen guests have been printed and the demand for them has been so great that there is a possibility that the number will have to be limited this winter.

The club tennis championship will open tonight at Shedd park with Dorothy Bombardier, Laura Edmunds, Rosella Hogan, Irene Adams, Katherine Sullivan, Florence Price, Delia Carley and Anna Mahoney as contestants.

A hike and Wiener roast are scheduled for Sunday, Sept. 24, with a week-end party at Rockport, Mass. the following week. An informal gentlemen's night will be held later in the month.

Charm of Motherhood

THERE are many homes once childless that now are blessed with healthy, happy children, because Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored the mother to a healthy, normal physical condition.

The following letters give the experience of two young women and prove the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in such cases.

Park Rapids, Minn.—"I have taken your medicine—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—when I was a girl for pains, and before and after my marriage. I now have a sweet little baby boy, and will send you his picture. My sisters also take your medicine and find it a great help, and I recommend it to those who suffer before their babies are born."—Mrs. WM. JOHNSON, Box 155, Park Rapids, Minn.

Kutztown, Pa.—"I wish every woman who wants children would try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It has done so much for me. My baby is almost a year old now and is the picture of health. She walked at eleven months and is trying to use her little tongue. She can say some words real nice. I am sending you her picture. I shall be thankful as long as I live that I found such a wonderful medicine for my troubles."—Mrs. CHARLES A. MERTZ, Kutztown, Pa.

Cannot Find Wife's Body in Cemetery

TRENTON, N. J., Sept. 15.—Sebastiano Regina has filed suit in the supreme court for $10,000 damages from the Greenwood Cemetery association on grounds that the body of his wife buried in a lot in the organization's cemetery a year ago, cannot be found. Regina, who had bought a new lot and sought to remove his wife's body, stated in his suit that he found the body of a man in the grave where his wife was buried and that her body was missing.

Workers Draw First Pay Since Strike

LAWRENCE, Sept. 15.—The old wage scale, which prevailed previous to the strike, has been restored at the Pacific mills. Employees learned this when they received their first pay envelopes today. It had been announced that the old scale would be restored Oct. 1, and that it would be retroactive to Sept. 5. Officials of the mill, however, decided to restore the old wage in full at this time.

GIRLS! WHITEN SKIN WITH LEMON JUICE

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, which any drug store will supply for a few cents, shake well, and you have a quart of lemon juice. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day, then shortly note the beauty and whiteness of your skin.

Famous stage beauties use this lemon lotion to bleach and bring that soft, clear, rosy-white complexion, also as a freckle, sunburn and tan bleach because it doesn't irritate.—Adv.

George Strobolokos is Held For the Superior Court—Other Cases

A finding of probable cause was made by the court this morning in the case of George Strobolokos, who was charged with securing women for alleged immoral purposes. He was held in $300 bonds for the superior court.

Frances Davis and Emily Matson, two young girls who were arrested in connection with this case and charged with improper conduct, were both found guilty and given suspended sentences to the house of correction.

PRIZE AWARDS IN ESSAY CONTEST

"How Good Roads Are Developing My Community" was the subject of a Lowell high school girl's essay that was awarded first prize in the list of Massachusetts contestants in a national-wide contest for a four-year university scholarship. The winner, who is to represent Massachusetts in the final selection of the single prize award, and who is believed to stand an excellent chance of winning the coveted "best state contestant" choice of the final judges, is Miss Marion Mullaney of Lowell, whose capture of the Bay State honors was announced in The Sun a few weeks ago.

Names of final judges have just been announced by the national highway education board in Washington, appointed to award the four-years' university scholarship offered in connection with the national good roads essay contest in which Miss Mullaney was a state winner. The judges in the final selection are Hon. Henry C. Wallace, secretary of agriculture; George Horace Lorimer, editor of the Saturday Evening Post, and Dr. John Grier Hibben, president of Princeton university. The judges have accepted responsibility for the award of the scholarship at the invitation of Dr. John J. Tigert, United States commissioner of education, who is chairman of the board.

They have been supplied with verbatim copies of the 54 essays, including Miss Mullaney's. The 54 selections represent each state as well as the District of Columbia, the Canal Zone, the Philippines, Porto Rico, Hawaii and Alaska.

Selection of the best state essays was made by leading educational institutions, such as a state university of the state department of education.

In the contest entered by Miss Mullaney, there were 250,000 pupils of high school grade participating, and the 54 winners, including Miss Mullaney of course, therefore represent the "cream" of all contestants. The essays were "altered" until the state winners were found; now comes the final "lifting" to choose the best paper, and friends of Miss Mullaney believe that she stands an excellent chance of winning the national honors.

The highway scholarship, as it has been called, is given by H. S. Firestone, Akron, O., who is a member of the national highway education board. It is intended to defray tuition and all reasonable expenses of the prize-winning student in college and is valued at not less than $400. The successful student, to be selected by the judges probably this week, may attend any college or university in the United States.

The other winners of first awards in the New England states and who are competing now with Miss Mullaney in the state contest for first prize, have just been announced by the selection board. They are Lowell Palmer, of Dexter, Me.; Miss Helen Stevens, Nashua, N. H.; Miss Dorothy C. Baxter, St. Johnsbury, Vt.; Lewis Lloyd Camp, Winsted, Conn.; Miss Caroline G. Gaynor, Providence, R. I.

Mature Loves Bright Colors

We see the truth of this statement in the varicolored flowers, the vivid sunsets, the birds of brilliant plumage. But we never see it exemplified more attractively than in the person of a splendidly healthy woman. How does nature paint this health? Why, in the rosy cheeks, the transparent skin, the smooth red lips of such a woman. And she molds it in firm flesh and rounded contours. The ailing woman is deficient in natural coloring, and she does not even appear to advantage in clothes that would set off her more attractive sister. Many women who long for glowing health will find that they, too, can have these charms if they will give a trial to that remedy which brings strength to frail women—Lydia E. William Kloza, whose house at 60 Church street was also raided by members of the liquor squad yesterday, was arraigned in court this morning on the charge of illegal keeping and his case was continued to Sept. 26. The officers said that they found a 25-gallon still, several gallons of moonshine, and 150 gallons of mash on the man's premises.

Charles Anclair has been living in the same house with his wife and seven children since last February and it was alleged in court today that in all that time he has never contributed toward the support of the house. When the court heard the story he found him guilty and sentenced him to six months in the house of correction. He suspended the sentence for one year on the condition that the man turn over his whole pay to the probation officer every week.

Rene Bergeron was handed a suspended sentence to the house of correction for non-support of his wife and minor children which was suspended on the proviso that he turn over his pay to the probation officer every week.

With over $2000 in the bank and $23 waiting for him at the desk Patrick O'Connor was fined $10 when he was found guilty of drunkenness. He told the court that he drew $50 a few days ago and started on the party which ended in his arrest. Edward A. Evans of Boston was found guilty of operating a machine while under the influence of liquor and was fined $50. He was given until Sept. 19 to pay the fine. A charge of drunkenness against him was placed on file.

Thomas J. Clark and Wilfrid Potvin, two young men who were arrested the first of the week in connection with the alleged felonious assault on a young girl in Belvidere were again held over to Sept. 22 for disposition. Bonds were set at $1000.

Joseph Belanger was held over to Sept. 14 for disposition of his case in which he was charged with drunkenness and operating a machine while under the influence of liquor. Meyer R. Pittsburg, charged with operating a machine so as to endanger lives and property was continued to Sept. 21 for trial.

TOP COATS

$9.95 $14.95

They are much higher in other stores as you will realize after you have seen them—of a soft grey mixture, rough finish like imported coatings—and folks seem to like them better than anything else so far this season. They are really distinctive in appearance and a sturdy all-year-round coat. They are nicely tailored and lined through the shoulders.

SECOND FLOOR

These are just the kind of dresses needed for the first crisp days—these in-between days when the summer dresses don't seem to "fit" and silk dresses are a bit too thin. These attractive dresses, of navy blue for the most part, in tricotines and twills—need only a little neckpiece of fur—a smart hat and gloves—and you are well dressed and ready for any occasion. They are all nicely tailored, the lines are straight, many are braided, others embroidered, some show the new circular skirt—others are panelled. Business and professional women cannot do without them, folks of leisure like them for afternoon wear and shopping—and so that means that all women want them, and these prices are very low.

USA'S FRIENDLINESS TO YOUNG ASPIRANTS

From the days of the Marline Band, Edward, John Philip Sousa, who is coming to Lowell next Tuesday, has been a firm believer in soloists as a feature of all band concerts. The public is in agreement with him; but he is often asked by the economists of the amusement field why he goes to the extra expense and labor of having soloists when, after all, he and his band are the real attraction. His answer is that of the true musician.

"Where is the young player to get his chance?" asks Sousa, in reply to the oft-asked question. "For a number of years in my youth I sat in the ranks in the orchestra of a theatre in Philadelphia. I didn't get much pay; I gave lessons on the violin in my spare time to eke out my income; I desired to get married; I needed money to buy other instruments, so that I might master them all. But my mood was such that all other considerations were swept aside when I got a chance. Now and again, to play a small solo or bit of obligato. Those opportunities gave me the direct appeal to the public, and the response of an audience to my efforts gave me the confidence which every musician must have if he is to be a successful soloist."

The March King, in arranging music for his band, invariably takes into account special opportunities for each group of instruments, so that every man in the band in the course of any Sousa concert gets his chance to do something individual in a musical way, even if the special opportunity be not one which catches the ear of the symphony.

Some of the most famous musicians in the United States took their schooling with Sousa and his band. There was the late Maude Powell, the violinist, who died in 1919, lamented by what was perhaps the largest permanent clientele ever possessed by a violinist in his country. When, new from her years of study in Germany, she came to this country, she was engaged by Sousa as a soloist with his band. After three tours under him set forth on her brilliant career as a recital-giver. She never forgot to explain that she owed all the attributes that made her a successful recitalist to the seasons she spent with Sousa on tour—and I," she would add, "the only woman in an entourage of 70 or more!"

Estelle Liebling, the soprano and a well-known and well-liked figure in recitals and concerts, also was a "Sousa girl," making her first concert appearance under the March King, and touring with him and his band. For many years the symphony orchestras of the United States have kept their eyes and ears on the Sousa organization on the lookout for "on the list" or players on this or that instrument who could profitably be drafted.

"I never stand in the way of a player's leaving me," said Sousa. "Indeed, very often made to one of my men is high compliment to me and to my organization. If this flutist or that cornetist or such-and-such an oboe-

AMUSEMENT NOTES

B. E. KEITHS THEATRE

One can't mistake Grace Hayes at all—she is an artist every minute she is on the stage at the B. E. Keiths theatre, this week. The fact is, Miss Hayes who had been a student of music and the drama decided she could capitalize and dramatize her gifts. She broke into vaudeville and in a headliner in a very short time. Her success was immediate, and she has created a most favorable impression with her work. The remainder of the bill holds "Good Medicine," a very snappy comedy by Smith and Barker; Eddie Weber and Marion Ridner, in a dancing skit; Jones and Jones, blackface comedians; W. D. Pollard, the comic juggler; Zenater and Smith, triple horizontal bar performers; and the Autumn Three.

THE STRAND

Zane Grey's wonderful story, "Wildfire," which has been adapted for the screen, and presented under the title, "When Romance Rides," is one of the features for the last three days of the week. Next we say more than mention the title and the author's name: "The Dust Flower" is the other feature, and this is a Basil King production in which Helene Chadwick is starred. Besides having a universal appeal, it has wonderful scenic effects and commendable photography. It's a different sort of picture, and you'll like it.

First Annual Outing By Lowell Ad Club is Big Success

MEMBERS OF THE CLUB SCHEMING CIRCLE—

Standing—George Wood, Louis Balfe, Walter Flynn, Morton H. Walker, Edward W. Gallagher, secretary; Arthur Dion, Dr. Charles L. Sweetser, Hon. James B. Cusey, Frank McPhee, Walter Bruce, Paul Doherty.

Authentic dictionaries appropriately define the word "frolic" as the sportive scene of merriment and gaiety; and Willow Dale, by the presence of over 250 members, friends and guests of the Lowell Ad club, emphatically demonstrated that definition yesterday afternoon when they assembled at the romantic resort and transformed its otherwise serene composure into a carnival of laugh-provoking activity. The number of mirth-provoking stunts was actually amazing and gave the gathering a surplus of original fun that has rarely been equaled at any outing of the kind in this vicinity. From the start with the polo game by players dressed as kitchen maids, till the close of the dinner in the evening, the program presented continuous rounds of games that furnished fun for everybody. It should be said, too, that the entire program was run off with promptness and precision that indicated careful attention to detail by the committees in charge.

The Sports

Following an automobile parade through the business streets of Lowell, the party arrived at its destination on the beautiful Willow Dale shores of Lake Massapic, and after partaking of a light but satisfying luncheon, the old historic pavilion was invaded on all sides by anxious and interested spectators to witness the first event on the program, an exhibition polo game. The contestants displayed speed and skill galore as they skated up and down the slippery floor in quest of the elusive ball, and while many a toe was taken between and between the rival goals, enthusiasm ran high. The final score was 20 to 0 in favor of the team captained by "Charlie" Keyes of his efforts. Miss Alice G. Nickles was

The Sun, and composed of the following players: Frank McPhee, "Stack" Stackpole and E. Walter Gallagher. While the onlookers were still talking of the expert poloists, "Ed" Cooney's familiar voice was heard above the din announcing that Madame Lalapalooza, the famed fortune teller and palmist, who had appeared before many of the crowned heads of Europe and all the sap heads of America, was waiting in a tented enclosure for those who wished to know their past, present and future. Several of the frolicers were seen to slyly creep away from the gathering, supposedly unsuspected, to the throne of the famed madame, where, it is said, the past, present and future were revealed to all comers.

The knickerbocker committee worked unceasingly and refused to allow dull moments to interfere with the program, so while "Charlie" Keyes was busy spinning some kind of a wheel and dispensing prize boxes of chocolates, Henry Mulcahy and others of his clan were assembling the contestants for the try-and-get-it race, which proved amusing to the wit and agree. Five ladies and five men were entered but only one of each sex finished. Each contestant was given the end of a string and instructed to try and find the other end. Like the proverbial needle in the haystack, the entrants, with string in hand, proceeded this way and that, around trees and shrubberies, through wet spots and dry. "Dave" Donaldson courageously ascended the side of the bowling alley building and eventually came to the distant end of his string. "Dave," therefore, won the contest and was awarded a gold Eversharp pencil for his efforts. Miss Alice G. Nickles was the female winner and received a $5 gold piece.

The next event was a cigaret contest for men. The ladies did not smoke. The idea of this contest was to line up the various entries, light different brands of the "cigar" and then allow the contestants a puff and then ask the brand of the tobacco used. Blindfolded, Lord Salisbury's were called Camels, and Camels, Lord Salisbury's, Lucky Strikes, Sweet Caporal and vice versa until George Wood made the luckiest strike, showed his familiarity with the brand and won first prize, a silk umbrella. "Abe" Campbell was second, receiving a $5 gold piece, and "Jack" O'Grady third with five packages of cigarettes as his consolation.

John "Historian" Walsh, Joe Foley, Joe Buckley and Maurice Lambert took the line in the no-eye race, each having a pin on his head. The historian and Joe Foley came in first and second respectively. Mr. Walsh received a $5 gold piece and Mr. Foley, a basket of food donated by Fairburn's market. After the race, someone remarked that the boys had an awful cruel to walk away with the pins as they did.

Next in order was the putting game for men and women. An improvised "green" was constructed and the emerald golfers went at it in professional fashion. Only the ground was bad, the balls too big and the clubs out of date. Outside of these few misfortunes, the contestants showed wonderful ability. In the men's ranks, Frank Finnegan of The Sun exhibited a clever stroke, but failed to connect with the onomatopoeic "clink" in six or seven shots, necessitating his automatic exclusion from further attempts. Joe, Foley rolled the apple into its resting place in the least number of shots and won a silk shirt, the gift of the Chaffoux company. Miss Grace Burns took her stick in hand and defeated several rivals for the championship of the ladies' class, for which she claimed title to the silk stocking prize donated by Tryon.

Believing that an outing would be incomplete without a group picture, the gathering was called to order and assembled on the steps of the pavilion while Photographer George Russell told all to watch the birds for the trying ordeal. As George was about to snap the picture, Henry Mulcahy and "Tom" Atkinson unceremoniously stamped their audience by entering the scene about two ancient mules loaned by the Leon Mullen's stables. Henry's "Pinto" refused to obey his master's bidding and went on an A.W.O.L., while the veteran reinsman, loaded in vain for the animal to become serious and the crowd to cease their haw-haws. Not to be outdone in feats of daring and adventure, Paul Doherty joined the equestrians attempting to ride both animals at the same time, but when they pulled apart his elasticity was severely tested. Intent on having the worthy steeds in the picture, the riders gave an illustration of their "speed," turning it from one extremity of the group to the other in the fastest time ever recorded on a stopwatch, which stopped before the actual change could be reckoned. Suffice it to say, the four, or rather the two, mules appeared in the photo.

The three-legged race with men and women partners was productive of much mirth. Paul Doherty and Alice Nickles hoist the gun and whirl-winded down the track to meet disaster when they were upset and rolled in the mud. Tom Atkinson and Madeline Nerney skillfully eluded all danger spots and romped home victorious with Joe Dineen and May Thistle not far behind. The winners were given a Dobbs felt hat and gold fountain pen.

In the cracker and whistle race, each entry was obliged to eat four crackers, run to a designated spot and whistle. Many were called but two were chosen, Frederick Ricard, first, and Herbert Colby second. The former received a French clarinet pipe and the latter a silk necktie.

It required a lot of mouth for Harry Prior to win the cracker pin race, but he did it successfully and won a pair of gold cuff links, his nearest rival being Edgar Lambert who is entitled to a 2½ pound bag of flour, which should make much better cats than clothes pins. The contestants nearly bit one another's noses trying to get the last pin off the line. Newspapers were given several black eyes and trodden to earth in the newspaper race.

which was an exciting contest. Joe Dineen piloted May Thistle to victory after a close struggle with Walter Bruce who navigated Alice Nickles to the shore of second place success. Alice Thistle gained a set of lingerie for her win, and Alice Nickles, a $5 gold piece, in the pillow fight. "E. Walter" Gal-

Street Maintenance Hard Hit

Based upon the figures contained in the statement, it would seem as if the street maintenance appropriation is in the most depleted condition. It bids fair to have a deficit at the end of the year amounting to $124,825.58. This department's appropriation and credits make a total of $354,239.14. For the first eight months of the year its expenditures totalled $319,375.51, leaving a balance as of Sept. 2 of $34,863.63, which is $5000 less than the monthly expenditure for the first two-thirds of the year. Its expenses monthly have averaged $35,922.31. If September follows in the footsteps of January, February, March, April, etc., down through August, the appropriation will be gone before the first of October.

Schools Will Need More Money

The school department is another that shows a deficit on the face of only a few figures, amounting to approximately $100,000. Monthly expenditures in this department have totalled $98,31.08 and of the original appropriation plus credits, of $1,120,823.68, there remains only $332,315.04, or enough to carry the department along for the months of September, October and November. December looks like a lean month, although the schools must operate and money will have to be forthcoming from one source or another. Approximate deficits of $10,735, in the Chelmsford Street hospital appropriation, $3000 in the police department and $1000 in the park department's compensation are other large amounts on the wrong side of the ledger.

The greater part of the excess is taken up by interest, which shows $6,599.45 to the good. The fire department also would seem to be going along the right road, with a 23 per cent safety margin, but it is probable that so much sum will be turned back into the general treasury at the end of the year.

Mayor Sees No Cause For Alarm

While the budget and audit commission feels that the condition is a most serious one, Mayor George H. Brown is most optimistic and said today that transfers here and there would bring the city out properly before January. He said he will send a letter to the commission, stating he sees no cause for alarm or for immediate remedial action.

The budget and audit commission admits that it is impossible to be absolutely accurate as to future expenditures in departments, but feels that the statement of standing will serve as a warning, at least, and will give good reason for taking action if the necessity exists in the mind of the mayor.

To the soothing strains of a large phonograph, with Magnavox attached, the obstacle race for girls got under way. About a dozen of the fair sex presented to be blindfolded after giving sorrowfully at obstructions of every conceivable nature in the course of the journey to be covered. While still in a state of oblivion, committee-men removed the obstacles and the race was on. Madeline Norrey must have been peering for she dashed to the finish line a la Charlie Padlock and won a half-dozen Victrola records from Boulgers. Olga Woganda came second and received $5 worth of records from Prince-Walters.

The Ball Game

The call of the national pastime resounded above the din and the "Canadian Club" captained by Pat Doherty and the "Johnny Walkers" under "Jack" Walsh took ball and glove to the adjoining lot where was situated the field of battle. The game was scheduled for three innings, but at the end of that period both teams were on even terms. "Charlie" Keyes pitched good ball for the "Clubs" and "Ted" Dooley for the "Johnny's." With the score six all, Keyes came to bat with a man on base and wallowed in a hurried somewhere in the outfield, scoring the winning run. Nobody looked for the ball. Hon. James B. Casey umpired and showed that as an arbiter he is a wonderful maker of combs. George Wells acted as score-keeper and Ed Conway wind the wheel off the bats. The following players took part in the game: Canadian Clubs—"Connie" Connelly, Paul Doherty, Charlie Keyes, Frank McPhee, "Ed" Gallagher, George Wood, Tom Atkinson, Henry Mulcahy and Maurice Lambert. Johnny Walkers—Abe Campbell, Ed. Dooley, Frank Finnegan, Arthur Stackpole, Lewis Balfe, Joe Foley, Joe Dinneen, Jack Walsh and A. R. Zurhuh.

SENATOR LODGE'S FIGHT

The fight for United States senator in Massachusetts is now squarely before the people and Senator Lodge has one of the greatest battles of his political career ahead in the coming campaign. As to the reasons why he should be retired for a candidate who would do more to serve the interests of Massachusetts both industrially and commercially, much has already been said, and the sentiment in favor of a change is not confined to the democratic party. The opposition in the republican party has been well voiced by Hon. Joseph Walker and it is quite probable that this opposition will crystallize and become even stronger as election day approaches. Much may depend upon the decision of Mr. Walker as to whether he will run independently or support Col. William A. Gaston, the democratic nominee. The latter course, we believe, would be preferable and more effective for the purpose of giving effect to the principles and policies advocated by Mr. Walker.

On all sides it is acknowledged that Senator Lodge is a very able politician, a very eloquent speaker and a man whom it will be very difficult to defeat. But on the other hand, it is generally recognized also that he devotes his time mainly to machine politics and to working for the progress and power of the republican party rather than for the interests of Massachusetts or New England. Lately he has become a national leader in the republican party and he has repeatedly indicated that he could not favor one part of the country at the expense of another part. For example, the west advocates any particular measure for its special benefit, Senator Lodge being a national leader, does not feel that it is his duty to oppose that measure even though it should operate to the detriment of New England. His attitude in this respect was clearly shown in dealing with the tariff on wool when he allowed the six "wool senators" to dictate the imposition of an outrageously unjust and burdensome tariff on raw wool. This was fixed at 33 cents per pound whether the wool sells for 15 cents per pound or ten times that amount. This tariff operates to the detriment of the working people because it falls more heavily upon cheap wools used chiefly in the manufacture of the cheaper grades of clothing; and it also operates against the woolen industries of New England which have to purchase two-thirds of their raw wool abroad.

Many similar instances of injustice to Massachusetts and New England might be cited from the tariff bill approved by Senator Lodge, and the tariff imposed upon sugar is another case in point. But it is not any of these specific cases that has caused the people of Massachusetts to feel that their interests are not properly represented by Mr. Lodge. His policy of devoting his attention mainly to the work of the republican machine and in sacrificing principle to political expediency is the main charge against him. He stands for the reactionary policies of the republican party based principally upon an unjust tariff and centralization of power at Washington. All these policies will be fully discussed during the campaign so that the voters will have ample time to reach accurate conclusion as to where their interests lie.

It was in pursuance of this policy that Lodge opposed President Wilson and the League of Nations. This is proved by the fact that after Wilson was retired, Lodge and his party passed a treaty embodying practically the same principle as the League of Nations and making even greater concessions to Europe.

THE CROP BAROMETER

No members of the "Progress club" are more familiar with general business conditions than the so-called advertising men. William H. Rankin, president of a company bearing his name, with offices in New York, Chicago, London and Toronto, declares that prosperity is directly ahead of us. Interviewed by a member of the newspaper fraternity in Boston several days ago, Mr. Rankin described present conditions thus:

"Not for many years has the prospect seemed so hopeful; the foundations upon which modern non-speculative business are erected have never been more solid. It must be a confirmed pessimist indeed who, looking at the clouds made up of railroads and coal strikes, continued political outbreaks of disorder, an unsettled tariff and such things, does not see that these things are only able to hide for a very short while the sun of prosperity. It is an axiom in national economics that wealth springs from the soil, and hence crops which conservative estimators place at a value of over $7,000,000,000, are sufficient to show how solidly and on what a firm foundation is based the coming era of prosperity. There is not a business throughout the length and breadth of the United States but what is bound in the logical course of events, to feel the effect of the announcement that the farmers of America are coming into the market with $7,000,000,000 to spend. What have you to sell?"

We believe Mr. Rankin clearly foresees the changing conditions and hits it pretty correctly when he asserts that the wealth of the nation springs from the soil, and hence crops are pretty generally a safe thing to bank upon when looking for prosperity signals that really point the right way.

CLEMENEAU COMING OVER

Georges Clemenceau, France's war premier, is coming to America sometime in November, he is informed this Associated Press. He plans to remain in this country several weeks, and may lecture here, presumably upon world affairs.

Clemenceau is reported to be decidedly vexed because his beloved France has been accused of imperialism and militarism by the American people. He wants to come over and thoroughly discount that idea. Undoubtedly, he will have something to say about the workings of the League of Nations. In other words, Mr. Clemenceau may be expected to unbutton himself on international affairs and then return home.

"The American people will be glad to welcome Mr. Clemenceau, a doughty warrior, a learned man, a far-seeing statesman honored by France. We shall expect him to give us his views as to the rights and duties of the countries that won the war and are responsible for the peace settlements. We remember him as the organizer of victory, the scourge of defeatism in France—an intrepid old man whose program was, 'I fight!' He was one of the greatest leaders of the war and Americans esteem him sincerely for his wonderful genius in times of disaster and distress.

We are happy to know that the French people still love and admire him, forgetting the errors he may have made at the peace conferences.

ITALY AND AUSTRIA

Italy would rather go to war again with Austria, or all that is left of that country, than relinquish any more soil to the former German ally. Should Lloyd George go to Geneva for the meeting of the League of Nations assembly, a representative of the Italian government will also proceed there for a discussion of the "Austrian question," which is really vital for Italy.

The government of Italy asserts that it would rather fight Austria than allow an attempt on the part of the Czech-Slovak or Jugoslavians to change the Austrian territorial boundaries established by the treaty of Versailles and St. Germain. It is believed that Austria is forcing some sort of trouble for her neighbor, which might be made a pretext for invasion of Austria. Certainly the present economic situation in Austria is not one that would help much in putting down serious internal disorders, and Italy would not have much trouble in crossing the line should the government decide to press its claims on the boundary question.

The future appears to be filled with alarms and troubles for both Italy and Austria, as well as for some of the nearby kingdoms not yet out of their swaddling clothes but endeavoring to walk like the Kipling bear.

STINNES HOLDS THE KEY

Stinnes, Germany's "invisible chancellor," apparently holds the key to Germany's future. It is Stinnes' hope to have the reorganization of the German government complete before the convocation of the inter-allied conference this fall when the new government, backed by organized German industry, will undertake to put through a revision of the whole reparations problem. This will be combined with a comprehensive scheme for co-operation of German industry. This is the end toward which the real chancellor is now working. He has always had it in mind, but has not been able to put it through because of the sharp political divisions at home.

The socialists are now rounding toward the Stinnes banner, and when they unite in a practical policy of economic reconstruction, not excluding eventual co-operation with Stinnes and his aids, the Germans see a future that will allow them to put through a program that will possibly start Europe on the road to normalcy once more.

Gentlemen of the Public Service board, your repair gangs still have much to do if they mean to fill even the dangerous holes in many of our public streets. It would be good policy to keep them at this work while the funds hold out. It may save the city from heavy damage claims.

The railroads are still sending out "data" on their strike troubles, but what the public wants now is the quick distribution of coal and the movement of miscellaneous freight that is blocking the yards.

The western railroads yield; the eastern, including the Boston and Maine, do not. In justice to this case a matter of latitude or longitude or are the eastern rails able to get along without the strikers?

Don't be too sure that next month England will pay that first installment of $65,000,000 on her debt to this country. Times change and England hasn't the money to pay her home debts, let alone this war obligation.

Assuredly the Lowell "All" club takes the point for the amount of fun it can pack into an afternoon's outing. It has brought together a great bunch of looters. Its outing was unique.

If you are a good guesser, try to figure out how long the three-inch-thick layer on those new American 7600-ton trans-Atlantic ships are going to last.

Business in Vienna is very, very bad, but you know the printers are on strike there and no one can get out any new currency.

Come to think of it, coal is still on the free list in the new tariff bill, but don't get your pencil and paper ready for any low-price figuring just yet.

Look over your ten and twenty-dollar bills carefully from now on. A lot of counterfeiters are reported to be in circulation.

Just a year ago you could have purchased $100,000 worth of Canadian dollars for $55,000. They are now worth $100,000.

In Lafayette Robinson-like trying to involve the democratic party in his personal rivalry?

SEEN AND HEARD

Beauty hint—Stay at home with that hay fever.

New the cotton handlers are on strike, but the cotton growers continue to do business at the same old stands.

Strange things do happen. We saw a hundred-dollar case note day before yesterday, and it was an old one at that!

America's champion "ball-sorter" is a girl, but none of the New York papers published her picture for she refused to pose in a bathing suit.

We'll take it all back, what we said about jacks, hounds and the music this don't like the stuff and stuff, becoming scarce in every city and town where the musicians hold the floor.

"Easy come, easy go," said the man who paid a five-dollar fine in police court for the other day for leaving his flyover across eight different Haystack lawns in trying to escape running down a dumper carrying a bottle of ink across Main street.

A Thought

I'm proof against that word "failure." I've seen behind it. The only failure a man ought to be guilty of is failing to the purpose he sees to be best.—George Elliot.

Brilliant Idea

"Is Mr. Perkins at home?" inquired the caller. "Which one, sir?" asked the maid. "There are two brothers living here. For a moment the caller looked puzzled—then he had it. He said, 'One who has a sister in St. Louis,' he explained.

Had Good Luck

He had been on a hunting trip, and when he got back his friends asked him how he had got on. "Had a grand time. Why, the first day I got seven ducks," he boasted. "What a success!" "Well, not exactly," replied the sportsman, "but the farmer who owned them was."

An Honest Lecturer

A lecturer, talking about the nature of man, remarked that one point of distinction between human beings and the lower animals consisted in capacity for progress. "Man," he exclaimed, "is a progressive being, other creatures are stationary. Take the ass, for example. Always and everywhere it is the same creature. You have never seen, and you never will see, a more perfect ass than you see in the present moment."

Fair Warning

A Mobile man was asked what name he had given his youngest son. "Erasmus," he replied. "But why the 'Pro Tem'?" "Well, son, I don't want to show de name an only temporary, what? We figured as how Erasmus might want to choose his own name when he grew up, so we put in 'Pro Tem' as a warning to de public."—Detroit Free Press.

Today's Word

Today's word is "blatant." It's pronounced bla-tant, with accent on the first syllable, and the first "a" long, as in "play." But good authorities say it is really pronounced bla-tant as in "blat." It means blustering, like a blustering, clamorous, offensively obtrusive, demanding undue or involuntary attention. The word is Latin in origin. Its used like this: "Nothing," says Senator Robinson of Arkansas, "need be feared by this country from those who make blatant attacks upon our institutions, but beware of those who condone violations of its laws and constitution!"

The Poet's Reverie

Lexley, the poet, was indignant. He felt his poems were good; that they were the result of divine inspiration he was almost certain. But the editor of a popular weekly and rejected several of them, giving no reason for his action. The poet met at a literary dinner party and revealed a smoldering in the poet's breast. He leaned across the table and said: "I saw a good thing in that paper of yours the other day." "Yes? What was it?" the editor inquired. "A pound of beef," said Lexley, beaming balefully back.

The Restless Rich

Cordell, Blacker, walking in Fifth avenue, and the whole line of multimillionaires' palaces, all of which he closed. "It reminds me of a story," he said. "A millionaire built a white chalet on the French Riviera. When the chalet was done, he said to his wife: 'At last I've given you the big house of your dreams.' What were your plans for it, my dear?' 'Now, my wife answered, 'well, I said I'd give you the big house of your dreams, and now I'm going to give you the big house of your dreams.' That's what they all do, as you can see, they build a big house like this."

A Striped Aristocrat

Dan Heikel of Lafayette College said at a dinner in England: "The Austrian government must be taking Austria's new democratic government very hard, for Austria's socialists are the most highly exclusive in the world. You had to have four quarters to your coat of arms; that is, all the way back to your father and mother and grandfather on both father and mother's side. A drop of common blood, and you were not received at court by the emperor. I think the treatment of good Austrians who didn't happen to be noble deserved to be a good deal gruel. I was all of a piece with the nobles of the day who were found stoning a frog and selling it cheaply at it." "I'll pay you to be a frog," Heikel said.

Hummed Dan Mach

The office telephone was out of order and a telegram was sent to repair it. After a while the workman suggested that the owner of the office should call up an acquaintance in order to test the working of the instrument. The man obediently called up the telephone number of his own home. When the connection was made he spoke into the receiver: "Mach!" "There, followed a four-minute wait, then 'Mach!' in a peremptory tone. The storm that had been gathering broke at that moment. The telephone wires were struck by lightning and the man was horrified. He called his wife, presently he was called back in a dozen minutes and regarded the repair man positively. "That's her!" he declared. "The telephone works fine."

Vacation Days

Vacation days are really spent. And Time's tyrannical measure soon brings an end to your short shirt of idleness and pleasure. You have to get back on the job. Although you'd rather linger where duty does not call on you. To lift your little finger.

You take the old tasks up again. With no increase of ardor. They are no longer yours before. In fact, they may run back. And if you've dreamed you'd ask the boss.

For once one is asked you get stuck to find when you get back. That nobody has missed you!—Savannah Journal.

PLAYED THE PIGGERY LITTLE TOO CLOSE

There was something strange in the air at the meeting of the city council last night. It was an indescribable

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

I'd hate to be assigned to the job of counting those cabbages in the big field out on the slopes of city farm, where the tillers of the soil have been working all summer, securing excellent crops of vegetables of various kinds. That cabbage field covers a good many square feet of land. The crop appears to be flourishing for this season of the year. I understand the cabbages have to be sprayed regularly for voracious pests of various kinds, but as one rides by on the Old Colony railroad and looks over the big cabbage field, the spraying appears to have been done in a very efficient manner. This field of vegetables attracts much attention these days, for many feel for various pests of the acreage, admiring the fruits of nature's offerings spread before their eyes on the rolling city farm lands.

You can have your choice now of the old-fashioned peppers—red or green—which have practically flooded the market stalls and threaten to send prices down in the line of preserve materials. Peppers arriving on the local markets last year were few and far between, and they were very expensive. This year, according to this "city" dealer, "everybody is raising 'em," with the result that prices are not so high and the housewife ought to be able to secure her popular colors in the pepper world without much trouble from now on.

The floral display in the office windows of the R. H. Long Motor Co. on Market street has been attracting considerable attention from passersby and visitors to the motor mart. The plants have bloomed extensively since they were placed on the window in a handsome decorated box that cost quite a lot of real money. The blossoms are odd but very beautiful, and the display attracts attention for its quiet offering of beauty, color and unostentatiousness. I understand the Long Co. has similar floral exhibits in the windows of all of its sales branches.

The "bike parlors" at the high school are pretty important when you consider how many boys and a few young ladies, too—ride back and forth to their school studies daily in sunny weather. The boys are "parking" their bicycles in the rear of the basement storage quarters at the end of the old building. They have to steer around numerous barrels and crates and other stuff in the basement area, but they have plenty of room to park in, and no handier place could be found for bicycle storage.

Starter Michael Denison has been on his vacation for the past two weeks. Not since the days of the late Thomas Sayers has there been a starter at the square who makes his voice heard as clearly as Mr. Denison in announcing the start of a race. He is a big, powerful man, and he has something to take refuge in footways to escape being drenched by rain. The need of a waiting room at the square is still keenly felt especially by women and children.

something, indefinite, baffling from the point of origin and exact nature and yet it was there. Its presence was not noticed until the meeting had proceeded for a half hour or more, but from their to the close its being was sure, although so phantasmalike as to be almost mythical.

Even as the scent of the rose lingers around the far long after the flower within has died, this stranger stalked the corner of the chamber unseen, yet definite in every way except shape and point of emanation.

Councillor Dan Moriarty signed it first and Councillor Cameron was the next member of the body to become conscious of its presence. In a faint, indistinct and almost shadowy way, it reminded him of the ghost of a man from their to the close its being was sure, although so phantasmalike as to be almost mythical.

Finally Councillor Sadler grew uneasy. To him, also, had come the realization that all was not well, or at least all was not as it should be. He kept, searching gaze traveled round the lofty room and finally came back to himself. It was there, with him and then consciousness dawned.

It was the piggery, the Chelmsford street piggery, visited by him and members of the public safety committee that afternoon for the purpose of deciding whether it constituted the menace to health that its opponents claimed. If there existed in Mr. Sadler's mind up to that moment any doubt of the piggery's inborn strength, it was washed at that moment, when the realization and knowledge came to him that not only is it strong, but it is stronger, yes, stronger and it was doomed.

"Old piggery sure is powerful," said the committee chairman. "Too powerful and clinging." "Yes," replied the residents of upper Chelmsford street have complained bitterly of the location of the piggery and the anxious odors therefrom and it devolved upon the public safety committee to check up on the reports. This was not a job, and did not require close and personal attention, but the committee wanted to be sure, so obtained first hand knowledge.

"I guess we played it a little too close," commented Fred, and by a unanimous vote his fellow councillors agreed with him. It was real, self-satisfying public action.

The city clerk will send a communication to the Shaw Stocking Co., requesting that some action be taken relative to the blind corner at Smith and Shaw streets, caused by the high company fence at that intersection. This spot was visited by the committee yesterday.

SIX PERSONS HURT IN DEATH DEFYING STUNT

PROVIDENCE, Sept. 15.—Six persons, two riders and four spectators, were hurt at the Kingston Fair yesterday afternoon when a motorcycle rode out of a cyclodrome bowl into the crowd.

The injured, "Dot" Millcott, 30, of 13 Wendell street, Providence; "Death-Defying" Beaudreau of Providence, Everett, Hargraves, 15, of Point Judith, Mrs. Annie Welsh of Wyoming, Samuel T. Hamlet and Thaniel Frank Tyler of Lafayette.

All were taken to the Red Cross tent on the fair grounds. Miss Millcott, who was riding on the rear of the motorcycle operated by Beaudreau, was picked up unconscious. Her skull is fractured. Beaudreau received cuts on his hands and face. He was badly shaken up.

The Hargraves boy was knocked unconscious when the cycle struck him. Mrs. Welsh was cut about her body and face. One arm may be fractured. Hamlet and Tyler were cut, bruised and stunned.

It was stated by spectators that the woman, in changing her position, caused the wheel to wobble and that Beaudreau, unable to keep the cycle steady, began to climb the boarding. He is said to have gone too high, the spectators shouting for the upper edge. The woman and the motorcycle spun into the air, then machine and riders fell against the spectators.

NO ONE RESPONSIBLE FOR KILLING

WESTBORO, Sept. 15.—Judge William E. Fowler has completed his report on the inquest into the death of Emma C. Houlihan of Boston at the state hospital, as a result of an act by another woman patient 21 years old. His report, in part, is as follows:

"I do not find there was anyone responsible for the death of the deceased, excepting said insane young woman, who struck her, and that, owing to this woman's mental condition, there can be no criminal liability attached to her. I do not find that any of the officers of the hospital were in any way responsible for the fatal accident, nor do I see how any precautions to those already used could have been adopted to prevent this blow. Nothing could have prevented the first blow, no matter how numerous the attendants might have been at the precise moment, unless the patients were each in solitary confinement all the time, and it seems that would not be practicable nor desirable nor generally beneficial to the patient, where there had been no sufficient warning of a dangerous character from the previous conduct or record of the patient. Consequently I find no one was criminally responsible for the death of the deceased and that no one was in any way connected with it except the said insane woman who hit her."

FOOLISH LAND

(After re-reading Alice in Wonderland and Davy and Goblin)

I've been on a journey with Davy and Alice
To the land of nonsensical fun.
I've seen the White Queen in her ludicrous palace;
In the hat of the Goblin I've spun.
I've met with the whale that was talking with Davy,
And the Rabbit that Alice pursued,
And the Mock-Turtle singing by seas that were wavy,
And the Duchess—egregiously rude!

I've sipped my cold tea with the Dormouse and Hatter,
I've met the White Knight in the wood,<
I've heard Humpty-Dumpty's nonsensical chatter,
And found it exceedingly good.
With Davy I've visited Robinson Crusoe,
And Sinbad the Sailor as well,
I've heard all their stories told over anew, so
I've many gay stories to tell.

With Davy I've wandered, with Alice I've traveled
A whimsical, fanciful way,
I've seen miles of magical nonsense unraveled
In a land of fantastical play;
I've been far afield from the world and its malice,
Afar from its dust and its grime,
Once more I've been reading of David and Alice,
And I've had a wonderful time!

HORSE RACING COMING BACK IN RUSSIA

MOSCOW, Sept. 15.—Horse racing in Russia, nearly as popular in the old days as tea drinking, is slowly coming back.

There are so many race followers in Russia that even during the world war it went on about as usual. Not until the revolution came, when the country was almost turned inside out, was racing forced to close down. Four years ago, when racing was actually given up, millions of persons thought it meant the end of everything.

But this summer harness racing began again in Petrograd, Moscow and in the other cities. Now Russia, or at least the racing fans, are beginning to feel that after all the world has started to right itself again.

The government conducts the sport; the pari-mutual system of betting; the concessions at the tracks, and everything in general, and the army helps to keep things going in orderly fashion. Soldiers see to it that no one gets in free, and that there are no small boys, nor men, nor women, through the fences. A soldier band furnishes music between races, when the crowd scrambles to place its rubles on its favorite horse.

The racing in Moscow goes on three days a week. The track is just at the edge of town, near many fine old residences, now community houses with a tin glove pipe protruding from every other window.

All the profits, as the government announced at the beginning, go to fund a fund for the relief of sufferers in the famine districts. The races are under the direct charge of the Soviet horse department, of which General Brusiloff is the chief. General Brusiloff is as well known in Russia for his interest in clean sports as he was as a fighting man.

Individual horse owners participate in the various events, but the majority of the trotters are owned by the government. Many of the owners were seized by American stallions.

If Russia has her troubles, they are not in evidence at the pavilion. There are more smiling faces and laughter at the races than any other place in Moscow.

The track itself is as good as ever, but the black-long grandstand is all run down at the heel, like so much of Russia. It has not been painted in seven or eight years, and many of the fixtures have been torn away, for firewood, perhaps, in winter.

But the crowd is the thing, and there are as many as many women as men. The latter in general appearance are healthy and well-fed, and here and there a fat man bobs about in the excitement of winning or losing a bet. Many of them wear straw hats and pongee suits, naturally yellow, but more yellow than ever now with war and age. Ordinary trousers and the white linen Russian blouses are the popular dress for the men, as they are cool and cheap.

The women as a rule are fairly well-dressed as fashions go today in Russia. But none are fat—only a few are even plump. Their dresses are of good material, in most instances pre-war stuff, altered and made over time and again during the years of stress until, if inspected closely, one may see the sewing marks and shadows of the cuts of the previous arrangements.

The millinery has a suggestion of smartness—at a distance. Then for a moment some Parisian styles in Moscow, copied from the books on modes. Many of the women wear diamonds and other jewelry, and sit in boxes quite proudly indeed, with their "dope" books and glasses, smoking the long paper-stemmed cigarettes, and visiting and gossiping, even as they did in the days "before" when there was nothing in particular to worry about.

With the aid of the light summer evenings up here in the north, the races, which are made up of 15 or 20 events, begin at 4 or 5 o'clock, and often it is nearly 2 before the last contest has been run off. Then the crowd breaks for the exits, dashes through the babble of beggars, and starts toward the city of the golden-domed churches in automobiles, by auto bus, tramway, trolley and by foot, just as the people did in the days of old when Russia was in her prime.

WOMEN GAMBLERS PLY TRADE ON LINERS

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Women are replacing men gamblers aboard ocean liners.

Private Eddie Mallon, the watchdog of the piers, whose job it is to "spot" sea-going gamblers, is authority for the statement. He says the men claim they are going straight because they have found that travelers are too careful and ship's officers too watchful.

Most of the gamblers, says Mallon, came to that conclusion just about the time a White Star captain sent a well-known gambler to the detention hospital aboard his ship following a spirited little party in the smoking room, when fists were brought into action.

But where men have dropped cards and dice, women have taken them up. The women are known to Eddie and to other detectives who help him watch the piers, but the problem is to catch them.

ATTENTION! Working People

Who is doing your dental work? How much are you paying for it?

A school teacher recently showed me a gold crown in her mouth for which she had paid $25. We could have given her the very same thing, same gold, workmanship exactly as good, for $5. This is but one out of thousands of cases where people are paying from two to three times as much as they need to for their dental work.

One big liner recently came into port and Eddie, as usual, met it at Quarantine. He lost himself as soon as he was aboard. But by the time the liner had reached the pier, he popped into view, sore and disgusted, with disappointment easy to be read in his face.

"I lost 'the Dutchess' again," he grumbled.

His story was brief. He had received a wireless tip that there was a woman aboard, aristocratic and cultured; that she had been very sweet to several of the men passengers; that she had reluctantly consented to play bridge practically every night at sea; that she had collected rather heavily at the end of each sitting.

"I talked to about five men about her," continued Eddie, "and not one would complain. She was a woman, they said, and they were not willing to accuse a woman of cheating at cards." So I had to let 'the Dutchess' come ashore and she has just passed her baggage. She will probably be back on the French line next week, laughing at me.

"That's the big trouble now. We could beat the men at the game, but now men passengers who have lost either won't admit a woman could outwit them, or else they won't complain. The women are getting away with it simply because they are women."

CO-OPERATIVE ARTIST COURSE PLANNED

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—The Chicago Chamber Opera company has been formed on the co-operative artists plan to produce six American operas this winter. Mrs. Archibald Freer, its chairman, a society woman, has announced. "This is the first plan of the kind ever to be launched," said Mrs. Freer. "Each opera will be a genuine American production, and will be heard twice. Miss Rachel Kinsolving is manager of the company."

Mrs. Freer said the new company was an outgrowth of efforts to promote opera in English and to encourage American musicians and composers, as advocated by the Opera in Our Language Foundation and by the David Bispham Memorial fund. Mrs. Freer is national chairman of both foundations as well as chairman of the Chicago company. Mrs. Edith Rockefeller Me-

Cormick is vice-chairman of the national organization.

"The response which our work is receiving," said Mrs. Freer, "is indicated by a resolution which the General Federation of Women's Clubs passed at its convention at Chautauque, N. Y., last June, a copy of which has been sent to me by the national chairman of music of the federation, Mrs. Marx Obendorfer."

The resolution follows: "There has been for many years the need for a truly American plan to promote public interest in the American singer and composer, thus establishing an American school of opera and national opera houses where genuine American opera shall be produced in our language."

"That the General Federation of Women's Clubs pledges its interest in furthering the plan of the organization now working toward this end."

Ready for Cross-Country Trip—No Stops

By N.E.A. Service
DAYTON, O., Sept. 11.—If gasoline placed in space formerly occupied by eight passengers holds out and with good "flying luck," Lieut. Oakley G. Kelly and E. W. Dichtman expect to accomplish what has hitherto baffled aviators—a non-stop flight from New York to San Francisco. They will use a Fokker transport monoplane. The "hop off" is scheduled for some time this month.

The plane is equipped with one 400-horsepower Liberty motor and has a fuel supply of 725 gallons of gasoline. It has a speed of 100 miles an hour and a wing spread of 75 feet.

"POP" GEERS HONORED

Called Into Judges' Stand for First Time in 47 Years—Presented Loving Cup

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 15.—E. F. "Pop" Geers today had added another trophy to his collection, but in acquiring it, the 71-year-old reinman broke a record of 47 years' standing on the turf by being called into the judges' stand.

Driving Milady Guy, bay daughter of Guy Asworthy, "Pop" easily won the Governor's cup event, a three-year-old trotting stake with a value of $1000, Governor Edwin E. Morrow then called Geers into the stand to present the silver loving cup donated by the fair association.

"This is the first time I was ever called into the judges' stand in my 47 years on the turf," the old master said, "but it certainly is a happy occasion."

GUARDS INCREASED AT HAVERHILL PLANT

HAVERHILL, Sept. 15.—Police guards in the vicinity of the men's shoe factory of Winchell & Co. were increased today as a result of disturbances last night at a boarding-house where some of the employees are quartered. The plant was reopened this week after being closed a month.

The troubles are due to an attempt by the Shoe Workers' Protective union to have its organization recognized by the firm instead of the Boot and Shoe Workers' union. This move marks an extension of activities by the Shoe Workers' Protective union, which has a large membership in the women's shoe shops here, to the men's shoe plants of which there are four. The other three plants are not involved as yet.

The Winchell shop, which in normal times employs about 800 persons, is operating with about 200 employees.

Says one, or Hubert, who has the ground for Lowell while Higgins will assume the burden for the Lawrence Knights. This same Higgins has had great success in every game he has pitched this season and he might come through with a victory tomorrow.

Henry Sullivan will again be behind the bat for the Daylights and the rest of the lineup will be the same as faced each other at Spaulding park two weeks ago.

The game will start promptly at 2 o'clock at O'Sullivan park. Before the game, Lawrence players who have won in that city will be presented with their awards. Lowell fans should leave the square not later than 2 o'clock in order to be on time for the ceremony.

LOWELL-LAWRENCE INTER-CITY SERIES

Weather permitting, the long delayed series between the Highland Daylights and Lawrence K. of C. will be resumed tomorrow afternoon in the downtown city. Through inclement weather and serious difficulty over the acquisition of a suitable playing field this series has been held up for a week or more but no further postponement is on the horizon and tomorrow is the big day set for the second battle at O'Sullivan park.

With a win tomorrow for the Daylights the series will be over as they have already won one game from the Lawrence team. But the Knights are now that they will turn the tables tomorrow. Either Dolan, who kicked the Ca-

ALL LEADERS WIN GAMES

Victories By All Four Pennant Contenders in Yesterday's Games

By Winning 13 of Remaining 18 Games Giants Sure of Nat. League Flag

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Victories by all four of the leading pennant contenders—New York and Pittsburgh in the National and New York and St. Louis in the American—left the relative standings of the rivals unchanged today but improved the mathematical chances of the leading Gotham clubs.

By capturing 13 of their remaining 18 games, the Giants can win even if the Pirates take all of their remaining 16 contests. Such an eventuality would give the champions a margin of one game in the American, where the battle is closer. The Pirates, to win must take 12 out of 13 remaining games if the Yankees win 10 out of 14. The Pirates trailed a blow at Cowley that opened a cut on his mouth. As Downes turned to retaliate, Boyle shut in a crushing blow to the stomach and crossed with one to the head that sent Downes to the canvass. Here Williams jumped into the ring to protest the spectator's act. The referee attempted to control Williams, then took a hard and unfeeling blow on the head from Boyle's fist. Boyle then took a hard and unfeeling blow on the head from Williams' fist. Boyle then took a hard and unfeeling blow on the head from Williams' fist.

Joe Bush's brilliant pitching and Babe Ruth's hammer were high lights in the Yankees' second straight triumph over Chicago, 4 to 1. The Browns staged a belated rally to down Boston, 3 to 2, and the Giants snatched a 7 to 2 victory over the Chicago Cubs, 7 to 2. The Pirates crushed Boston again, 3 to 0, with Babe Adams in rare pitching form.

Pittette of Detroit turned back the Athletics, 5 to 2, and Stuffy McInnis poked out a homer that enabled Cleveland to down Washington, 4 to 2, in the other American league contests.

Milton Stock faced five hits in an hour and a half, but his team, the Boston Braves, won 4 to 3. Rogers Hornsby hit safely in his 20th consecutive game while the St. Louis Cardinals made it three in a row from Philadelphia, 2 to 1. The Cardinals won 4 to 1, while Cincinnati while Cough was hit hard by Brooklyn, the Reds winning, 7 to 3 in the other National League game.

LOWELL HORSES WILL RACE IN GROTON

Several Lowell horses are being shipped up for entrance in Groton Agricultural fair races, Sept. 22 and 23. The Groton course is a half-mile, with an improved footing this year. Arrangements have been completed for better and more adequate stable arrangements, and Lowell entries are sure of getting better treatment from the fair management than ever before.

At least four local speedsters will make the Groton races in several classes. J. E. Fletcher is said to be teamed with Harold Metal and other fast ones. Notwithstanding Harold Metal's disastrous showing in several northern track meets this month, L. E. has faith in the erratic half-baiter that once cleaned up at Golden Cove.

Robert A. Kugg has been hitting several track meets in his store windows for several days. While attending the Worcester fair he picked up a large poster advertising the Groton cattle show and races. He took it into his store and brought it to Lowell, and two hours later the poster was arched the back store windows.

The act of the Lowell horseman has caused quite a little comment about town in horse circles, for the thing is not treated very nicely at a former Groton meet and the horseman resolved to overlook the Groton races in the future. However, his exhibiting of the racing poster shows his desire to help along a good cause, anyhow.

A number of Lowell horse fans are attending the races at the Vermont state fair, White River Junction, this week. The regular schedule of three races on Wednesday was augmented by two other events put over from Tuesday on account of the rain. The attendance was 21,000.

O'LOUGHLIN LEADS BARNES
LONG BRACIL, N. J., Sept. 15.—Marty O'Loughlin, of Plainfield, N. J., open golf champion of New Jersey, held a lead of two strokes over Jim Barnes, of Yeham Manor, N. J., former national champion, at the start of the final day's play of 36 holes today in the Metropolitan open championship over the full club course at O'Loughlin's home for 36 holes. O'Loughlin's record for 36 holes was 152 and Barnes 155.

BOYLE WINS HECTIC BOUT

Awarded Decision Over Downes When Latter Failed to Answer Bell in 4th

Spectator Hit Downes, After Which Boyle Dropped Him—Crowd Surges Into Ring

The fight between Phinney Boyle of Lowell and Johnny Downes of South Boston, rivals for two years, which topped off a high class fighting card presented by the Moody club in the Crescent rink last night, ended unexpectedly and abruptly, when pandemonium broke loose, after three of the most furious and bitterly fought rounds of boxing ever seen in a local ring.

While the bout is technically recorded as ending in the fourth round, when Downes refused to respond to the bell, it actually terminated in the third, with Downes on the floor taking a count and hundreds of fans surging into and up to the ring.

After the ring had been cleared and the boxer who were considerably jostled about during the confusion in the ring had been given a rest, Referee Flaherty ordered the men to resume fight. Downes arose from his chair as Boyle moved to meet him but Jackie Williams, Downes' manager intervened, and pulled his man out of the ring. Referee Flaherty awarded the verdict to Boyle on a technical knockout.

Never within the memory of many at the ring had such a boiling and exciting battle been staged in this city and seldom, if ever, did a pair of battlers uncock such whiffwind and terrible endeavor. The bout really developed into a war of attrition, with each boxer sustaining one of the sleep producing experiences.

In the second round Boyle went down and Downes obeyed the rules of boxing and stepped back to permit the referee to count him probably would have scored a victory. In the third round the prostrated Boyle with arms extended ready to tattoo his opponent and Referee Flaherty was obliged to consider the time out. Boyle was revived upon Downes to back away. In the meantime the bell rang thus terminating the count. It was the second time that Boyle had been felled in the round.

During the intermission Boyle's second worked feverishly and when the going sounded for the third Boyle tore into his opponent, launching a hurricane attack that brought his admirers to their feet and from this point on he reigned. Downes had been employing legal tactics in holding Boyle by the neck and hitting low. He also reeled his elbows into Boyle's midriff. These actions brought him hissed and howled the fans.

Boyle caught Downes flush on the jaw sending him to the ropes. At this instance a spectator jumped into the ring and drove a blow at Cowley that opened a cut on his mouth. As Downes turned to retaliate, Boyle shut in a crushing blow to the stomach and crossed with one to the head that sent Downes to the canvass. Here Williams jumped into the ring to protest the spectator's act. The referee attempted to control Williams, then took a hard and unfeeling blow on the head from Boyle's fist. Boyle then took a hard and unfeeling blow on the head from Williams' fist.

The bouts preceding the main event were rip-roaring affairs. In one eight round event Jimmy Downs of Lowell scored a clear cut knockout over Young Ketchell of Lawrence in the fourth round of a great number. The other round ended in the second round with Young Martin Flaherty scoring a technical knockout over Jimmy Barry of Chelsea. Flaherty showed a complete mastery of the former class work. The preliminary was a hummer going the distance with Tommy Moran being awarded the decision over Johnny Nelson.

Frank Murphy of this city and John McQuade of Haverhill were the judges. Martin Flaherty refereed all the bouts except that in which they participated. Jack Cooper of Lawrence did the honors in that one.

PANCHITO VILLA WINS FLY-WEIGHT TITLE

BROOKLYN, Sept. 15.—Panchito Villa of Manila last night, became the flyweight champion of the United States by scoring a technical knockout over Johnny Buff of Jersey City 27 seconds after the opening of the 11th round of a scheduled 15-round bout at 35th St. Field.

Buff's seconds threw a towel into the ring when Johnny, battered to graggle, stood helpless before the Filipino's attack.

In the 10th round Villa scored two knockdowns. He began by pummeling Buff with both hands, pushing him to ropes and then chasing him across the ring. Buff was reeling when Villa landed his left to the head and sent the American bumping to the floor.

The first time Buff did not take count, but when Villa placed both hands to the head a few seconds later the American lay on the floor until he was counted and the bell rang, saving him. He was picked up and placed in his chair.

It was Villa's fight from the first. He was always active, always punching for an opening instead of waiting for a chance as Buff did. His terrific body blows, with both hands, sapped the American champion in the early rounds and his crushing left hooks and jabs to the head in the latter rounds brought him the victory.

TWO RACES IN THE MUD AT SYRACUSE FAIR

SYRACUSE, Sept. 15.—Only two races at the Grand Circuit program were raced off at the State Fair track yesterday and these were contested in mud so deep that they developed into farces.

A light rain fell all the afternoon and when the 2:07 and 2:03 p.m. events were being run the management postponed the balance of the program until tomorrow. The Alabama mare, Edna Barry, won the stake for 2:07 p.m., leading all the way in the first two heats, but in the final, after passing the second quarter in 31½ seconds, through the mud, she fired and Abbebie beat her. Only two started in the 2:03 race, and this was the slowest event of the Grand Circuit season. John Henry won the first heat in 2:25½, and the next two slightly faster without the semblance of a contest.

Prospects for racing tomorrow do not look bright, but if possible the balance of the program of eight races will be raced off, the plan being to start racing at noon, if the track is in condition. The summary:

Record Card Today
SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sept. 15.—If today breaks clear, with either sun, shine or wind to dry the three inches of mud on the state fair track, there will be a record Grand Circuit card of eight races here starting promptly at noon.

If such weather should continue throughout the day, there will be four special exhibitions late this afternoon against time with Peter Henley, the world's champion trotter, in the headline affair attempting to break his world's trot mark, without windshield, of 1:57½.

SILVER KING SETS NEW TRACK RECORD
Silver King, formerly owned by Isaac E. Wooten of this city, set a new track record of 2:12 in the final heat of the free-for-all at the Oxford course, Sept. 14, yesterday afternoon. The summary:

press agents for the popularization of their products. For proof, they send pictures of actual situations wherein work is being enjoyed!

Incredible as this may be, the pictures are here for positive proof. The movies and the legitimate, of course, have their representatives. But then there are undreamed of occupations to which radio has been applied.

For Housework

Before you start leaning over the washboard, or getting down on your knees to scrub the kitchen floor—this is meant for housewives, of course—rig your radio set at a convenient place nearby and tune in on a broadcasting concert. The rub-a-dub of the washboard or the scraping of the floor brush will be lost in the maze of music from the air.

If the housewife doesn't apply herself to this work, the radio experiment is just as suitable for servant girls or the weekly washerwoman. Both would enjoy their jobs and recommend your home to others. It is a solution to the servant girl problem!

Actresses may have sets in their dressing rooms and alleviate the tedium of waiting for their turn on the stage.

stage. Movie stars—at least, the male variety—may now assume the painful duties of fishing with a radio outfit to relieve the monotony of silent waiting. While the female of the movie species may at last venture into a bathing suit at the surf with the assurance that a radio outfit will compensate for her embarrassing position.

In Paris, cafe owners have struck upon radio as their life-saver. They were going into bankruptcy. People—especially American tourists—refused to drink their wines and other beverages. They were desperate when one of them thought of radio.

Now, on cafe tables along the boulevards are small radio sets and alongside is a liquor list. Whoever wishes to drink may listen in. Or vice versa—whenever wishes to listen in must drink. The cafe owners have been saved!

CHINA HAS BAN ON RADIO

It's a hard life for radio fans in China, reports E. T. Lockwood to "QST," official organ of the American Radio Relay League.

Lockwood writes that Shanghai is the only place in the whole of China where the radio amateur has some freedom. The Peking government has issued a general order that no radio stations are allowed. But since Shanghai is under the jurisdiction of an international municipal council, amateurs have been permitted to erect stations and communicate with one another at whatever wave length they please.

In spite of this, however, even the fans in Shanghai have their difficulties, reports Lockwood. Material for construction of their sets is scarce. "Vacuum tubes and other equipment," says Lockwood, "not only retail for several times their value as in America, but are classed by the customs officials as guns and ammunition, and often require special permits from Peking in order to permit them."

POLICE GUARD - SHOE FACTORY

HAVERHILL, Sept. 15.—The heavy police details were replaced at the shoe factory of J. H. Winchell & Co. on Locust street yesterday, as trouble was feared, the firm having increased its force of employees Wednesday and yesterday, with every department now operating. Yesterday picketing was increased at the factory by those who walked out six weeks ago and when the factory closed last night the crowds from nearby factories were kept moving by the police.

The B. & S. V. U. officials say they are having no trouble in filling vacancies at the factory, while the S. V. P. U. leaders, the 450 who quit work at the Winchell factory, having joined the latter union, state that there are less than 100 real shoe workers now employed there.

Stubborn inflammations usually respond to Resinol

Although Resinol Ointment is primarily intended for the treatment of skin affections and the control of itching, it has such a strong healing action that it is highly and widely recommended as a dressing for the most stubborn boils, sores, wounds, etc.

It is mild, soothing and does not smart or sting when applied. Many satisfied users testify that it has healed quickly and easily, sores that have refused to yield to other treatments.

Hundreds Massacred

Continued
The Turks before the fire which swept the Armenian and other quarters of the Asia Minor recently evacuated by the Greek army. It is charged in semi-official and other Greek messages from Athens received here today.

Girl Pupils Carried Away
Among the Turkish outrages was the carrying off of many girl pupils of the American girls' college. It is alleged. The Greek belief is that the fire was set by the Turks to conceal the traces of their alleged misdeeds.

Americans Suffer $75,000,000 Loss
A considerable share of the property loss from the fire, the total of which is estimated in Greek quarters at one billion francs (about $75,000,000 at present exchange rate for the French franc) fell upon American firms.
An Exchange Telegraph despatch from Athens says:

Alleged Traitors Executed
The Turkish population in Smyrna continues to be master of the situation. A number of Turkish officials accused of having aided the Greeks, were executed in front of the government buildings.

Quays Littered With Bodies
"Refugees arriving in Athens from Smyrna recount terrible stories regarding the state of the city, owing to the ferocity of the Turks. Immediately on their arrival, the fanatic troops gave themselves over to massacre and robbery of the Christians, and the quays were littered with corpses. A Greek journalist was shot down after being dragged through the streets tied to the back of an automobile."

1000 Armenians Shot Down
"An American passenger who reached Piraeus from Smyrna says he saw 900 Armenians forced by the Turks to embark on a lighter. The Armenians were then shot down from the shore. The bodies were left floating in the water. According to other passengers, prominent members of the British colony in Smyrna were similarly murdered."

Englishmen Murdered
LONDON, Sept. 15. (By the Associated Press.)—An American destroyer which has arrived at Piraeus, Greece, reports that the Turks entered the British consulate at Smyrna and murdered an official there, who was assembling the archives, says a Reuter despatch from Athens today. Postmaster Wilkinson is also said to have been murdered, as well as other Englishmen. Sir Harry Lamb, the consul general, is believed to have escaped on board a warship.

Fire Continues to Spread
SMYRNA, Sept. 15. (By the Associated Press.)—The fire which started in the Armenian quarter of Smyrna early yesterday afternoon had spread early this morning to the Turkish sections of the city and was making rapid headway. The entire European section is in ashes and countless thousands are homeless. There were hundreds of casualties among persons who were caught in the section where the flames spread with greatest rapidity. The American consulate general was situated in the burned area. Consul General George Horton and his staff left as the flames swept toward the building, taking with them the official codes and funds, together with the most important records and documents. An American destroyer sailed for Saloniki with 600 refugees, and another later cleared for Piraeus with 400 persons, including some of the consular staff, members of American benevolent organizations and business men.

American Destroyer Saves Refugees
ATHENS, Sept. 15.—An American destroyer arrived yesterday at Piraeus from Smyrna with the American consul and several other American citizens and numerous Armenian refugees. A despatch from Constantinople last night said all the naturalized Americans in Smyrna were being taken to Athens, accompanied by George Horton, the American consul general on board the torpedo boat destroyer Simpson.

Within 35 Miles of Constantinople
CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 15. (By the Associated Press.) The Turkish nationalist army is now within 35 miles of Constantinople. The population is in a state of nervous tension and the entire city is rife with rumors about Mustafa Kemal Pasha's designs upon the capital.

Rodosto and other ports on the Sea of Marmora are choked with refugees who are arriving by the tens of thousands in an appalling state of misery. Hundreds are dying before they can be landed. The near east relief has despatched a shipload of foodstuffs and medicines for Rodosto in charge of Col. Stephen B. Love of St. Louis. Ten thousand Armenian refugees have arrived in the Bosphorus on five vessels and will be given shelter in the Armenian churches of the city.

France Joins in Protest
PARIS, Sept. 15.—(By the Associated Press.) The French government in its reply, forwarded last night, to the British note on the Near East, announces that France has decided to join the other allies in requesting the Turkish nationalist government to respect the neutrality zone of the Straits of the Dardanelles, fixed by the treaty of Sevres. Instructions to this effect have been sent to General Follis, the French high commissioner in Constantinople. The French decision, the note adds, Continued to Page 19

Ad Club Outing

Continued

Ad men directed an attack against all wearers of the straw hat, as a result of which every variety of top piece was gathered in, some voluntarily but most of them after a tussle, and sacrificed on a prepared funeral pyre in full view of the audience. When practically all hats were consumed, Hon. Perry D. Thompson appeared on the horizon, nonchalantly sporting a Panama. The wideawake committee got busy immediately, and elected to munt Hon. Perry, but he objected strenuously, however, and it was only after a struggle against odds that he succumbed. By that time, his headpiece was beyond recognition and was flung to the flames amid uproarious applause. The last rose, or rather hat, of summer entered the scene with the coming of the mayor, Hon. George H. Brown. Mr. Mayor proudly exhibited an expensive Panama and was reticent to bid it good-bye. Realizing what was going on he tried to hide his hat but the committee showed no partiality and the mayor's hat met with a fate similar to that of his predecessor in office. The crematory process occupied but a few moments and soon all the hats were but a memory. Coca-Cola caps were furnished the losers.

The Dinner Call

With megaphone in hand, Ed Gallagher ascended the platform of the bowling alley and announced "Dinner Ready," and a grand rush for the tables resulted. The lengthy, out-door program had whetted some 250 appetites, which were readily appeased with the serving of baked beans, live lobsters, one on each plate, corn on the cob, coffee, rolls, ice cream and cake.

While intently occupied with the "cats," the big event of the day was announced. A mysterious cabinet, accompanied by two gaily decorated pages, was conveyed into the dining hall and when it was opened, Miss Pansy Ward, in the role of Miss Powder Puff, revealed herself in typical powder-puff style. Her duties consisted of conferring degrees on the honorable members of the scheming circle and this she did with befitting appropriateness each coupled in a catchy verse. To the accompaniment of specially selected musical numbers, the following schemers stepped forward and received "degrees": Frank McLean, George Ward, Ed Conroy, Frank McPhee, Abel Campbell, Lewis Danie, Wilfred Boulger, Ben Pousness, Del Abbott, Condie Connelly, Robert Wood, Hon. James H. Casey, Walter Flynn, Ed McGilly, Henry Muleahy, Isadora Brown, Dr. Charles L. Sweetish, Leo Smith, Paul Doherty, Ed W. Gallagher, Walter Bruce, Geo. Wood, Tom Atkinson, Richard McGrath, Charles Keyes, Hon. George H. Brown, who is an honorary member of the Ad club also received a degree. Assisting Miss Ward in her delicate task were the Misses Joyce and Wood of the Puffery. During the course of the ceremony, the Ad club's double quartet, sustained with a variety of songs. The songsters included Harry Patten, John McMillon, Harry Pascall, Charles Martin, Andrew McCarthy, Harry Priestley, John Moir and Walter Bruce. Through the courtesy of Ben Pickett, manager of R. F. Keith's theatre, Miss Grace Hayes was introduced and instilled additional enthusiasm in the gathering by her masterly rendition of "It's Three O'Clock in the Morning." Harry Ashton of the Irving Berlin Music company, also obliged with pleasing melodies. Mayor Brown was chosen to do the drawing for the winners of the lucky numbers, etc. The first ticket he drew from the hat bore the name of Miss Molly Whelan, who was awarded a string of pearls, donated by Frank Ricard. Other winners were William Sharykay, travelling bag, Sarre Bros.; Cloris Bohager, string of pearls, Le Tolle; Paul Doherty, 5-lb. box of candy presented by Dr. Sweetish; Mrs. Sarre, a radiant fire room heater. Another drawing for a Diamond cord tie, the gift of the Boston Auto Supply, was won by Grace Atkinson, while C. G. Martin won an inner tube from the Anderson Tire shop, George R. Wells received a Perfection oil heater and Frank Finnegan, a 1000-word letter head, gift from the Halsey Printing company.

Dancing at Lakeview

The coming of darkness was the signal for the trip to another field of conquest, Lakeview and the dancing pavilion, which had been generously loaned to the frolicers through the kindness of Mr. Harry Kittredge. Here a grand march took place, the couples fantastically tripping over the polished floor and each receiving a suitable favor. To climax the end of the perfect day, waltzes, fox trots and novelty dances brought the first, but still happy Ad men and ladies to the realization that the first annual outing of the Lowell Advertising club had passed into history.

The schemers in charge of the outing were as follows: Robert Wood, chairman; clan hake, Edward W. Gallagher, Dr. Charles L. Sweetish, Abel R. Campbell; prizes, Frank McPhee; automobiles, Edward Conroy; tickets, George H. Wood; sports and stunts, Henry Muleahy and Charles Keyes; guests and publicity, Benjamin Pousness and Hon. James H. Casey; program, Lewis Danie; schedule, Thomas Atkinson; tonics, etc., Frank Ricard. The scheming circle extends its sincere thanks to G. R. does not prejudice the future conditions of peace.

A formal demand for a declaration by the national government of its intention to observe this neutrality will probably be made by the allied high commissioners in Constantinople tomorrow.

Diplomatic conversations among the allies appear to indicate that the French view that the future sovereignty of Thrace by the sublime port must be discussed at a peace conference at which the crushing victory of Turkey will outfit her to the most liberal treatment in the final decision. These views are declared to be shared by Italy.

Y.M.C.A. Building Saved.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—A cablegram received at the Y.M.C.A. headquarters from E. O. Jacob, general secretary of the organization at Smyrna, stated that the Y.M.C.A. reservation in that city was not destroyed as had been reported by the fire which swept parts of Smyrna after the evacuation of the Greek army. The cablegram stated that the families of Mr. Jacob and A. K. Jennings, a secretary, have arrived safely at Athens.

Refugees Jump in Sea

MUDANIA, Sept. 15.—(By the Associated Press) The Greek cruisers Giorgos Averoff and Kilikos, the latter formerly the U. S. S. Mississippi, are at Enderma covering the retreat of the remnant of the Greek army for whose safety grave concern is felt. Two companies of French infantry were sent to this city from Constantinople for the temporary protection of the thousands of Christian refugees here, many of whom, panic-stricken, are throwing themselves into the sea.

COMMANDER EVANGELINE SEEK INJUNCTION TO PELLETIER NOT TO WITH- BOOTH TO RETIRE HALT BEER MAKING DRAW FROM CONTEST PLOT IS DISCOVERED

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—When District commissioners of the Salvation Army opened a three days' conference today, it was learned that retirement of Evangeline Booth as commander of the organization in America was expected.

Miss Booth was in conference with the commissioners and declined to make a statement. Her secretary, Brig. Gen. Griffith said, however, that reports of her coming retirement were true and that it probably would be effective as soon as Commander Booth's successor was named.

Plans were under way, he added, for separating the command of the army from the business corporations of the organization. Under this arrangement the commissioners in the United States would be responsible to the commander-in-chief, and Miss Booth's successor would be head of the business corporations.

A cut in the salaries of 4000 officers in 1100 American cities made by London headquarters is up for discussion at the conference. Pay of married officers would be cut $1 a week and of unmarried $2.

HARRY SINCLAIR SUES FOR $875,000

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Harry E. Sinclair, oil operator and sportsman, today brought suit against Clark, Childs & Co. and Chandler & Co., New York brokers, for $875,000 damages, charging that 25,993 shares of Sinclair Consolidated Oil Co. stock belonging to him had been returned after the Chandler firm's failure and liquidation. Mr. Sinclair charges that he was induced to enter the Chandler firm's affairs by Clark, Childs & Co., and put up his shares, which he values at $875,000 as collateral during the reorganization of the Chandler firm.

HOUSE BLOWN UP; 14 HURT
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 14.—A powerful bomb, exploding under the veranda, demolished a double frame building at 535 Center street, Bradford, this forenoon, and injured fourteen occupants. Twelve of the victims are negroes. Police are investigating a report that a labor feud was responsible.

BOSTON, Sept. 14.—A request for a temporary injunction restraining the Worcester Products company from the manufacture and sale of beer containing more than one half of one per cent alcohol was filed in United States district court here today by Assistant Federal Attorney Elihu D. Stone.

The equip proceedings allege that the company manufactures, sells and keeps intoxicating liquor in violation of the prohibition laws. Federal agents, it asserts, found that beer discovered at the plant had an alcoholic content of from three to four per cent. In the event that the injunction is granted, the bill asks that a United States marshal take possession of the plant.

BRIEF BUT IMPORTANT WIRE DESPATCHES

AKRON, O., Sept. 14.—The Army dirigible C-2 arrived at the Wingfoot lake aerodrome near here at 11:25 a. m. The crew landed for luncheon. It will leave late today for Dayton.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 14.—William T. Tilden, 2nd, defeated Zensu Simizu of Japan, 6-2, 6-2, 5-1, in the fifth round of the national singles tennis championship tournament today.

ALEXANDER G. BELL'S WILL
WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—The will of Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone, filed here today for probate, leaves his entire estate, real and personal, to his wife, Mabel Gardiner Bell, absolutely and without conditions. The widow and his cousin, Charles J. Bell, president of the American Security Trust Co., are named as executors. No schedule of the value of the estate has been filed.

MISS ELEANOR PAINTER ILL
NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Miss Eleanor Painter, who was to have opened her theatrical season as leading lady in "The Lady in Ermine," is ill at her home, but though recovering will not appear in the cast of the play this season. It was stated today that she explained that the part did not suit her and that it had not been changed to her liking.

BOSTON, Sept. 14.—Joseph C. Pelletier who received the democratic nomination for district attorney of Suffolk county at Tuesday's primaries, today announced that "no possible expediency" could lead him to withdraw from the contest.

Pelletier was removed from the district attorneyship by the Massachusetts supreme court and was subsequently disbarred. A law enacted since his removal provides that only members of the bar may hold the office. This statute will be submitted to a referendum of the voters in November.

SCHOONER MAYFLOWER DECLARED INELIGIBLE

HALIFAX, N. S., Sept. 14.—Trustees of the international fishermen's trophy today declared ineligible for this fall's contest the Nova Scotia schooner, the Boston schooner Mayflower, which also was barred last year.

ROYAL WEDDINGS
Princess Nina, daughter of a Russian grand duke, has just become the bride of Prince Chuchavatz in a picturesque ceremony at the Russian church, London.

FAMOUS HELLENIC LIBRARY
ATHENS, Greece, Sept. 14.—The Greek national assembly has passed the bill appropriating a magnificent site on the slopes of Mt. Lycabettus for the erection of the building for which the Carnegie corporation had appropriated the sum of $200,000 which is to house the Gennadius library recently presented by Ioannes Gennadius to the American School of Classical Studies.

Speeches were made by the prime minister, who read the letter of Ellin Rod, chairman of the trustees of the Carnegie corporation, announcing the grant and endorsing the purposes of the Gennadius Foundation at the American School, and by several prominent deputies. It is the consensus of opinion here by those who are acquainted with the Gennadius library in London, that it has no equal in the world as a library illustrating Hellenic civilization; and that the American School by its possession will occupy a unique position among the learned bodies of Europe.

JUDGE WENTWORTH
SOMERVILLE, Sept. 14.—Judge Roger L. Wentworth, presiding justice for more than 20 years in the police district court here, died at his home today after a long illness. Since January, Judge Wentworth has supervised all court procedure from his sick room. He was 67 years of age and a graduate of Dartmouth college.

Plan to Overthrow Government and Violate Neutrality of Bulgaria Uncovered

SOFIA, Sept. 14.—A plot to overthrow the government and violate the neutrality of Bulgaria was discovered in documents found in the secret archives of a representative of General Wrangel's army, a few days ago. A semi-official communique made public today said: "The plot failed owing to the discovery of the documents. Measures are being taken to render the plotters inoffensive."

LIFE UNDERWRITERS HOLD MEETING

John O'Brien, vice president of the Lowell Life Underwriters association, presided at the opening fall meeting of the Lowell Life Underwriters association held yesterday afternoon in the Fairbairn building at 1 o'clock, with an attendance of approximately forty-five members. Mr. O'Brien, in a brief but snappy and comprehensive way, described the opportunities that he had known in the business in the 25 years that he had been associated with it and emphasized the fact that at the present time he was of the opinion that there are more chances for the man in the life insurance business to increase his income as well as his service to the people, than ever before in all those years. To back up that fact he mentioned in an interesting way the experience which he personally has had so far this year, during which time he has written a large amount of insurance than he had ever written in any similar period previously. He particularly stressed the thought that a new man coming into the business, should try and determine quickly whether he was adapted to it and then make up his mind to make it his life work and proceed to make such a record as would enable him to enjoy a compensation commensurate with his responsibility, and he advised every young man to reach out for advancement and to take it when he was in a position to handle it.

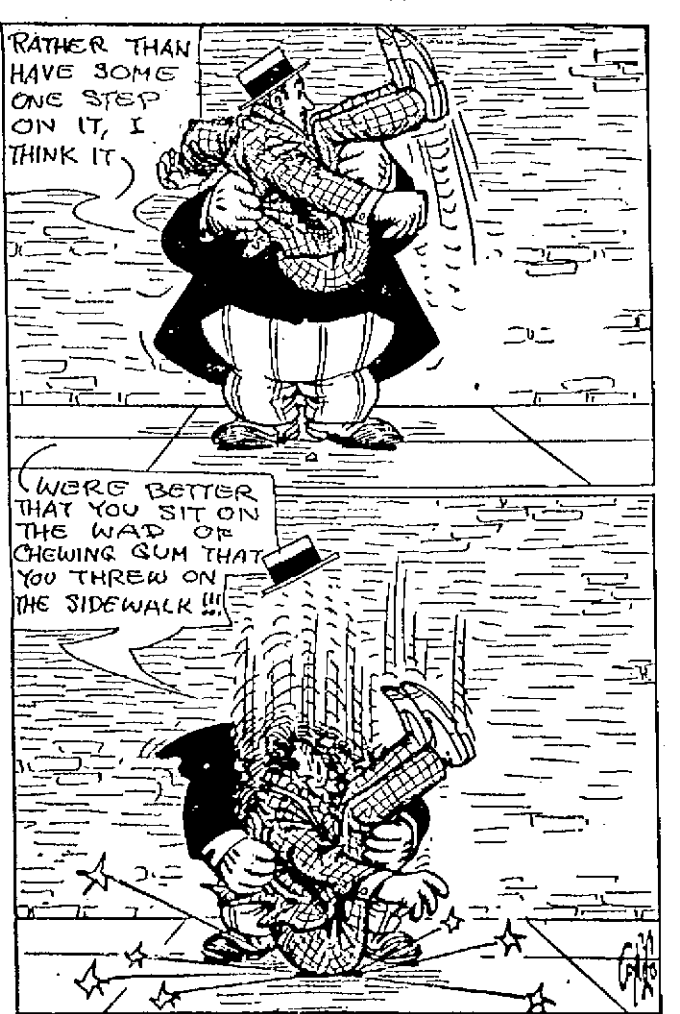

Mr. O'Brien was followed by John McPherson, an assistant superintendent in the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance company of Lowell, whose remarks were the result of observations covering a good many years in the business and were addressed in particular to the importance of making the most of the life association movement.

The concluding address of the session was made by Mr. James Sykes, an agent of the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance company, who has reached an age when a good many men find it necessary to retire from all physical activity in a business way, but who, nevertheless, goes about his work daily and is known for his length and breadth of the territory as a man of splendid ideals and a power for good in the business. Mr. Sykes, 75 years old, seemed not to have diminished in any material way a remarkable physical and mental vigor, for he made one of the best addresses of the afternoon and illustrated how he closed a particular case during the preceding few days by emphasizing to the prospect the importance of applying for life insurance when he was in good condition to permit the company to act favorably upon his application. He used this illustration: "Mr. Prospect, next week in this city someone who is today in apparently good health and who actually may be in good health, will next week be sick and require the services of a physician. Otherwise, the doctors might probably have to go out of business." When the policy was delivered the prospect asked Mr. Sykes if he would like to know what part of the talk in making the sale impressed him the most, and Mr. Sykes stated he would be glad of that information, and the prospect stated it was the statement quoted above that induced him to purchase then and there.

Mr. J. H. Gregoire, chairman of the outing committee which conducted the outing at Canobie lake in July, submitted his report and turned over a substantial cash balance to the association treasurer, M. J. Brady. The meeting adjourned until the second Thursday of October.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 14.—Traffic was halted for nearly an hour in the heart of the downtown district today, while a delegation of prominent Britons participated in the unveiling of a bust of William Pitt, Earl of Chatham, the founder of Pittsburgh.

GALLI-CURCI

The Great Artist Always a Serious Student

The famous Galli-Curci, who will give a recital at the Memorial Auditorium on Friday evening, Oct. 6, has always been a serious student of music and still continues to study hard in spite of the remarkable success that she has won. The soprano is constantly going over her operatic roles with a view to discovering new elements that she can incorporate into her interpretations. Recently she secured from France a collection of rare songs that she will introduce to her concert audiences, songs that were found after much patient searching. Always persevering, always aiming to please the public, Galli-Curci is a tireless student and worker.

She must have acquired the habit of work at a very early age for when she was but four years old she played the piano for Mascagni, who told her that in order to become a great pianist she would have to study very hard. At 16 she sang for Mascagni and the composer advised her to become a singer. Galli-Curci started to teach herself to sing, and a year later she gave some operatic performances in Trani, a little Italian town. She then made a successful debut at the Constantinian Opera House in Rome, and continued to study and sing on the continent and in South America until her American debut in Chicago, 1916. From that time on her great success is a matter of record.

Besides mastering her operatic roles and a vast repertoire of concert songs, Galli-Curci is a remarkable linguist, a finished pianist and an authority on Italian literature. All this talent and knowledge crowded into a charming little lady, still very young and still studying and striving to make her art reach ever nearer the goal of her ideal.

The public sale of tickets at Chaffin's will begin Saturday morning, Sept. 23. Mail orders are being filled now.

DYE BLOUSE OR BABY'S COAT IN DIAMOND DYES

STEEL AND CONCRETE BRIDGE WORK
Rebuilding of Lundberg Street Bridge, Lowell, Massachusetts
Sealed bids for the rebuilding of Lundberg Street Bridge over the Boston & Maine Railroad in the City of Lowell, including the removal of all the existing superstructure and the tops of the abutments, and the construction of a new superstructure and new tops to the abutments, will be received by the Board of Public Service of said city at its office in City Hall until 12 o'clock noon (daylight saving time) on Wednesday, September 20, at which time and place the bids will be publicly opened and read aloud.
The bridge to be removed is a single span, 120 feet long by 40 feet wide, with two through steel trusses, and steel floor beams supporting a timber deck.
The abutments are of granite masonry, the new tops will be of concrete.
The bridge to be built will be a single span 120 feet long by 45 feet wide consisting of two through plate girders and a solid deck of steel beams and reinforced concrete. Each girder a roadway 26 feet in clear and two overhanging sidewalks each 6 feet wide. The roadway surfacing will be bituminous, the sidewalks surfacing and railings of concrete.
Each bid must be accompanied by a properly certified check for five thousand dollars ($5000). A bond in the sum of forty thousand dollars ($40,000) of an approved surety company will be required for the faithful performance of the contract.
Bids will be received on a unit price for the structural steel and iron, and lump sum prices for the other items.
A more complete description of the work to be done is given in Notice to Bidders, and Agreement, Articles, Bond, Specifications and Contract Drawings.
Copies of the Notice to Bidders, Specifications and Contract Drawings may be obtained from the Engineer, Fay, Spofford & Thorndike, 200 Devonshire Street, Boston, Mass., on and after September 12, 1922, at 10 o'clock a.m. and after. Copies of the other contract documents on and after Sept. 14, 1922.
Receipt of bids will be subject to the conditions stated in said Notice to Bidders.
The right is reserved to reject any and all bids.

Adventures of the Twins

FLAP-DOODLE BECOMES A DONKEY

In marched Nancy and Nick to the Dingle Dell where Flap-Doodle, the mischievous fairy, was pretending that he was a donkey. "Thank his name!" "All right, thank you," said Nancy then. "We'll go. The Fairy Queen's wand has been lost for ever and ever so long, and we must hurry up and find it."
The pretend wizard looked up slyly at the effect his parrot was needed on. Little did the Twins think that it was the very thing they were looking for. "Go inside, my dear," said the wizard, and when you see a nice little brown donkey, jump on and ride away." No sooner were their backs turned than Flap-Doodle turned himself into a donkey and trotted to his own front door.

Here she is! Miss America, "the prettiest girl in the U.S.A." Miss Mary Katherine Campbell is her name. She is a 16-year-old Columbus, O., high school girl, and she won the beauty title in the Atlantic City beauty contest. Girls from cities all over the land competed. Miss America is 5 feet 5 inches tall and weighs 133 pounds. She attributes beauty to swimming, riding, dancing and general outdoor exercise.

CRESCENT HILL CLUB PLANS BUSY PROGRAM

The fall and winter activities of the Crescent Hill association, Inc., started off with a bang last evening when President Joseph Terry called to order at 8 o'clock.
The first business to come before the meeting was the joint report of the executive board and the trustees. They reported that three more rooms have been added to the present quarters and they will be used as a reading and committee room, pool room and shower bath. Accompanying the report were rules governing each department. The report was accepted and the recommendations adopted.
The sports committee reported that arrangements have been made for tournaments during the winter months with the Woodbine Society club, Braintree, Pawtucketville Soccer club, Centerville Soccer club and the Ward's Improvement association. A meeting for the purpose of making arrangements for the tournament will be held in the Crescent Hill association rooms on Tuesday evening, Sept. 26.
The sports committee also reported that the baseball team in the Centerville league was playing a good brand of ball. They have won 12 and lost 4 up to date. Arrangements are now under way for the forming of a howling league among the various clubs in the district.
The social committee reported that their activities will start off with a "ladies' night" to be held in the rooms on Friday evening, Sept. 22. The same live wire committee that had charge of these functions last year and made such a grand success of them is in charge again this year, and this, in itself, is a guarantee that the social end of the association will be well taken care of.
Four new members were admitted and seven applications for membership were received and referred to the investigating committee.
Under the head of good and welfare several of the members delivered interesting and instructive remarks, all with a view to making the association a bigger, better and more active body for the benefit of the young men of the Centerville district.

—14 Americans Missing—Turks Move on Constantinople
—British Threaten to Bombard Turks

(By the Associated Press)
Massacres of far-reaching proportions are reported to have occurred at Smyrna, attending the terrible conflagration which has just swept over the city.

The first reports came from Greek sources and estimated the victims as high as 1000 to 2000. Later reports from British eye-witnesses and from Americans arriving at Greek ports tended to confirm the massacres, and gave harrowing accounts of the extent of the devastation wrought.

An English agency despatch declared the British admiral had warned the Turks at Smyrna that if the massacres continued, the Turkish quarters would be bombarded.

A correspondent of Reuters arriving at Malta, said hundreds of bodies of the victims were lying in the streets of Smyrna when he left and that the pillaging and massacring were continuing. The Greeks were not blameless, he declared, as they had aroused the Turks by setting fire to villages during the retreat of the Greek army.

The invasion of the British consulate at Smyrna by the Turks and the murder of an official there also was reported.

A Greek semi-official despatch from Athens quoted an American investigator as estimating the number of victims up to the time of the fire in Smyrna at 1000. The property loss from the conflagration is estimated in the Greek quarters at $75,000,000.

Meanwhile the various European chancelleries are considering measures to deal with the political developments of the Turkish victory, including the calling of a peace conference to settle the near eastern question. It seems probable the Turks will be given a joint allied warning to respect the neutrality of the Constantinople district in the meantime and not march upon that city or invade Thrace.

Fourteen Americans Missing

LONDON, Sept. 15.—It is believed here that the 14 naturalized Americans reported missing in Smyrna are members of the American International college, which comprises the bulk of the American population in Smyrna. They were at the Paradise college compound, three miles from Smyrna, according to a telegram dated Sept. 12.

Several teachers of this college have already fled.

Hundreds of Bodies in Streets

MALTA, Sept. 15.—(By the Associated Press) Hundreds of bodies of victims of the Turkish massacre in Smyrna were lying in the streets of the city when the British hospital ship Maine left there with more than 400 refugees on board, it is stated by Reuters's Smyrna correspondent, who arrived here today on the Maine.

"When I left Smyrna," he said, "the Turks were still pillaging and massacring, and hundreds of bodies were lying in the streets of the city and the outlying districts. Two villages five miles from Smyrna were on fire. The British had withdrawn all patrols and guards, and several British houses had been requisitioned for Turkish officers."

Settlement Happy Augury for Better Era in Transportation

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—(By the Associated Press) The entire New York Central railroad system today signed an agreement with its conductors and trainmen covering working conditions, wages and rules for one year beginning Sept. 30.

The signing of the agreement was announced after a conference between A. H. Smith, president of the New York Central, W. E. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and L. E. Sheppard, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Conductors.

A statement issued by the New York Central said that the direct settlement agreement would provide for the immediate withdrawal of all controversy of matters now pending before the United States labor board.

The road said that it anticipated that forthcoming direct negotiations would result in similar agreements with the engineers, firemen and switchmen on all its lines.

"The New York Central management," said the statement, "feels that today's settlement is a happy augury of a better era in transportation."

It was understood that the settlement provides for a continuation of

Y. W. C. A. PLANS FALL AND WINTER ACTIVITIES

The program of work outlined for the active corps of secretaries and assistants at the Y.W.C.A. is to be an extensive one during the fall and winter season. Miss Anna Baker, general secretary succeeding Miss Frances McNair, has taken charge of the executive offices, prepared to begin the year's work with the best of support. The season really begins, of course, in October. Miss Baker comes from New York, where she spent the past year in research work at the National Training school of the Y.W.C.A. She was at one time general secretary of the Y.W.C.A. at Miami, Ariz.

This afternoon, at 1 o'clock, the Y.W.C.A. directors gave a luncheon at headquarters in honor of the new secretaries, Miss Baker and Miss Lucille Shirley, secretary of girls' work. In October Miss Juanita Fay of Danvers is coming as assistant to Miss Shirley in the girls' work department. Following this afternoon's luncheon, there was a business meeting of the board to arrange a program for extensive fall work.

It was announced today that week-ends will be held this week and next week at Camp Weldmoors, for the girls' work department under Miss Shirley, with Miss Maertens, physical director, assisting. This week about 20 house girls are going, and next week the Lynda club, composed of younger girls in business and industrial life, are going. These meetings are held in the form of rallies, in preparation for the opening of the gymnasium, Oct. 1. At that time Miss Maertens' gym classes will open, and at the Camp Weldmoors week-ends there will be lessons in boating, swimming, baseball, etc.

Miss Lucille Shirley, the new girls' work secretary, comes from Columbia, S. C., where she was five years in the Pacific mills, doing industrial work among girls. Last summer she went to New York to train for girls' work at the National school.

GEN. EDWARDS REVIEWS REGULARS AT DEVENS

AYER, Sept. 15.—Six thousand regular army troops, which have been serving at the Camp Devens training camp during the summer, were reviewed by Major General Clarence B. Edwards today. Army officers said it was probably the final assemblage of the First Corps area regulars in the presence of their commander, who will retire on December 1. General Edwards commended the troops for their work as instructors of the National Guard, the organized reserves and the citizens' military training camp.

The regulars will leave Camp Devens in a few days for their posts in Portland, Me., Boston and Fort Ethan Allen, Vt.

CONSIDER PROGRAM TO LIMIT COAL PRICES

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—Consideration of a program of voluntary action to limit coal prices and effect the most advantageous distribution of fuel supplies, was the purpose of a conference in which nearly half a dozen representatives of business, industry, railroads, public utilities and the government met today at the department of commerce.

Specifically, the conference was to consider measures not only for the restriction of coal movement, but also for the voluntary limiting of coal stocks accumulated by business and industrial consumers as well as for the diversion to general market requirements of coal normally produced only for certain industries.

AMERICANS LEAD BRITISH RIVALS

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., Sept. 15.—Leading their British rivals by seven-teen points in the international series for the British-American cup, Yankee six metre yachts were ready today for the fifth and possibly decisive test. Should the Americans retain or increase their margin today, they will be assured of victory, as even a clean sweep for the British in the final race scheduled Saturday, would not enable them to overcome the lead of the United States. The points: For the four races sailed off here to date are: America 80; Great Britain 63.

PLAYED TIE GAME

The Henry O. Brooks team played a 2 to 3 tie game with the Icemen in a five-inning game Thursday evening on the Lincoln playground. The feature of the game was a home run by Wind of the Brooks' team. Saturday afternoon the Henry O. Brooks team will play the last Lowell Independents on the Lincoln grounds.

UPWARD SWING IN POSTAL SAVINGS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—Postal savings deposits took an upward swing during August, despite heavy withdrawals in mining and railroad centers, according to the announcement by the post office department today.

The largest increase in deposits noted by any office was reported in Boston, where the August increase over July, was $149,178. The second largest increase was in Brooklyn, N. Y. Pawtucket, R. I., was sixth on the list with a gain of $12,203. Other places showing smaller increases during the month were Providence, R. I., Norwood, Mass.; Manchester, N. H.; Willimantic, Conn.; Lynn, Mass., and Fall River.

TWO YOUNG MEN ON 20,000 MILE HIKE

before the millennium and aftermath, were unable to eliminate Lowell from their hike schedules, and marched into the city yesterday after a saunter down from the Green Mountain state and other New England precincts. Merrill S. Gridley and Jim Perigo of Boston are the latest to attempt a 20,000-mile walking tour of the U.S. A., firmly convinced that they are going to visit every state capital from Maine to the Golden Gate before calling it a day. Although the young men were not soldiers in the great war, they went over with the War Camp Community forces. Neither was accepted for the battle line because of injuries received before the struggle, but they remained in France doing excellent service on entertaining the American forces, and were for about seven months in the danger territory outside of St. Nazaire. Gridley has appeared on the Keith circuit, as a singer and pianist. He is minus his left arm. Perigo sings and hits the piano, also, and has a left leg missing.

The young men are armed with a remainder of this week before leaving for Fitchburg. From that city they plan to go to Providence and Hartford, to appear at the Jewel theatre and then south on the country circuit.

LABOR CONFERENCES

Two Meetings Affecting Different Groups of R. R. Workers on Calendar

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—(By the Associated Press)—Two labor conferences affecting different groups of railroad workers, were on the calendar here today.

At noon, W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, and L. E. Sheppard, president of the Order of Railway Conductors, went into conference with A. H. Smith, head of the New York Central lines, and about 40 other railroad officials and labor leaders, to receive the New York Central's answer as to whether it was willing to agree to continuance of present wage scales, working conditions and rules in a new agreement.

Later in the day Mr. Smith and other officials of the New York Central were scheduled to meet federal chairmen representing the systems striking shopmen.

Chicago Plot to Smash Unions

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—(By the Associated Press)—The government yesterday speeded up its case against the striking rail crafts in an effort to complete the evidence in support of Attorney General Daugherty's indictment until by Saturday noon.

While two assistant attorney generals and Blacksten Esterline, assistant to the solicitor general, worked in relays reading additional affidavits of violence during the progress of the strike, the defense announced it would seek to show the railroad executives were in a conspiracy to force a strike in an effort to wreck the unions.

The government has sought to show presumption of conspiracy among the shopmen to carry out acts of violence, attorneys for the defense said. "We will show a strong presumption that certain rail executives were in conspiracy to destroy the unions."

We will show they first sought to bring on a strike and then did everything in their power to prevent peace.

Evidence which the unions could not produce heretofore because it might hurt their peace negotiations with Daniel Willard and other rail presidents can now be brought forward, it was said.

If the government completes its case by Saturday noon, four days will be left for the defense and for final arguments before the expiration of the present restraining order next Thursday night.

Permit was unofficially given the unions yesterday to stage rallies in Chicago and other cities, to raise funds for the relief of families of strikers.

Donald R. Hilberg and Frank Mulhearn, attorneys for J. M. Jewell, and John Scott, president and secretary-treasurer, respectively, of the railway employees' department, American Federation of Labor, raised the question of whether such tag day rallies were legal.

Schooners With Liquor Aboard Seized

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—(By the Associated Press)—The dry navy today captured two alleged rum-running schooners, with cargoes worth about $150,000 and $40,000 in gold aboard, near the entrance to New York harbor, as well as an unnamed launch which sank while it was being towed into port. Another schooner and a swift power boat escaped.

Ford Plants to Close Tomorrow

DETROIT, Sept. 15.—In response to questions concerning conflicting rumors with regard to the closing of the Ford Motor plants tomorrow, E. G. Liebhold, personal secretary to Henry Ford, today issued the following statement: "Mr. Ford's statement of several weeks ago that all plants would close Sept. 16 still stands, I believe; he has made no statement to the contrary, and if he has any new plans, he surely will issue a new statement." The 70,000 employees of the company in the Detroit district, went to work today hoping a last minute statement from Mr. Ford would keep them on the job.

To Admit Hungary to League

GENEVA, Sept. 15.—(By the Associated Press)—The political committee of the League of Nations assembly voted unanimously today to admit Hungary to membership in the league.

O'Duffy Heads Irish Civil Police

BELFAST, Sept. 15.—(By the Associated Press)—General Owen O'Duffy, former chief of staff to Gen. Mulcahy and for a time commander of the Free State operations in Southwest Ireland has been appointed chief commissioner of the Irish Civil police, it was officially announced today. General O'Duffy was formerly liaison officer for the Free State forces in Belfast.

Bootlegging Murder Mystery

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Believing they are facing a bootlegging murder mystery, police today sought to throw some light upon the killing of "Bobby" Reynolds, a former saloonkeeper, whose body was found yesterday, floating in the East River. The body had been placed in a sack and the feet were tied together. Reynolds was shot in the head and stabbed several times in the body. The police believe he may have been engineering a liquor deal when he was killed by robbers.

patrons would violate the restraining order. Judge James H. Wilkeson said he knew nothing in the order which would prevent tag day campaigns and the government's attorneys assured the defense attorneys they had the government's permission to go ahead.

Approximately 200 more affidavits from non-union men and others alleging assault and intimidation during the course of the strike were placed on record today.

Many Roads Reject Plan

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—Refusal by a number of the country's largest railway systems to enter into the Willard-Jewell plan for ending the shopmen's strike on the basis of separate and individual agreements, developed an element of considerable uncertainty today over the scope and effectiveness of the peace program.

While some of the larger systems had flatly rejected the plan, others, however, notably the Chicago and Northwestern and the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul had virtually completed arrangements for restoring the strikers at once to their former GREAT ZEPPELIN FOR U. S.

Maj. Kennedy Sails For Germany to Supervise Its Construction

BELLEVILLE, Ill., Sept. 15.—Major Frank M. Kennedy, who has been stationed at Scottfield, the government's flying field near here since Sept. 25, 1921, departed for Germany today where he will supervise the construction of a great Zeppelin that is to be built by Germany for the United States. It has been proposed to give the Zeppelin that is to be built for the United States army a thorough tryout by flying from Friedrichshafen, Germany, where the monster airship is to be built, to the United States. The airship will be ready for such a flight in about a year.

TO SETTLE MONTREAL PRINTERS' STRIKE

MONTREAL, Sept. 15.—Settlement of the strike of newspaper printers set for tomorrow, so far as the French language newspapers are concerned, was announced by the International Typographical union. The agreement, which assures continued publication of La Presse, La Patrie, and Le Canada, may be followed by an agreement with the Star and the Gazette. Negotiations with both these papers were continuing today.

The Herald has refused to negotiate further, and published today with the aid of non-union printers. The terms of settlement call for a $2 weekly wage increase without change in number of working hours. Under the old scale, typographers on afternoon papers received $38 a week for 43 hours, and those on morning papers received $40 for a 45 hour week. The union had demanded $42 for a 40½ hour week for afternoon paper employees and $46 for 46 hours' work on the morning papers.

REGRET REMOVAL OF EVANGELINE BOOTH

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Expressions of regret at the removal of Commandant Booth's head from the head of the Salvation Army in America, at a date yet to be fixed, today were universal. Miss Booth received notice of her impending removal through a radiogram message from her brother, General Bramwell Booth, supreme head of the organization, with headquarters in London.

"I shall obey the order," she said today, "I have enabled my brother for further information."

The only previous intimation that she was to be recalled from the position was two years ago, Miss Booth said, when her brother told her "you cannot expect to remain at the head of the organization all the rest of your life."

"I have always felt that America claimed my best," she added, "and, ungrudgingly, I gave my best. The one and only regret is that I had not a better host to give."

She has been commander of the organization in America for 15 years.

CLOSING OF CITY TENNIS TOURNAMENT

The city tennis tournament came to a close yesterday afternoon at Shedd park when Bruce Douglas and Walter Conway, finalists in the men's doubles carried off top honors and the championship by defeating their rivals, Carl Marshall and Francis Price in three straight sets by scores of 6-1, 6-2 and 11-9. The scores indicated, the last set was a hummer and was anybody's up to the last minute. Young Conway, who has proved the sensation of the season, is only a 14 year old kid, but plays with the skill and grace of a veteran. It was his superb service work that accounted for the great 11-9 victory in the final round. The games were witnessed by one of the largest galleries of the season and all were kept constantly busy applauding the play of the youthful champion and his more experienced partner, Bruce Douglas. Silver loving cups were awarded the winners.

VALUABLE HEIFER DIES AT FAIR

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sept. 15.—One prize bred heifer is dead and eight pure bred cows and bulls at the Syracuse fair sick with a disease corresponding to influenza among human beings. The cattle affected are valued at between $10,000 and $50,000.

Quarantine measures have been taken to safeguard other stock at the fair worth more than a million dollars. The dead heifer was a valuable Aberdeen Angus owned by Tabor & Son, of Iowa City, Ia. One of the stricken animals is an Ayreshire, valued at $15,000.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaks, just an application of two of Sage and Sulphur restores its appearance a hundredfold. Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost, all ready for use. It is called Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This compound has depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair. Everybody uses "Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous.—Adv.

WILL HOLD FIRST ANNUAL FIELD DAY

The first annual field day of the British-American Brass band will be held at Bunting park tomorrow afternoon, beginning at 2 o'clock. KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

Election of Officers Results in Re-election of Grand Knight John E. Hart

At the annual meeting of Lowell Council 72, Knights of Columbus, held last night, John E. Hart was re-elected grand knight for the ensuing year. Other officers elected for the coming year were: Deputy grand knight, Roger J. Lang; chancellor, James B. Connelley; warden, Frank J. Finnegan; financial secretary, Philip J. Green; recording secretary, Patrick J. Nevin; treasurer, Thomas J. Fitzgerald; advocate, George F. Toye; inside guard, Michael A. Keefe; outside guard, John J. Lane; trustee for three years, Charles J. Landers, P.D.D.; delegate to the state convention, George F. Higgins, P.G.K.; first alternate, William F. Thornton, P.D.D.; second alternate, John H. McNabb, R.G.K.

Mr. Hart has just completed one year as grand knight and has won the support of all the members by his progressive and enterprising leadership. The social calendar carried out by the knights has been under his direction was one of the most enjoyable and entertaining in many years and the members returned him to office in consideration of his faithful work in behalf of the council.

The remarkable vote of confidence recorded Grand Knight Hart is a tribute to his work the past year. In his remarks, expressing his appreciation, he said he felt, with the splendid new building, next year's activities would be conducted on a much more pretentious scale and that he was looking forward to an era of success. Thomas F. Delaney, recording warden, and John F. Golden, rolling trustee, were accorded votes of thanks and the former spoke appreciatively of the honor done him in his twenty years of service as warden.

Preliminary plans were made by the council for the observance of Columbus day on October 12 and arrangements were left in the hands of

IRREGULARS ATTACK
POINTS IN DUBLIN

DUBLIN, Sept. 15.—(By the Associated Press) Forces of irregulars this morning attempted to seize various strategic points in the southern section of Dublin, according to despatches received here. The places attacked included the Wellington and Portobello barracks, the telephone exchange, and the Kingsbridge station of the Great Southern and Western Railway.

The firing was particularly heavy and continued for three hours, coming mainly from snipers stationed on roofs. The guard at the telephone exchange was smoked out, and then assailed by men with bombs and revolvers. The despatches made no mention of the number of casualties.

INCREASE IN DEATHS FROM ALCOHOLISM

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Deaths from alcoholism are increasing here, Dr. Royal S. Copeland, commissioner of health, said today. During the first eight months of this year, there were 169 deaths from alcoholism as compared with 119 during the whole of last year. During the first eight months of this year there were also five deaths from wood alcohol poisoning and five from grain alcohol poisoning.

A committee of ten. The members of the council will parade in a body to St. Peter's church to attend mass on that day as the central feature of the holiday observance. At first it was thought the new home might be ready for dedication on that day but announcement of the dedication date will come later.

The recommendation of the carnival committee was embodied in a vote of the council that a carnival be held in next month on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, October 23, 24 and 25. This affair will be held for the benefit of the new building.

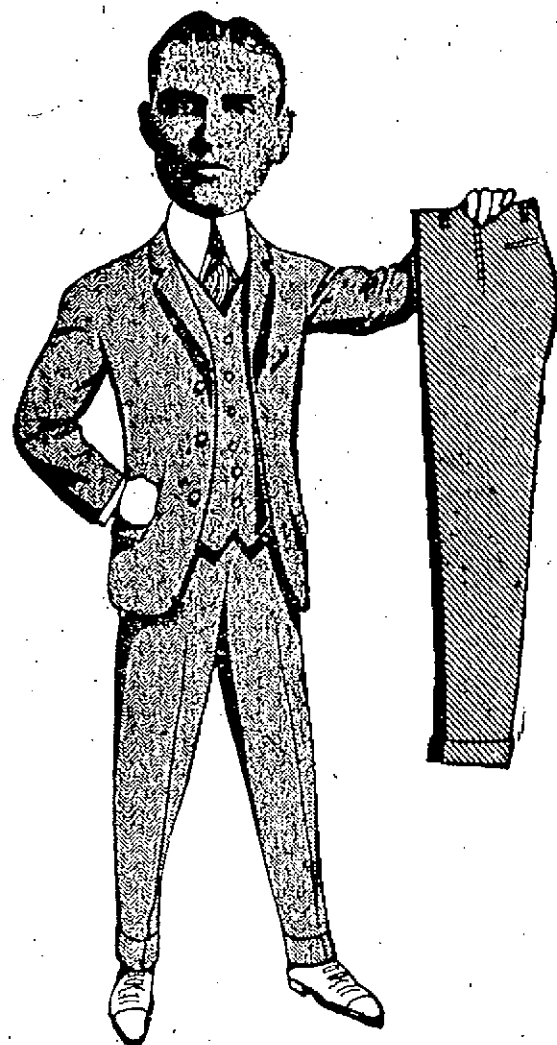

During the meeting Joseph Duffy, the well known athlete, was appointed athletic director of the council and will have charge of the various teams of the council in the future. In connection with this Grand Knight Hart was appointed a member of a state committee of 10 to encourage amateur athletics in the Knights of Columbus, and to promote them in every possible way. In the future the knights intend to crown on professional athletes teams while its council and will not place a team on the field that will accept money for its performance.

John V. Donoghue was reappointed lecturer for another term. During his incumbency Mr. Donoghue and Grand Knight Hart secured the services of such speakers as Hon. David L. Walsh, Edward F. McSweeney, Hon. Charles S. O'Connor, Peter W. Collins and Hon. Wm. H. O'Brien who are so greatly sought throughout the state.

It was announced at last night's meeting that the carnival committee would hold a meeting in the rooms on next Monday night.

The meeting was by far one of the largest in the history of the council and its opening gun of the fall and winter program it was all that could be desired. The election committee in charge was Henry L. Watson, John F. Roane, Arthur J. O'Neil, Edward Callahan, James J. Molloy and John McArdle.

48 All Wool and Worsted Suit Patterns to Choose From

Made to your measure for $24.50

With Extra Trousers of Same Material FREE

48 Suit Patterns with Extra Pants of same material—all-year weight suitings—some of them $35.00 value—are almost sold out—almost but not quite sold out. That is the yardage story of these job ends—the remnants of my last Fall and Spring lines. Everyone of them from high grade goods. But remaining yardage is too small to warrant including in my new Fall line, regardless of value. So, rather than continue to inventory them, I have decided to close them out, regardless of cost, at the amazing price of $24.50—with extra trousers of same material.

The announcement of this sale appeared for the first time last Friday. The response was gratifying. Most of the orders booked were from men who for years have been spending high prices for clothes. Among those of this city who left their measures were men of all walks of life, including the wage earner and salaried man, as well as the big fellow who sits in a swivel chair before a mahogany desk and directs the wheels of some of Lowell's industry.

COLLINS MAKES GOOD
IN SISLER'S PLACE

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 15.—Manager Fohl's infield shift will be abandoned, it was learned today, since Pat Collins, the substitute catcher, showed such impressive ability at first in the absence of George Sisler. MacManus goes back to second base and Foster back to third. Collins yesterday accepted 15 chances perfectly and delivered three timely hits. Sisler's strained shoulder, it became evident today, will keep him out of the first game of the annual series with New York, starting tomorrow.

PRIZES AWARDED

At the second annual outing of the J. L. Chaffoux Mutual Benefit association, held yesterday afternoon at Allard's farm, the following members won prizes: 100-yard dash, Louis Oppenheim, silk shirt; Alvah Johnson, pipe; Wheelbarrow race, Callahan and Johnson; three-legged race, Al Johnson and Soffinick; cuff links, Ray race. Oppenheim and Shea, silk hose. Sack race, Al Johnson. Candy race, Ben Shea, silk hose. Fifty-yard dash for women, Miss Collins, silk hose. Thread and needle race, Miss Marion, bar pin. Fat ladies' race, Miss Killy, Mary Gorden compact. Potato race, Miss Anna Place, collar and cuff set. Throwing contest, Miss Gormley, silk hose. The raffle for $2.50 in gold was won by Mr. Roche. The tennis baseball game was won by Al Johnson's team by the score of 6 to 3, and Miss McCann's women's team defeated Miss Gormley's, 14 to 13.

AMATEUR BASEBALL

According to information received today, the challenge from the Emerald Second to the St. Columbus, which appeared in last night's Sun, was printed without the knowledge of anybody connected with the Emeralds. The Emeralds are out for the 11-12 year-old championship of the city and not the 14-15-year-old championship. The challenge was no doubt sent to The Sun by some team which the Emeralds defeated this season, thinking it would put the Emeralds in wrong. The Emeralds did not issue the challenge.

The Ramblers claim the 15-17-year-old championship of the city, having won the title in the Junior Twilight league from the following field of contenders: Lisbon Juniors, Butler Blues and Butler A.A. A total of 23 games was won by the Ramblers this season. The Trier A.C., one of the few teams to defeat the Ramblers this season, refuse to accept another challenge. The Ramblers are willing to meet all 15-17-year-old teams at the Chamber street playgrounds.

The Maple A.A. and the Wanderers will meet on the South common tomorrow afternoon to determine the amateur championship of the city. "Babe" Lawson, who has lost but one game this season, will pitch for the Maples and "Iron Man" Trash will work for the Wanderers. Riley and Ray Linton will be on the receiving end for the Maples and Wanderers respectively. As this is the only game in the city scheduled for Saturday afternoon, a big crowd is expected. The contest is bound to be hotly contested as a side bet of $100 has been posted. Tommy Hickey will do the calling of strikes and balls by mutual agreement of both managers. The following Maple players are requested to report to Manager "Red" Wallace tomorrow afternoon on the South common at 2 o'clock: Riley, Bradbury, B. Lawson, J. Lawson, McDonald, Souza, Harrington, Klutche, Dickenson, Bagley and Crowley.

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—An arrangement between states which would permit an engineer registered in one state to practice in other states will be broached at a meeting of the Council of State Boards of Engineering Examiners to be held here October 2, according to C. S. Hammett of Jacksonville, Fla., president of the council.

"A tentative plan will be submitted at the meeting," he continued, "whereby the several state boards can make the state laws operative for reciprocal registration without changing them."

South Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia, West Virginia and Wyoming.

With the announcement of the meeting comes a statement from the office here of the American Association of Engineers that the committee on the classification of engineering positions has issued its first report. The committee, headed by A. B. McDonald, educational specialist in the United States war department, is preparing an occupational index of engineering positions in the United States. Its program, according to the statement, includes the sending of questionnaires to at least fifty practicing engineers in each position to be studied, and criticism by members of the profession of preliminary specifications for publication.

A. F. OF L. TAKES STEPS TO IMPEACH DAUGHERTY

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 15.—The executive council of the American Federation of Labor yesterday formally inaugurated plans for impeachment of Atty. Gen. Daugherty and Federal Judge Wilkerson in connection with the Chicago injunction proceedings and for bringing "this unconstitutional conduct of the attorney general and Judge Wilkerson into every congressional election."

In a statement of the council's action, Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, said: "Every possible effort will be made to arouse the people of America to the necessity that government by injunction must stop. Mr. Gompers' statement continued, "and that constitutional government by law must govern. If we are to perpetuate as a government of free people."

Steps already have been taken to begin impeachment proceedings in the house of representatives. It was announced by Matthew Woll, vice president of the A. F. of L.

NO QUORUM AND NO MEETING

Absence of a quorum made it impossible to hold a scheduled meeting of the board of public service yesterday afternoon. At the last moment, Mr. Hovey was called out of town and Mr. Leary was unable to attend. Chairman Dennis J. Murphy conferred for a few minutes with City Engineer Kearney and opened bids on the proposed to furnish and install necessary pipe connections for the air pump at the boulevard water works station.

The Middlesex Machine Co. was the low bidder, $1200. Welch Bros. bid $1325 and Thomas B. O'Day Co. $1340. Chairman Murphy said that, subject to the approval of the other members of the board, the job will be awarded to the lowest bidder.

The board will meet next Wednesday noon at 12 o'clock to take action on bids to be opened on the contract to erect a new bridge in Lundberg street.

NEW AGREEMENT ON THE TARIFF BILL

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—A second agreement on the administration tariff bill was reached last night by the conferees, and it was the hope of majority leaders to have the measure ready for President Harding by the end of this week or early next week.

In accord with the direction of the house, the conferees eliminated the dye embargo licensing provision and the one and one-half cents a pound duty on potash.

In lieu of the embargo, the managers increased the rates on dyes and other chemicals and medicines, the products of coal tar.

For the first two years the duties would be seven cents a pound and 55 percent ad valorem on intermediates and seven cents a pound and 60 percent on the finished products, while after two years they would be seven cents a pound and 40 percent on the intermediates and seven cents a pound and 45 percent on the finished products. In all cases the ad valorem would be based on American valuation.

It is the plan of majority leaders to call the conference report up in the house today. Leaders declared there was no question about adoption of the conference report.

In the senate yesterday Senator Moses, Republican, New Hampshire, pressed a motion from action by Secretary Phillips saying the provision to secure protection of trade marks to persons domiciled in the United States who have registered trade marks in the United States patent office would be in contravention of the convention signed by the United States and most of the European nations in 1922. Mr. Moses expressed the hope that the senate conferees would "not bring in a bill that will make our treaties mere scraps of paper." When the conferees concluded their work, it was stated that the trade mark provision had not been considered.

MANUFACTURERS SUE LYNN UNION MEN

LYNN, Sept. 15.—Lynn shoe manufacturers yesterday filed suit in the supreme court against officers and members of Women's Stitches' Local No. 37, United Shoe Workers of America, claiming that the vamps, by their unauthorized strike since January, have violated stipulation made before the court, stating that there would be no more strikes and lockouts pending settlements.

The vamps persisted in their strike yesterday, despite the advice against a strike submitted by their officers. The striking vamps, 500 in number, declared that they will not return to work until a price list favorable to them has been agreed upon with the manufacturers.

Mayor Harland A. McPeters' adjustment board was working on the wage scale at the time the vamps went on strike.

HENRY FORD'S DRIVER FINED FOR RACING

SPRINGFIELD, Sept. 15.—Michael Hudak, 37, chauffeur for Henry Ford, automobile manufacturer, was arrested yesterday charged with racing in the street and reckless driving. He pleaded not guilty in district court and was fined $20. A similar fine was paid by Joseph Woods of Newark, N. J., who was racing with the chauffeur.

Motorcycle Officer A. E. Clifford, who made the arrests, said the machines were running at a speed of 60 miles an hour.

Hudak said he was on the way from the Maine camp of Henry Ford to New York.

R. I. GOVERNOR WARNS COAL PROFITEERS

PROVIDENCE, Sept. 15.—An extra session of the legislature to enact anti-profiteering laws, if coal prices soar further, was threatened by Gov. Emory D. San Souel in his "Governor's Day" address at Kingston fair yesterday. The governor referred to his appointment of Capt. George H. Webb as fuel administrator as having been made to "avert hardship and suffering."

The governor said if coal dealers are guilty of profiteering, however, he would not hesitate to act against them. He also declared that during the textile strike he had "acted in no uncertain manner."

PULMOTOR FAILS TO SAVE NEW BORN INFANT

BOSTON, Sept. 15.—Firemen from Ladder 15 and Rescue Company 1 worked for more than three hours yesterday at the Commonwealth hospital, Commonwealth Avenue in an effort to save the life of a new-born infant by the use of a pulmator.

Four and a quarter cylinders of oxygen were pumped into the lungs of the infant before Dr. William J. Whitney, the attending physician, announced that the case was hopeless.

This is the first case in history, local medical men believe, in which a powerful pulmator has been used on a new-born infant in an effort to keep life in the tiny body, and is one of the few cases in the records of the Boston fire department in which so large a quantity of oxygen has been used.

It was about 6:30 yesterday morning when officers of the Back Bay police station notified Capt. William Swan of Ladder 15 that a pulmator was required at the Commonwealth hospital. Laddermen Jones and McKenna were sent to the hospital in a police automobile.

Two cylinders of oxygen were taken with them. When they got their machine set up and found they were to work on a baby who would almost fit into a coat pocket they were puzzled, but started to work just the same.

At first Jones and McKenna feared

WARN STYLE DICTATORS

Women's League Wants Specially Designed Clothes for Business Girl

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—With a solemn warning to male designers of feminine fashions that they "sit up and take notice," 500 Nationalities of the Commercial World, members of the Professional and Business Women's League, are preparing to stage a fashion show all their own at the Commerce hotel, September 15-23.

Their purpose, they declare, is to point out to the business fapper the incongruities in her get-up; to bring about a closer affinity between beauty and the working girl, and, most important of all, to impress upon male architects of female fashions the imperative need for a standardized attire for business women only.

The business girl, instinctively trying to keep up with the fashions and at the same time look and feel practically dressed, has been guilty of some innocent atrocities, these fashion show promoters admit.

To date the male designer has confined himself to thinking up novel effects for the frivolous fapper, and delicious debutante, the society matron, globe trotter, dancing girl, beach beauty, tennis devotee, Diana of the East.

That the machine was so strong it would injure the lung tissue of the baby, but the greatest care was used and the pumping apparatus slowed to the minimum speed.

Two cylinders of oxygen were used by these men and all the time the doctors found a spark of life in the little body. As the second cylinder began to empty, a call was sent for help, and the big machine of Rescue 1, under the command of Capt. Daniel Hurley, was sent at break-neck speed from the station on Church street, to the hospital.

With Capt. Hurley were Privates Gramer, Martell, Montgomery, Cronin, Coleman, Casey and Walter. These men relieved Jones and McKenna. They took turns at the machine and used two and one-quarter cylinders, when at the end of two hours and 10 minutes, the doctors pronounced the case hopeless.

The baby was born to Mrs. J. J. Donovan of 43 Winthrop street, Charlestown. No cause could be given by the physicians for the almost lifeless condition of the baby. Mrs. Donovan was in good condition and gained rapidly.

As the crew from rescue were returning to quarters, after dropping Jones and McKenna at their own station, a fire was discovered in a car of paper in the Huntington ave. yards of the Boston & Albany. A still alarm was given to Engine 33 and Ladder 15 and the three companies soon had it extinguished.

Hunt and Lasso of the Niblick" is the way they preambled their declaration of rights.

Torn between her desire to dress as well as any of these, and with no no-credited pattern book to clip, there has been evolved a "Business Flapper" who, they say, doesn't dress the way they do because they enjoy being the butt of humorists and cynics, but simply because they love beauty and want to express it in the only way they can—through their clothes.

"Because beauty which would fit their needs has never been assembled and offered them in concrete form, and because they haven't time or money to spend making beauty fit ideas, many of them have made mistakes," the league continues, "they have not yet learned that there may be both beauty and utility in garments if designs are right."

The desire to uplift anybody or anything is entirely lacking from the purpose of the style show sponsors.

"Nothing is further from our purpose," asserted Mrs. Caroline Radner Lewis, advertising manager for a silk manufacturer, and Mrs. L. M. Russell, a magazine editor, "Business women of the country do not require uplifting; they have done and will continue to do this for themselves."

"The big thought back of our plan is to impress on designers and manufacturers the fact that a group of women who earn millions of dollars a year are worthy of more consideration at the hands of the style-dictators than they have received in the past."

Of course, despite her difficulties, "the American business woman is the best-dressed woman on earth," they maintain. "But the business fapper is not really to be classed as a business woman; but rather one in the making."

MRS. CULLINAN SURPRISED
A very pleasant party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Smith, 103 Washington street Wednesday evening, the event being a surprise to Mrs. P. J. A supper was served and entertainment numbers were given, those participating in the program being Mrs. George McCarthy, Mrs. James Borgan, Mrs. George Underwood, Mrs. James Kilrane and Mrs. William Smith.

Bull's-Eye

Bull's-Eye Bedbug Killer

"This mop-water kills germs but doesn't hurt my skin"

"My skin is sensitive and chaps so easily. That's why I had never used disinfectants in scrubbing around the house. I felt positive that anything strong enough to kill germs would ruin my hands."

"But that was before I heard of Sylpho-Nathol. Mary Adams told me about it. She had used it for a long time. Her hands are soft and pink and pretty."

"I phoned the grocer. He said that he sold lots of it. And, following the simple directions on the bottle, I put a tablespoonful in a pail of warm water. The minute I wrung out the mop in that clean-smelling, pearly gray solution, I knew I had found the right thing."

"I use Sylpho-Nathol every day—in all the scrub water, in the sink pipe, in the cellar, in the garbage pail. Once or twice a week I use it around the bathroom fixtures, and as a flush for the closet bowl. I don't know what I'd do without it—it makes everything so sweet and clean and healthy smelling. And, best of all, it hasn't hurt my hands the tiniest bit—they're just as soft as Mary's."

Sylpho-Nathol is so safe—so effective, so easy to use, so economical. Sylpho-Nathol is 4 1/2 times stronger than Carbolic Acid—yet it is as safe to have in the house as a cake of soap.

The unseen disease germs which live and thrive in even ordinary house dust don't linger where Sylpho-Nathol is used.

The annoying smells which persist in such places as closet bowls, damp cellars and garbage receptacles of the most scrupulously kept homes give place instantly to its faint, clean, friendly odor.

Sylpho-Nathol comes in 15c, 35c, 65c and $1.25 bottles. The complete, easy-to-follow directions are on the bottle.

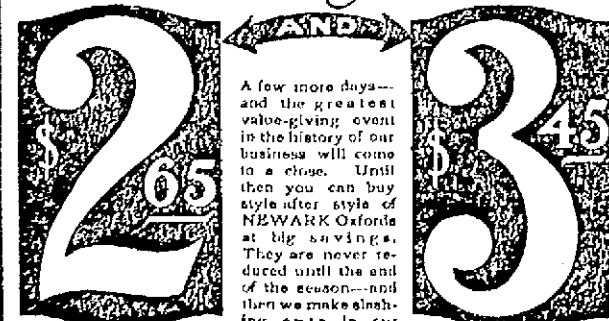

Most good grocers and druggists have it. If yours hasn't, he can get it easily. Just ask for it by name—"Sylpho-Nathol."

Which Way Do You Like To Do Business?

Made to Order

We don't believe any man likes to buy clothes where he has to look sharp—insist—fight for his rights.

You don't like it and neither does any one else.

It's a whole lot easier—safer and pleasanter, too—to buy in a store like this where there are no wrong goods. There's only one kind of dealing here—that's Square Dealing.

Only one kind of merchandise—the thoroughly RIGHT and HONEST kind; only one cash price—and that made remarkably small through big volumes of business and large buying power.

ALL you need look for here is the pattern and style you want. We will take care of everything else and GUARANTEE your complete satisfaction.

TRANSPORTATION COST

Drives Many Industries Out of New England, Says Gov. Brown of N. H.

MANCHESTER, N. H., Sept. 15.—That the cost of railroad transportation was an element that caused the removal of shoe business from New England to the middle west, the loss of iron and steel business in Manchester and that the cotton industry is in danger of going out of New England entirely, were assertions made yesterday by Gov. Brown at a hearing in city hall on the subject of the consolidation of the New England railroads.

named by the governor convened for its first sectional hearing on the railroad topic. Lester F. Thurber of Nashua is chairman of the commission.

Gov. Brown shared with A. B. Jencks, sales manager of the F. M. Hoyt Shoe company, in dispensing valuable information, both going into the subject exhaustively. Gordon Woodbury of Bedford and all members of the commission also dwell on various phases of the railroad question.

Mr. Jencks said: "I believe that the New England roads can be grouped as a unit and that the financial problems can be solved and the control of the system remain in New England hands if the plan of G. L. Crocker, a member of the joint commission and chairman of the governor's Rhode Island commission, is set up."

KILLS WIFE, HER MOTHER, THEN ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

BANGOR, Me., Sept. 15.—Adelbert W. Wilson, aged 34, produce dealer, farmer and general storekeeper at Higginsville, in Kenduskeag, about 10 miles north of Bangor, shot and killed his wife, Nellie, aged 32, and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Lottie Darling, late yesterday afternoon and then shot himself, inflicting a wound which it is believed will be fatal.

LLOYD GEORGE INVITED TO LEGION MEETING

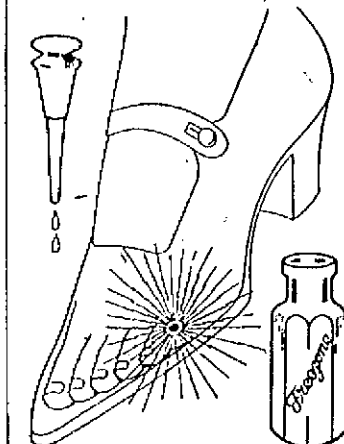

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Premier Lloyd George of Great Britain has been invited to attend the fourth national convention of the American Legion, to be held in New Orleans, beginning Oct. 16, R. E. Condon, secretary of the committee on arrangements, announced yesterday.

O. M. I. NOVITIATE AT HUDSON, N. H.

There are ten students at the O.M.I. novitiate at Hudson, N. H., and it is expected that as soon as the improvements, which are being made to the buildings are completed, this number will be doubled. The novitiate is under the direction of the French-speaking Superior of the North American province and its superior is Rev. Fr. Pelletier, O.M.I., formerly of this city.

CORN

Lift Off with Fingers

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little "Freezone" on an aching corn. Instantly that corn stops hurting, then shortly you lift it right off with fingers. Truly! Your druggist sells a tiny bottle of "Freezone" for a few cents, sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the calluses, without soreness or irritation. —Adv.

N. H. MILL AGREES ON 48-HOUR WEEK

EXETER, N. H., Sept. 15.—The Exeter Manufacturing company will resume operations Sept. 18 on a 48-hour week basis and at wages in effect previous to the reductions announced on Feb. 13. Mill officials announced yesterday. This affects 300 workers.

The Exeter company is the first of the textile mills in New Hampshire affected by the strike to accept the 48-hour week.

GIRLS' CLUB PLANS WINTER ACTIVITIES

With the closing of the summer camp, the winter season for the Girls' City club has started. The program committee has not met formally yet, but the activities planned by various groups will keep the club active during September.

The popular weekly dances will begin tomorrow. New invitations for gentlemen guests have been printed and the demand for them has been so great that there is a possibility that the number will have to be limited this winter.

The club tennis championship will open tonight at Shepley park with Dorothy Bonbright, Laura Edmunds, Rosella Ilonan, Irene Adams, Katherine Mulligan, Florence Price, Della Garty and Anna Mahoney as contestants.

A hike and Wiener roast are scheduled for Sunday, Sept. 24, with a week-end party at Rockport, Mass., the following week. An informal gentlemen's night will be held later in the month.

Charm of Motherhood

THERE are many homes once childless that now are blessed with healthy, happy children, because Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored the mother to a healthy, normal physical condition.

The following letters give the experience of two young women and prove the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in such cases.

Park Rapids, Minn.—"I have taken your medicine—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—when I was a girl for pains, and before and after my marriage. I now have a sweet little baby boy, and will send you his picture. My sisters also take your medicine and find it a great help, and I recommend it to those who suffer before their babies are born."—Mrs. WM. JOHNSON, Box 155, Park Rapids, Minn.

Kutztown, Pa.—"I wish every woman who wants children would try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It has done so much for me. My baby is almost a year old now and is the picture of health. She can walk at eleven months and is trying to use her little tongue. She can say some words real nice. I am sending you her picture. I shall be thankful as long as I live that I found such a wonderful medicine for my troubles."—Mrs. CHARLES A. MERTZ, Kutztown, Pa.

Cannot Find Wife's Body in Cemetery

TRENTON, N. J., Sept. 15.—Sebastine Regina has filed suit in the supreme court for $10,000 damages from the Greenwood Cemetery association on grounds that the body of his wife, buried in a lot in the organization's cemetery a year ago, cannot be found. Regina, who had bought a new lot and sought to remove his wife's body, stated in his suit that he found the body of a man in the grave where his wife was buried and that her body was missing.

Workers Draw First Pay Since Strike

LAWRENCE, Sept. 15.—The old wage scale, which prevailed previous to the strike, has been restored at the Pacific mills. Employees learned this when they received their first pay envelopes today. It had been announced that the old scale would be restored Oct. 1, and that it would be retroactive to Sept. 5. Officials of the mill, however, decided to restore the old wage in full at this time.

GIRLS! WHITEN SKIN WITH LEMON JUICE

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, which any drug store will supply for a few cents, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of harmless and delightful lemon bleach. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day, then shortly note the beauty and whiteness of your skin.

Famous stage beauties use this lemon lotion to bleach and bring that soft, clear, rosy-white complexion, also as a freckle, sunburn and tan bleach because it doesn't irritate.—Adv.

LOWELL DISTRICT COURT

George Strobolakos is Held For the Superior Court—Other Cases

A finding of probable cause was made by the court this morning in the case of George Strobolakos, who was charged with securing women for the purpose of prostitution. He was held in $300 bonds for the superior court. Frances Davis and Emily Matsos, two young girls who were arrested in connection with this case and charged with improper conduct, were both found guilty and given suspended sentences to the house of correction.

PRIZE AWARDS IN ESSAY CONTEST

"How Good Roads Are Developing My Community" was the subject of a Lowell high school girl's essay that was awarded first position in the list of Massachusetts contestants in a national-wide contest for a four-year university scholarship. The winner, who is to represent Massachusetts in the final selection of the single prize award, and who is believed to stand an excellent chance of winning the coveted "best state contestant" choice of the final judges, is Miss Marion Melaney of Lowell, whose capture of the Bay State honors was announced in The Sun a few weeks ago.

Names of and judges have just been announced by the national highway education board in Washington, appointed to award the four-year university scholarship offered in connection with the national good roads essay contest in which Miss Melaney was a state winner. The judges in the final selection are Hon. Henry C. Wallace, secretary of agriculture, George Horner Lorimer, editor of the Saturday Evening Post, and Dr. John Grier Hibben, president of Princeton University. The judges have accepted responsibility for the award of the scholarship at the invitation of Dr. John J. Tigert, United States commissioner of education, who is chairman of the board.

They have been supplied with verbatim copies of the 34 essays, including Miss Melaney's. The 34 selections represent each state as well as the District of Columbia, the Canal Zone, the Philippines, Porto Rico, Hawaii and Alaska.

Selection of the best state essays was made by leading educational institutions, such as a state university of the state department of education.

In the contest entered by Miss Melaney, there were 250,000 pupils of high school grade participating, and the 34 winners, including Miss Melaney of course, therefore represent the "cream" of all contestants. The essays were " sifted " until the state winners were found; now comes the final "sifting" to choose the best paper, and friends of Miss Melaney believe that she stands an excellent chance of winning the national honors.

The highway scholarship, as it has been called, is given by H. S. Firestone, Akron, O., who is a member of the national highway education board. It is intended to defray tuition and all reasonable expenses of the prize-winning student in college and is valued at not less than $4000. The successful student, to be selected by the judges probably this week, may attend any college or university in the United States.

The other winners of first awards in the New England states and who are competing now with Miss Melaney in the state contest for first prize, have just been announced by the selection board. They are Lowell Palmer, of Dexter, Me.; Miss Helen Stevens, of New York; Miss Dorothy G. Baxter, of Johnston, N. H.; Miss Lloyd Camp, of Winsted, Conn.; Miss Caroline G. Gaynor, of Providence, R. I.

Nature Loves Bright Colors

We see the truth of this statement in the varicolored flowers, the vivid sunsets, the birds of brilliant plumage. But we never see it exemplified more attractively than in the person of a splendidly healthy woman. How does nature paint this health? Why, in the rosy cheeks, the transparent skin, the smooth red lips of such a woman. And she molds it in firm flesh and rounded contours. The ailing woman is deficient in natural coloring, and she does not even appear to advantage in clothes that would set off her more attractive sister. Many women who long for glowing health will find that they, too, can have these charms if they will give a trial to that remedy which brings strength to frail women—Lysol's Pinkish Veg-etable Compound.—Adv.

SQUIRREL ELECTROCUTED

Marlboro and Eight Towns Shut Off From Electric Power

MARLBORO, Sept. 15.—This city and eight towns were shut off from electric power when a gray squirrel, running over a high voltage wire, was electrocuted, causing a short circuit. Plants in Marlboro, Southboro, Northboro and Westboro were shut down for three hours. One thousand employees were affected.

The dead animal and the broken wire, severed by the flash that was caused by the short circuit, were found by the crew which went out to locate the break.

CHARLES ANGLAR has been living in the same house with his wife and seven children since last February and it was alleged in court today that in all that time he had never contributed toward the support of the house. When the court heard the story he found him guilty and sentenced him to six months in the house of correction. He suspended the sentence for one year on the condition that the man turn over his whole pay to the probation officer every week.

Rene Bergeron was handed a suspended sentence to the house of correction for non-support of his wife and minor children which was suspended on the proviso that he turn over his pay to the probation officer every week.

With over $2000 in the bank and $23 waiting for him at the desk Patrick O'Connor was fined $10 when he was found guilty of drunkenness. He told the court that he drew $50 a few days ago and started on the party which ended in his arrest. Volney Evans of Boston was found guilty of operating a machine while under the influence of liquor and was fined $50. He was given until Sept. 19 to pay the fine. A charge of drunkenness against him was placed on file.

Thomas J. Clark and Wilfrid Potvin, two young men who were arrested the first of the week in connection with the alleged felonious assault on a young girl in Belvidere were again held over to Sept. 22 for disposition. Bonds were set at $1000.

Joseph Belanger was held over to Sept. 14 for disposition of his case in which he was charged with drunkenness and operating a machine while under the influence of liquor. Meyer R. Rittenburg, charged with operating a machine so as to endanger lives and property was continued to Sept. 21 for trial.

KRONE DROPS 20 PER CENT

BUDAPEST, Sept. 15.—Financial circles are dismayed at a fresh 20 per cent drop in the krone on the international exchange market. It is suspected the depreciation has connection with the recent allegations that the Hungarian government was involved in a plot against Rumantia.

TOP COATS

They are much higher in other stores as you will realize after you have seen them—of a soft gray mixture, rough finish like imported coatings—and folks seem to like them better than anything else so far this season. They are really distinctive in appearance and a sturdy all-year-round coat. They are nicely tailored and lined through the shoulders.

SECOND FLOOR

These're just the kind of dresses needed for the first crisp days—these in-between days when the summer dresses don't seem to "fit" and silk dresses are a bit too thin. These attractive dresses, of navy blue for the most part, in tricotines and twills—need only a little neckpiece of fur—a smart hat and gloves—and you are well dressed and ready for any occasion. They are all nicely tailored, the lines are straight, many are braided, others embroidered, some show the new circular skirt—others are panelled. Business and professional women cannot do without them, folks of leisure like them for afternoon wear and shopping—and so that means that all women want them, and these prices are very low.

JOHN SOUSA'S FRIENDLINESS TO YOUNG ASPIRANTS

From the days of the Marine Band, John Philip Sousa, who is coming to Lowell next Tuesday, has been a firm believer in the value of the young aspirant. He is often asked by the economists of the amusement field why he goes to the extra expense and labor of having a young musician in his band. His answer is that of the true musician.

"Where is the young player to get his chance?" asks Sousa, in reply to the oft-asked question. "For a number of years in my youth I sat in the ranks in the orchestra of a theatre in Philadelphia. I didn't get much pay, but I gave lessons on the violin in my spare time to make out my income. I decided to get married; I needed money to buy other instruments, so that I might master them all. But my mood was such that all other considerations were swept aside when I got a chance, and again, to play a small solo or bit of obbligato. Those opportunities gave me the direct appeal to the public, and the response of an audience. My efforts gave me the confidence which every musician must have if he is to be a successful soloist. The March King, in arranging music for his band, invariably takes into account special opportunities for each group of instruments, so that every man in the band in the course of any Sousa concert gets his chance to do something individual in a musical way. Even if the special opportunity be not one which catches the ear of the musician."

Some of the most famous musicians the United States look their schooling with Sousa and his band. There is the late Maude Powell, the violinist, who died in 1919, lamented by what is perhaps the largest permanent clientele ever possessed by a violinist in this country. When, new from her years of study in Germany, she came to this country, she was engaged by Sousa as a soloist with his band. After three tours under him set forth on her brilliant career as a soloist. She never forgot to explain to the people that she owed all the attributes that made her a successful violinist to the seasons she spent with Sousa on tour. "I," she would add, "the only woman in an orchestra of 70."

Estelle Liebling, the soprano and a well-known and well-liked figure in radio and concert, also was a "Sousa girl," making her first concert appearance under the March King, and touring with him and his band. For many years the symphony orchestra of the United States have kept their eyes and ears on the Sousa organization on the lookout for "on the list" players on this or that instrument who could profitably be drafted. "I never stand in the way of a player's leaving me," said Sousa. "Indeed, I offer made to one of my men is high compliment to me and to my organization. If this flutist or that oboist or such-and-such an oboe-

AMUSEMENT NOTES

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

One can't mistake Grace Hayes at all—she is an artiste every minute of the time on the stage at the B. F. Keith theatre, this week. The fact is, Miss Hayes who had been a student of music and drama decided she could capitalize and dramatize her gifts. She broke into vaudeville and is a headliner in a very short time. Her success was immediate, and she has created a most favorable impression with her work. The remainder of the bill holds "Good Medicine," a very snappy comedy by Smith and Barker; Eddie Weber and Marion Bidnor, in a dancing skit; Jones and Jones, blackface comedians; W. D. Pollard, the comic juggler; Zenater and Smith, triple horizontal bar performers, and the Autumn Three.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Merrimack Square theatre. Lila Lee and Nita Naldi support him.

THE STRAND

Zane Grey's wonderful story, "Wildfire," which has been adapted for the screen, and presented under the title, "When Romance Rides," is one of the features for the last three days of the week. Need we say more than mention the title and the author's name? "The Dust Flower" is the other feature, and this is a Basil King production in which Helene Chadwick is starred. Besides having a universal appeal, it has wonderful scenic effects and a commendable photograph. It's a different sort of picture, and you'll like it.

First Annual Outing By Lowell Ad Club is Big Success

Authentic dictionaries appropriately define the word "follicle" as the sportive scene of merriment and gaiety; and Willow Dale, by the presence of over 250 members, friends and guests of the Lowell Ad club, emphatically demonstrated that definition yesterday afternoon when they assembled at the romantic resort and transformed its otherwise serene composure into a carnival of laugh-provoking activity. The number of mirth-provoking stunts was actually amazing and gave the gathering a zest of original fun that has rarely been equaled at any outing of the kind in this vicinity. From the start with the polo game by players dressed as kitchen maids, till the close of the dinner in the evening, the program presented continuous fun for everybody. It should be said, too, that the entire program was run off with promptness and precision that indicated careful attention to detail by the committee in charge.

The Sports Following an automobile parade through the business streets of Lowell, the party arrived at its destination on the beautiful Willow Dale shores of Lake Massachusett, and after partaking of a light but satisfying luncheon, the old historic pavilion was invaded on all sides by anxious and interested spectators, to witness the first event on the program, an exhibition polo game. The contestants displayed speed and skill galore as they started up and down the slippery floor to quest of the elusive ball, and while many a toss was taken betwixt and between the rival goals, enthusiasm ran high. The final score was 26 to 0 in favor of the team captained by "Charlie" Keyes of his efforts, Miss Alice G. Nickles won the female winner and received a $5 gold piece.

The Sun, and composed of the following players: Frank McPhoe, "Stack" Stackpole and E. Walter Gallagher. While the onlookers were still talking of the expert poloists, "Ed" Cooney's familiar voice was heard above the din announcing that Madame Lalapooza, the famed fortune teller and palmist, who had appeared before many of the crowned heads of Europe and all the sap heads of America, was waiting in a tented enclosure for those who wished to know their past, present and future. Several of the frolics were seen to slyly creep away from the gathering, supposedly unobserved, to the throne of the famed madama, where, it is said, the past, present and future were revealed to all comers.

The kluckerkickered committeemen worked energetically and refused to allow dull moments to interfere with the program, so while "Charlie" Keyes was busy spinning some kind of a wheel and dispensing prize boxes at chocolate, Henry Mulcahy and others of his clan were assembling the contestants for the try-and-get-it race, which proved amusing to the nth degree. Five ladies and five men were entered but only one of each sex finished. Each contestant was given the end of a string and instructed to try and find the other end. Like the proverbial needle in the haystack, the contestants, with string in hand, proceeded this way and that, around trees and shrubberies, through wet spots and dry. "Dave" Donaldson courageously accepted the side of the howling allies building and eventually came to the distant end of his string. "Dave," therefore, won the contest and was awarded a gold Eveready pencil for his efforts. Miss Alice G. Nickles won rolled the apple into its resting place in the least number of shots and won a silk shirt, the gift of the Chalfoux company. Miss Grace Burns took her stick in hand and defeated several rivals for the championship of the ladies' class, for which she claimed title to the silk stocking-prize donated by Tryon.

Believing that an outing would be incomplete without a group picture, the gathering was called to order and assembled on the steps of the pavilion while Photographer George Russell told all to watch the birds for the trying ordeal. As George was about to snap the picture, Henry Mulcahy and "Tom" Atkinson unceremoniously stampeded the audience, by entering the scene about two ancient mules loaned by the Leon Mullen's stables. Henry's "pinto" refused to obey his master's bidding and went on a A.W.O.L., while the veteran reinsman pleaded in vain for the animal to become serious and the crowd to cease their haw-haws. Not to be outdone in feats of daring and adventure, Paul Doherty joined the equesians attempting to ride both animals at the same time, but when they pulled apart his elasticity was severely tested. Intent on having the worthy steeds in the picture, the riders gave an illustration of their "speed," turning it from one extremely fast record to the other in the fastest time ever recorded on a stopwatch, which stopped before the actual elapse could be reckoned. Suffice it to say, the four, or rather the two, mules appeared in the photo. The three-legged race with men and women partners was productive of much mirth. Paul Doherty and Alice Nickles beat the gun and whirlwind down the stretch only to meet disaster when they were upset and rolled in the mud. Tom Atkinson and Madeline Tierney skillfully eluded all danger spots and rounded home victorious with Joe Dinneen and May Thistle not far behind. The winners were given a Dobbs felt hat and gold fountain pen.

In the cracker and whistle race, each entry was obliged to eat four crackers, run to a designated spot and whistle. Henry was caught but two were chosen, Roderick Ricard, first, and Herbert Colby second. The former received a French briar pipe and the latter a silk necktie.

It required a lot of mouth for Harry Priestley to win the clothes pin race, but he did it successfully and won a pair of gold cuff links, his nearest rival being Edgar Lambert who is entitled to a 2 1/2 pound bag of flour, which should make much better eats than clothes pins. The contestants nearly bit one another's noses trying to get the last pin off the line. Newspapers were given several black eyes and trodden to earth in the newspaper race.

In the pillow fight, "E. Walter" Gallagher proved his mastery over a large field of opponents when he found a surrender from the pods of supremacy after pillowings with Mulcahy, Paul Doherty, "Mike" Quinn, Tom Atkinson and Henry Turcotte. The lower regions, Walter received Department. Simple subtraction leaves a net deficit of $158,659.53.

Street Maintenance Hard Hit

Based upon the figures contained in the statement, it would seem as if the street maintenance appropriation is in the most depleted condition. It bids fair to have a deficit at the end of the year amounting to $124,225.58. This department's appropriation and credits make a total of $354,239.14. For the first eight months of the year its expenditures totaled $313,375.51, leaving a balance of $40,863.63. The balance is $5000 less than the monthly expenditure for the first two-thirds of the year. Its expenses monthly have averaged $39,922.31. If September follows in the footsteps of January, February, March, April, etc., down through August, the appropriation will be gone before the first of October.

Schools Will Need More Money

The school department is another that shows a deficit on the face of its returns, amounting to approximately $100,000. Monthly expenditures in this department have totaled $38,310.8 and of the original appropriation plus credits, of $1,120,623.58, there remains only $322,357.44, or enough to carry the department along for the months of September, October and November. December looks like a lean month, although the schools must operate and money will have to be forthcoming from one source or another.

Approximate deficits of $19,735 in the Chelmsford Street hospital appropriation, $3000 for the Isolation hospital, $3000 in the police department and $2100 in the workhouse compensation are other large amounts on the wrong side of the ledger.

The greater part of the excess is taken up by interest, which shows $6,559.45 to the good. The fire department also would seem to be going along the right road, with $13,713 of safety margin, but it is probable that so much sum will be turned back into the general treasury at the end of the year.

Mayor Sees No Cause For Alarm

While the budget and audit commission feels that the condition is a most serious one, Mayor George H. Brown's most optimistic and today that transfers, here and there, would bring the city out properly before January. He said he will send a letter to the commission, stating he sees no cause for alarm or for immediate remedial action.

The budget and audit commission admits that it is impossible to be absolutely accurate as to future expenditures in departments, but feels that the statement of standing will serve as a warning, at least, and will give good reason for taking action if the necessity exists in the mind of the mayor.

old cigarette case as a token, together with a shower of bean bags for emphasis.

To the soothing strains of a large phonograph, with Magnavox attached, the obstacle race for girls got under way. About a dozen of the fair sex consented to be blindfolded after gazing sorrowfully at obstructions of every conceivable nature in the course of the journey to be covered. While still in a state of oblivion, committee-men removed the obstacles and the race was on. Madeline Nerney must have been peeping for she dashed to the finish line in a Charlie Paddock and won a half-dozen Victrola records and bouquets. Olga Woganda came second and received 45 worth of records from Prince-Walters.

The Ball Game

The call of the national pastime resounded above the din and the "Canadian Clubs," captained by Paul Doherty, and the "Johnny Walkers" under "Jack" Walsh took ball and glove to the adjoining lot where was situated the field of battle. The game was scheduled for three innings, but at the end of that period both teams were on even terms. "Charlie" Keyes hitting good ball for the "Clubs" and "Ted" Dooley for the "Johnnies." With the score six all, Keyes came to bat with a man on base and walked to the sphere somewhere in the outfield, scoring the winning run. Nobody looked for the ball. Hon. James B. Casey umpired and showed that as an arbiter he is a wonderful maker of combats. George Wally, acting as score-keeper and Ed Conroy wiped the sweat off the bats. The following players took part in the game: Canadian Clubs—"Connie" Connelly, Paul Doherty, Charlie Keyes, Frank McNeely, Ed Gallagher, George Wood, Tom Atkinson, Henry Nienchy and Maurice Lambert. Johnny Walkers—"Campbell," Ed Dooley, Frank Finnegan, Arthur Stackpole, Lewis Balfe, Joe Foley, Joe Dinneen, Jack Walsh and A. R. Zurluh.

HORSE RACING COMING BACK IN RUSSIA

MOSCOW, Sept. 15—Horse racing in Russia, nearly as popular in the old days as tea drinking, is slowly coming back.

There are so many race followers in Russia that even during the world war it went on about as usual. Not until the revolution came, when the country was almost turned inside out, was racing forced to close down. Four years ago, when racing was actually given up, millions of persons thought it meant the end of everything.

But this summer harness racing began again in Petersburg, Moscow and various other cities. Now Russia, or at least the racing fans, are beginning to feel that after all the world has started to race itself again.

The government conducts the sport; the pari-mutuel system of betting; the concessions at the tracks; and everything in general, and the army helps to keep things going in orderly fashion. Soldiers see to it that no one gets in free, and that there are no small bets, nor men betting through the fences. A soldier band furnishes music between races, when the crowd gambles to place its rubles on its favorite horse. The racing in Moscow goes on three days a week. The track is just at the edge of town, near many fine old residences, now the government houses with a thin stone pine protruding from every other window.

All the profits, as the government announced at the beginning, go toward a fund for the relief of sufferers in the famine districts. The races are under the direct charge of the Soviet national department of general affairs. Drussiloff is the chief. General Drussiloff is as well known in Russia for his interest in clean sports as he was as a fighting man.

Individual horse owners participate in the various events, but the majority of the trotters are owned by the government. Many of the horses were bred by American stallions.

If Russia has her troubles, they are not in evidence at the racetracks. There are more smiling faces and laughter at the races than any other place in Moscow.

The track itself is as good as ever, but the block-long grandstand is all run down at the heels, like so much of Russia. It has not been painted in seven or eight years, and many of the fixtures have been torn away, for fire wood, perhaps, in winter.

But the crowd is the thing, and there are nearly as many women as men. The latter in general appearance are healthy and well-fed, and here and there a fat man bobs about in the excitement of winning or losing a bet. Many of them wear straw hats and pongee suits, naturally yellow, but more yellow than ever now with wear and age. Ordinary trousers and the white linen Russian blouses are the popular dress for the men, as they are cool and cheap.

The women as a rule are fairly well-dressed as fashions go today in Russia, but none are fat—only a few are even plump. Their dresses are of good material, in most instances pre-war stuff, altered and made over time and again during the years of stress until, if inspected closely, one may see the sewing marks and shadows of the cuts of the previous arrangements.

The millinery has a suggestion of smartness at a distance. There are still some Parisian styles in Moscow, copied from the books on modes. Many of the women wear diamonds and other jewelry, and sit in boxes quite proudly, indeed, with their "tope" books and glasses, smoking the long paper-stemmed cigarette, and visiting and gossiping, even as they did in the days "before" when there was nothing in particular to worry about.

With the aid of the light summer evenings up here in the north the races, which are made up of 15 or 20 events, begin at 4 or 5 o'clock, and often it is nearly 8 before the last contest has been run off. Then the crowd breaks for the exits, dashes through the babble of beggars, and starts toward the city of golden-domed churches in automobiles, by auto bus, ramway, droshky and by foot, just as the people did in the days of old when Russia was in her prime.

WOMEN GAMBLERS PLY TRADE ON LINERS

NEW YORK, Sept. 15—Women are replacing men gamblers aboard ocean liners.

"Little Eddie" Mallon, the watchdog of the piers, whose job it is to "spot" sea-going gamblers, is authority for the statement. He says the men claim they are going straight because they have found that travelers are too careful and ship's officers too watchful.

Most of the gamblers, says Mallon, came to that conclusion just about the time a White Star captain sent a well-known gambler to the detention hospital aboard his ship following a spirited little party in the smoking room, when fists were brought into action.

But where men have dropped cards and dice, women have taken them up. The women are known to Eddie and to other detectives who help him watch the piers, but the problem is to catch them.

Who is doing your dental work? How much are you paying for it?

A school teacher recently showed me a gold crown in her mouth for which she had paid $25. We could have given her the very same thing, same gold, workman-ship exactly as good, for $8. This is but one out of thousands of cases where people are paying from two to three times as much as they need to for their dental work.

We DO give you the best work. We DO use the best materials. We DO stand back of our work. We have been here for 15 years satisfying thousands of your towns-people, and we want you to take advantage of this opportunity to have

One big liner recently came into port and Eddie, as usual, met it at Quarantine. He lost himself as soon as he was aboard. But by the time the liner had reached the pier, he "popped" into flow, sore and disgusted, with disappointment easy to be read in his face. "I lost 'the Dutchess' again," he grumbled.

His story was brief. He had received a wireless tip that there was a woman aboard, aristocratic and cultured; that she had been very sweet to several of the men passengers; that she had reluctantly consented to play bridge practically every night at sea; that she had collected rather heavily at the end of each sitting.

"I talked to about five men about her," continued Eddie, "and not one would complain. She was a woman, they said, and they were not willing to accuse a woman of cheating at cards. So I had to let 'the Dutchess' come ashore and she has just passed her baggage. She will probably be back on the French line next week, laughing at me."

"That's the big trouble now. We could beat the men at the game, but now men passengers who have lost either won't admit a woman could outwit them, or else they won't complain. The women are getting away with it simply because they are women."

CO-OPERATIVE ARTIST COURSE PLANNED

CHICAGO, Sept. 15—The Chicago Chamber Opera company has been formed on the co-operative artists plan to produce six American operas this winter. Mrs. Archibald Freer, its chairman, a society woman, has announced. "This is the first play of the kind ever to be launched," said Mrs. Freer. "Each opera will be a genuine American production, and will be heard twice. Miss Rachel Kinsolving is manager of the company."

Mrs. Freer said the new company was an outgrowth of efforts to promote opera in English and to encourage American musicians and composers, as advocated by the Opera in Our Language Foundation and by the David Blapham Memorial fund. Mrs. Freer is national chairman of both foundations as well as chairman of the Chicago company. Mrs. Edith Rockefeller Mc-

Cormick is vice-chairman of the national organization. "The response which our work is receiving," said Mrs. Freer, "is indicated by a resolution which the General Federation of Women's Clubs passed at its convention at Chautauque, N. Y., last June, a copy of which has been sent to me by the national chairman of music of the federation, Mrs. Marx Obendorfer."

The resolution follows: "There has been for many years the need for a truly American plan to promote public interest in the American singer and composer, thus establishing an American school of opera and national opera houses where genuine American opera shall be produced in our language."

"That the General Federation of Women's Clubs pledges its interest in furthering the plan of the organizations now working toward this end."

By N.E.A. Service

DATTON, O., Sept. 11.—If gasoline placed in space formerly occupied by eight passengers holds out and with good flying luck, Lieut. Oakley G. Kelly and E. W. Dickman expect to accomplish what has hitherto baffled aviators—a non-stop flight from New York to San Francisco. They will use a Fokker transport monoplane. The "hop off" is scheduled for some time this month.

The plane is equipped with one 400-horsepower Liberty motor and has a fuel supply of 725 gallons of gasoline. It has a speed of 100 miles an hour and a wing spread of 75 feet.

"POP" GEERS HONORED
Called Into Judges' Stand for
First Time in 47 Years—
Presented Loving Cup

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 15.—E. P. "Pop" Geers today had added another trophy to his collection, but in acquiring it, the 71-year-old rethman broke a record of 47 years' standing on the turf by being called into the judges' stand.

Driving Maddy Guy, day daughter of Guy Axtell, "Pop" Geers won the Governor's cup event, a three-year-old trotting stake with a value of $1000. Governor Edwin P. Morrow then called Geers into the stand to present the silver loving cup donated by the fair association.

"This is the first time I was ever called into the judges' stand in my 47 years on the turf," the old master said, "but it certainly is a happy occasion."

LOWELL-LAWRENCE
INTER-CITY SERIES

Weather permitting, the long delayed series between the Lowell Knights and Lawrence K. C. will be resumed tomorrow afternoon in the downtown city. Through inclement weather and various difficulties over the acquisition of a suitable playing field this series has been held up for a week or more but no further obstacles loom on the horizon and tomorrow is the day set for the second battle at O'Sullivan park.

With a win tomorrow for the Knights the series will be over as they have already won one game from the Lawrence team, but the Knights say that they will turn the tables tomorrow, either losing, who licked the Knights.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—The New York Giants have recalled pitcher, centerfielder, from the Toledo club of the American association. It was announced today.

Several Lowell horses are being shipped in for entrance in three of the track races at the Groton Agricultural fair, Sept. 22 and 23. The Groton course is a half-mile, with an improved footing this year. Arrangements have been completed for better and more adequate stable arrangements, and Lowell entries are sure of getting better treatment from the fair management than ever before.

At least four local speculators will make the Groton races in several classes. L. E. Fletcher is also to be there with Hard Metal and other fine ones. Notwithstanding Hard Metal's disastrous showing in several northern track meets this month, L. E. has been the favorite horse-follower that once chased up at Golden Cove.

Herbert A. Rugg has been billing several track meets in his store windows for several days. While attending the Worcester fair he picked up a large poster advertising the Groton racing show and races. Tucking it into his coat he has brought it to Lowell, and two hours later the poster was tacked to the store windows.

The act of the Lowell horseman has caused quite a little comment about town in horse circles, for the Rugg stable was not treated very nicely at a former Groton meet and the Lowell men resolved to overlook the Groton races in the future. However, his exhibiting of the racing poster shows his desire to help along a good cause, anyhow.

A number of Lowell horse fans are attending the races at the Vermont state fair, White River Junction, this week. The regular schedule of the races on Wednesday was augmented by two other events put over from Tuesday on account of the rain. The attendance was 21,000.

LONG BEACH, N. Y., Sept. 15.—Marty O'Loughlin, of Plainfield, N. J., open golf champion of New Jersey, led a field of 20 strokes over Jim Barnes, of Pelham Manor, N. Y., former national champion at the start of the first day's play of 36 holes today in the Metropolitan open championship over the Lido Golf club course. O'Loughlin's 45 holes was 122 and Barnes 134.

Spectator Hit Downes, After
—Crowd Surges Into Ring

The fight between Phinney Boyle of Lowell and Johnny Downes of South Boston, rivals for two years, which topped off a high class fighting card presented by the Moody club in the Crescent rink last night, ended unexpectedly and abruptly when Boyle's monom broke loose, after three of the most furious and bitterly fought rounds of boxing ever seen in a local ring.

While the bout is technically recorded as ending in the fourth round, when Downes refused to respond to the bell, it actually terminated in the third, with Downes on the floor taking a count and hundreds of fans surging into and up to the ring.

After the ring had been cleared and the boxers were considered, Boyle was escorted about during the confusion in the ring had been given a rest before Flaherty ordered the men to resume fight. Downes arose from his chair as Boyle moved to meet him, but Jackie Williams, Downes' manager intervened, and pulled his man out of the ring. Hence Flaherty awarded the verdict to Boyle on a technical knockout.

Never within the memory of many at the rinkside has such a thrilling and exciting battle been seen in the city, and Boyle's victory was a real one. Boyle's victory was a real one. Boyle's victory was a real one.

In the second round Boyle went down and had Downes obeyed the referee's order to count he probably would have scored a victory. Instead he stood right over the prostrate Boyle with his hands extended ready to initiate his opponent to lose considerable time in trying to revive him. Downes' manager intervened in the meantime the bell rang thus terminating the count. It was the second time that Boyle had been felled in the bout.

During the intermission Boyle's second worked feverishly and when the song sounded for the third Boyle tore into him and hit Downes with a powerful attack that brought his admirers to their feet and from this point on he ruled the ring.

Downes had been employed by Boyle's manager to hold Boyle by the neck and hitting low. He also poked his elbows into Boyle's ribs. These actions brought him blows and he was finally ejected from the ring. Boyle caught Downes flush on the jaw sending him to the ropes. At this distance a spectator jumped into the ring and drove a blow at Downes, who opened a cut on his mouth. As Downes turned to retaliate Boyle shot in a crushing blow to the stomach and crossed with one to the head that sent him to the canvas. Here Williams jumped into the ring to protect the spectator's act. The referee attempted to count. Others followed Williams to the ring and finally the reserves arrived on the scene.

Promoter Dodge then took a hand and his plan was to have Boyle's manager, who was carrying to his chair, still out, and the ring was cleared. The referee then announced that after each he would order the boxer to fight. The bell sounded, Boyle responded, but Downes' manager intervened and refused to permit his fighter, who was still groggy, to continue. Thus ended the hectic combat.

The bouts preceding the main event were rip-roaring battles. In one eight rounder scored in the second round by a clear cut knockout over Jimmy Barry of Chelsea. Flaherty showed a commendable time with Peter Manning, the world's champion trotter, in the headline affair attempting to break his world's best mark, without windshield, of 1:57.

AWARDED DECISION OVER
TO ANSWER BELL IN 4TH

Spectator Hit Downes, After
—Crowd Surges Into Ring

The fight between Phinney Boyle of Lowell and Johnny Downes of South Boston, rivals for two years, which topped off a high class fighting card presented by the Moody club in the Crescent rink last night, ended unexpectedly and abruptly when Boyle's monom broke loose, after three of the most furious and bitterly fought rounds of boxing ever seen in a local ring.

While the bout is technically recorded as ending in the fourth round, when Downes refused to respond to the bell, it actually terminated in the third, with Downes on the floor taking a count and hundreds of fans surging into and up to the ring.

After the ring had been cleared and the boxers were considered, Boyle was escorted about during the confusion in the ring had been given a rest before Flaherty ordered the men to resume fight. Downes arose from his chair as Boyle moved to meet him, but Jackie Williams, Downes' manager intervened, and pulled his man out of the ring. Hence Flaherty awarded the verdict to Boyle on a technical knockout.

Never within the memory of many at the rinkside has such a thrilling and exciting battle been seen in the city, and Boyle's victory was a real one. Boyle's victory was a real one. Boyle's victory was a real one.

In the second round Boyle went down and had Downes obeyed the referee's order to count he probably would have scored a victory. Instead he stood right over the prostrate Boyle with his hands extended ready to initiate his opponent to lose considerable time in trying to revive him. Downes' manager intervened in the meantime the bell rang thus terminating the count. It was the second time that Boyle had been felled in the bout.

During the intermission Boyle's second worked feverishly and when the song sounded for the third Boyle tore into him and hit Downes with a powerful attack that brought his admirers to their feet and from this point on he ruled the ring.

Downes had been employed by Boyle's manager to hold Boyle by the neck and hitting low. He also poked his elbows into Boyle's ribs. These actions brought him blows and he was finally ejected from the ring. Boyle caught Downes flush on the jaw sending him to the ropes. At this distance a spectator jumped into the ring and drove a blow at Downes, who opened a cut on his mouth. As Downes turned to retaliate Boyle shot in a crushing blow to the stomach and crossed with one to the head that sent him to the canvas. Here Williams jumped into the ring to protect the spectator's act. The referee attempted to count. Others followed Williams to the ring and finally the reserves arrived on the scene.

Promoter Dodge then took a hand and his plan was to have Boyle's manager, who was carrying to his chair, still out, and the ring was cleared. The referee then announced that after each he would order the boxer to fight. The bell sounded, Boyle responded, but Downes' manager intervened and refused to permit his fighter, who was still groggy, to continue. Thus ended the hectic combat.

The bouts preceding the main event were rip-roaring battles. In one eight rounder scored in the second round by a clear cut knockout over Jimmy Barry of Chelsea. Flaherty showed a commendable time with Peter Manning, the world's champion trotter, in the headline affair attempting to break his world's best mark, without windshield, of 1:57.

press agents for the popularization of their products. For proof, they send pictures of actual situations wherein work is being enjoyed!

Incredible as this may be, the pictures are here for positive proof. The movies and the legitimate, of course, have their representatives. But then there are undreamed of occupations to which radio has been applied.

For Housework

Before you start leaning over the washboard, or getting down on your knees to scrub the kitchen floor—this is meant for housewives, of course—rig your radio set at a convenient place nearby and tune in on a broadcasting concert. The rub-a-dub of the washboard or the scraping of the floor brush will be lost in the maze of music from the air.

If the housewife doesn't apply herself to this work, the radio experiment is just as suitable for servant girls or the weekly washwoman. Both would enjoy their jobs and recommend your home to others. It is a solution to the servant girl problem!

Actresses may have sets in their dressing rooms and alleviate the tedium of waiting for their turn on the stage. Movie stars—at least, the male variety—may now assume the painful duties of fishing with a radio outfit to relieve the monotony of silent waiting. While the female of the movie species may at last venture into a bathing suit at the surf with the assurance that a radio outfit will compensate for her embarrassing position.

In Paris, cafe owners have struck upon radio as the life-saver. They were going into bankruptcy. People—especially American tourists—refused to drink their wines and other beverages. They were desperate when one of them thought of radio.

Now, on cafe tables along the boulevards are small radio sets and alongside is a liquor list. Whoever wishes to drink may listen in. Or vice versa—whoever wishes to listen in must drink. The cafe owners have been saved!

CHINA HAS BAN ON RADIO

It's a hard life for radio fans in China, reports E. T. Lockwood to "QST," official organ of the American Radio Relay League.

Lockwood writes that Shanghai is the only place in the whole of China where the radio amateur has some freedom. The Peking government has issued a general order that no radio stations are allowed. But since Shanghai is under the jurisdiction of an international municipal council, amateurs have been permitted to erect stations and communicate with one another at whatever wave length they please.

In spite of this, however, even the fans in Shanghai have their difficulties, reports Lockwood. Material for construction of their sets is scarce.

"Vacuum tubes and other equipment," says Lockwood, "not only retail for several times their value as in America, but are chased by the customs officials the same as guns and ammunition, and often require special permits from Peking in order to permit them."

POLICE GUARD SHOE FACTORY

HAVERHILL, Sept. 15.—The heavy police details were replaced at the shoe factory of J. H. Winchell & Co. on Locust street yesterday, as trouble was feared, the firm having increased its force of employees Wednesday and yesterday, with every department now operating. Yesterday picketing was increased at the factory by those who walked out six weeks ago and when the factory closed last night the crowds from nearby factories were kept moving by the police.

The B. & S. W. U. officials say they are having no trouble in filling vacancies at the factory, while the S. W. P. U. leaders, the 450 who quit work at the Winchell factory, having joined the latter union, state that there are less than 100 real shoe workers now employed there.

Stubborn inflammations usually respond to Resinol

Although Resinol Ointment is primarily intended for the treatment of skin affections and the control of itching, it has such a strong healing action that it is highly and widely recommended as a dressing for the most stubborn boils, sores, wounds, etc.

It is mild, soothing and does not smart or sting when applied. Many satisfied users testify that it has healed quickly and easily, sores that have refused to yield to other treatments.

the Turks before the fire which swept the Armenian and other quarters of the Asia Minor seaport recently evacuated by the Greek army. It is charged in semi-official and other Greek messages from Athens received here today.

Girl Pupils Carried Away

Among the Turkish outrages was the carrying off of many girl pupils of the American girls' college. It is alleged. The Greek belief is that the fire was set by the Turks to conceal the traces of their alleged misdeeds.

Americans Suffer $75,000,000 Loss

A considerable share of the property loss from the fire, the total of which is estimated in Greek quarters at one billion francs (about $75,000,000 at present exchange rate for the French franc) fell upon American firms.

Alleged Tortures Executed

The Turkish population in Smyrna continues to be master of the situation. A number of Turkish officials accused of having aided the Greeks, were executed in front of the government buildings.

Quays Littered With Bodies

Refugees arriving in Athens from Smyrna recount terrible stories regarding the state of the city, owing to the ferocity of the Turks. Immediately on their arrival, the Kemalist troops gave themselves over to massacre and robbery of the Christians, and the quays were littered with corpses. A Greek journalist was shot down after being dragged through the streets tied to the back of an automobile.

300 Armenians Shot Down

An American passenger who reached Piræus from Smyrna says he saw 300 Armenians forced by the Turks to embark on a lighter. The Armenians were then shot down from the shore. The bodies were left floating in the water. According to other passengers, prominent members of the British colony in Smyrna were similarly murdered.

Englishmen Murdered

LONDON, Sept. 15. (By the Associated Press.)—An American destroyer which has arrived at Piræus, Greece, reports that the Turks entered the British consulate at Smyrna and murdered an official there, who was assembling the archives, says a Reuter despatch from Athens today. Postmaster Wilkinson is also said to have been murdered, as well as other Englishmen. Sir Harry Lamb, the consul general, is believed to have escaped on board a warship.

Fire Continues to Spread
SMYRNA, Sept. 15. (By the Associated Press.)—The fire which started in the Armenian quarter of Smyrna early yesterday afternoon had spread early this morning to the Turkish sections of the city and was making rapid headway. The entire European section is in ashes and countless of thousands are homeless. There were hundreds of casualties among persons who were caught in the section where the flames spread with greatest rapidity. The American consulate general was situated in the burned area. Consul General George Horton and his staff left as the flames swept toward the building, taking with them the official codes and funds, together with the most important records and documents. An American destroyer sailed for Saloniki with 800 refugees, and another later cleared for Piræus with 400 persons, including some of the consular staff, members of American benevolent organizations and business men.

American Destroyer Saves Refugees
ATHENS, Sept. 15.—An American destroyer arrived yesterday at Piræus from Smyrna with the American consul and several other American citizens and numerous Armenian refugees.

A despatch from Constantinople last night said all the naturalized Americans in Smyrna were being taken to Athens, accompanied by George Horton, the American consul general on board the torpedo boat destroyer Simpson.

Within 35 Miles of Constantinople
CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 15. (By the Associated Press.)—The Turkish nationalist army is now within 35 miles of Constantinople. The population is in a state of nervous tension and the entire city is rife with rumors about Mustafa Kemal Pasha's designs upon the capital.

Rodosto and other ports on the Sea of Marmora are choked with refugees who are arriving by the tens of thousands in an appalling state of misery. Hundreds are dying before they can be landed. The near east relief has despatched a shipload of foodstuffs and medicines for Rodosto in charge of Col. Stephen E. Love of St. Louis.

Ten thousand Armenian refugees have arrived in the Bosphorus on five vessels and will be given shelter in the Armenian churches of the city.

France Joins in Protest
PARIS, Sept. 15.—(By the Associated Press) The French government in its reply, forwarded last night, to the British note on the Near East, announces that France has decided to join the other allies in requesting the Turkish nationalist government to respect the neutrality zone of the Straits of the Dardanelles, fixed by the treaty of Sevres. Instructions to this effect have been sent to General Pelle, the French high commissioner in Constantinople. The French decision, the note adds, Continued on Page 19

Continued

Ad men directed an attack against all wearers of the straw hat, as a result of which every variety of top piece was gathered in, some voluntarily but most of them after a tussle, and secured on a prepared funeral pyre in full view of the audience. When practically all hats were consumed, Hon. Perry D. Thompson appeared on the horizon nonchalantly sporting a panama. The wideawake committee got busy immediately and elected to unhat Hon. Perry, but he objected strenuously, however, and it was only after a struggle against odds that he succumbed. By that time, his headpiece was beyond recognition and was hung to the flames amid uproarious applause. The last rose, or rather hat of summer entered the scene with the coming of the mayor, Hon. George H. Brown. Mr. Mayor proudly exhibited an expensive panama and was reluctant to bid it, good-bye. Realizing what was going on he tried to hide his hat but the committee showed no partiality and the mayor's hat met with a fate similar to that of his predecessor in office. The crematory process occupied but a few moments and soon all the hats were but a memory. Coca-Cola caps were furnished the losers.

The Dinner Call

With megaphone in hand, Ed Gallagher ascended the platform of the bowling alley and announced "Dinner Ready," and a grand rush for the tables resulted. The lengthy out-door program had yielded some 250 appetites, which were readily appeased with the serving of baked clams, live jobbers, one on each plate, corn on the cob, coffee, rolls, ice cream and cake.

While intently occupied with the "cents," the big event of the day was announced. A mysterious cabinet, accompanied by two gaily decorated pages, was conveyed into the dining hall and when it was opened, Miss Pansy Ward, in the role of Miss Powder Puff, revealed herself in typical powder puff style. Her duties consisted of conferring degrees on the honorable members of the scheming circle and this she did with befitting appropriateness each couched in a catchy verse. To the accompaniment of specially selected musical numbers, the following schismatics stepped forward and received "degrees": Frank Richard, George Ward, Ed. Conney, Frank McPhee, Abel Campbell, Lewis Balte, Wilfred Bouiger, Ben Pouzner, Del Abbott, Conale Connelly, Robert Wood, Hon. James B. Casey, Walter Flynn, Ed McGilly, Henry Mulcahy, Isadore Brown, Dr. Charles L. Sweetser, Lee Smith, Paul Doherty, Ed. W. Gallagher, Walter Bruce, Geo. Wood, Tom Atkinson, Richard McGrath, Charles Keyes. Hon. George H. Brown, who is an honorary member of the Ad club also received a degree. Assisting Miss Ward in her delicate task were the Misses Joyce and Wood of the Puffery. During the course of the clam bake, the Ad club's double quartet entertained with a variety of songs. The songsters included Harry Patton, John McMahon, Harry Pascoli, Charles Martin, Andrew McCarthy, Harry Priestley, John Moir and Walter Bruce. Through the courtesy of Ben Pickett, manager of R. F. Keith's theatre, Miss Grace Hayes was introduced and instilled additional enthusiasm in the gathering by her masterly rendition of "It's Three O'Clock in the Morning." Harry Ashton of the Irving Berlin Music company also obliged with pleasing melodies. Mayor Brown was chosen to do the drawing for the winners of the lucky numbers, etc. The first ticket he drew from the hat bore the name of Miss Molly Whelan, who was awarded a string of beads, donated by Frank Richard. Other winners were William Sharkey, travelling bag, Sarre Bros.; Clovis Belanger, string of pearls, Le Toile; Paul Doherty, 5-lb. box of candy presented by Dr. Sweetser; Mrs. Sarre, a radiant fire room heater. Another drawing for a Diamond cord tire, the gift of the Boston Auto Supply, was won by Grace Atkinson, while C. G. Martin won an inner tube from the Anderson Tire shop. George H. Wells received a perfection of heater and Frank Flanagan, a 1000-word letter head, gift from the Balte Printing company.

The coming of darkness was the signal for the trip to another field of conquest, Lakeview and the dancing pavilion, which had been generously loaned to the frolics through the kindness of Mr. Harry Kittredge. Here a grand march took place, the couples fantastically tripping over the polished floor and each receiving a suitable favor. To climax the end of the perfect day, waltzes, fox trots and novelty dances brought the tired, but still happy Ad men and ladies to the realization that the first annual outing of the Lowell Advertising club had passed into history.
The schemers in charge of the outing were as follows: Robert Wood, chairman; clam bake, Edward V. Gallagher, Dr. Charles L. Sweetser, Abel R. Campbell, prizes, Frank McPhee; automobiles, Edward Conney; tickets, George H. Wood; sports and stunts, Henry Mulcahy and Charles Keyes; guests and publicity, Benjamin Pouzner and Hon. James B. Casey; program, Lewis Balte; schedule, Thomas Atkinson; toasts, etc., Frank Richard. The scheming circle extends its sincere thanks to G. R. A formal demand for a declaration by the nationalist government of its intention to observe this neutrality will probably be made by the allied high commissioners in Constantinople tomorrow.

Diplomatic conversations among the allies appear to have established the French view that the future sovereignty

Y.M.C.A. Building Saved

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—A cablegram received at the Y.M.C.A. headquarters from E. O. Jacob, general secretary of the organization at Smyrna stated that the Y.M.C.A. reservation in that city was not destroyed as had been reported by the fire which swept parts of Smyrna after the evacuation of the Greek army. The cablegram added that the families of Mr. Jacob and A. K. Jennings, a secretary, have arrived safely at Athens.

ASSEMBLY OF LEAGUE OF NATIONS RECONVENED

GENEVA, Sept. 15.—(By the Associated Press) The Assembly of the League of Nations reconvened today after a week's recess during which the various committees completed their work. The most important question on the program today was consideration of the method of election and the proposed increase in the number of the members of the council of the league. The disarmament committee is continuing its discussion of the report of the mixed commission on armaments and will probably finally decide on the proposition for an international conference to consider extension of the

GALLI-CURCI

The Great Artist Always a Serious Student

The famous Galli-Curci, who will give a recital at the Memorial Auditorium on Friday evening, Oct. 1, has always been a serious student of music and still continues to study hard in spite of the remarkable success that she has won. The soprano is constantly going over her operatic repertoire and discovering new elements that she can incorporate into her interpretations. Recently she toured from France a collection of her songs, many of which were written for concert audiences, songs that were found after much patient searching. Always persevering, always aiming to please the public, Galli-Curci is a tireless student and worker.

She must have acquired the habit of study at an early age for when she was but four years old she played the piano for Mascagni, who told her that in order to become a great pianist she would have to study very hard. At 16 she sang for Mascagni and the composer advised her to become a singer. Galli-Curci started to sing in her father's and grandfather's parlors and gave some operatic performances. Trani, a little Italian town. She then made a successful debut at the Costanzi Opera House in Rome, and thine and in South America until her American debut in Chicago, 1918. From that time on her great success is a matter of record.

Besides mastering her operatic role and a vast repertory of concert songs, Galli-Curci is a remarkable linguistic, a skilled pianist and an authority in Italian literature. All this talent and knowledge crowded into a charming little lady, still very young and studious and striving to make her teaching ever nearer the goal of the ideal.

WILL VOTE ON PENSION ACT

City Solicitor Instructed to Put State Pension Question on Ballots

Act Has to Do With
Municipal Employees

Cemetery Commission to Acquire Land for Addition to Westlawn Cemetery

At the state elections in November the citizens of Lowell will have an opportunity to accept or reject the state pension act relating to the retirement with pay of municipal employees who have served the required number of years in the city service and who become incapacitated for further work.

By a unanimous vote last night the city council instructed City Solicitor Edward J. Tierney to take the necessary steps to assure the appearance of the question in referendum form on the ballot, after it became known that the present date was not too late to make arrangements to have the question submitted in November.

The board of cemetery commissioners will acquire 17 acres of land in Boston road, to be developed as an addition to the Westlawn cemetery, by action of the council in voting to solve the tract by right of eminent domain. The land is owned by Erasmus A. Bartlett and whatever cost is created will be borne by the cemetery commission.

Prior to the meeting the council sat in conference with the cemetery commissioners and decided upon the course of action to be taken.

Meeting in Detail

The council convened at 8:35 o'clock, with Councilors Stearns, McFadden and Queenan absent.

A hearing was held in remonstrance to action taken in changing the name of a portion of Crescent street to Emery street. The petition for hearing was signed by Eugene I. Sullivan and others.

It was the claim of the remonstrants that there is no need of a change in name for any portion of that street, also it was brought out that the street, which is in the form of a perfect crescent, has historical value, for it was originally the old Chelmsford road.

Councilor Chadwick said that he has talked with the original promoters for the change in name and although they would like to see the street surface repaved, they do not object to having the street name changed back again.

It was the opinion of the council that this should be done and the city clerk instructed to prepare a necessary order.

On question by Councilor McFadden, City Solicitor Tierney gave information relative to a state pension law for city laborers. He stated that to make the act operative, it must be accepted by vote of all the people.

Councilor Moriarty said he understood it is not even now too late to have it placed upon local ballots at the state election in November, and he so moved. It was unanimously voted.

Zoning Ordinance Approved

After some discussion, during which Councilor General spoke in opposition and Councilors Adams and Gallagher in favor, the new zoning ordinance relating building in certain districts, was passed.

26 Jurors Drawn

Councilor Chadwick drew the following names for jury service at the criminal session of the superior court:

John F. Dunlop, 682 Chelmsford street, truckman.

John F. Maxwell, 124 Anna street, overcoat.

Patrick McGilley, 25 Hoyt avenue, wool sorter.

Thomas A. I. Sullivan, 28 Grove street, dealer.

John E. McCormick, 108 Livingston avenue, clerk.

James A. Javery, 228 Appleton street, clerk.

Vernon A. French, 234 Mammoth road, auto hivery.

Richard C. Heaman, 245 Stevens street, cashier.

Arthur J. Brodeur, 546 Middlesex street, clerk.

Michael P. McHugh, 254 Merrimack street, clerk.

Joseph P. Carlin, 614 East Merrimack street, machinist.

Joseph F. Murphy, 275 High street, printer.

John Cryan, 27 Bowers street, tanner.

Edward W. Landry, 15 Gresham avenue, clerk.

B. W. Halsted, 110 Warelek street, clerk.

Clarence T. Whitman, 13 Oliver street, planer.

John J. Dawson, 445 Middlesex street, manager.

Abel R. Campbell, 22 Harris avenue, real estate.

Eugene Dean, 293 Salem street, laborer.

William H. Tyler, 39 Epping street, gardener.

William H. Chilton, 21 Bowdoin street, B. & M.

Three traveling jurors were drawn by Councilor McMahon, as follows:

Ralph E. Rundle, 4 Harland avenue, engineer.

John J. Gookin, 15 Aberdeen street, manager.

Charles W. Halstead, 255 Princeton street, E. L. Co.

Transfers Voted to Departments

The council voted the following transfer order from general expense: $16,000 to insurance, $12,512.70 to street maintenance, and $1000 from auditing books.

Based upon a conference held with the cemetery commissioners prior to the meeting, upon the advisability of

TAG DAY ARRANGEMENTS

Plans Are All Set For India Relief Tag Day
Here Tomorrow

Final arrangements for the tag day to be held tomorrow for the relief of the famine sufferers in India were completed at a meeting held last night in A.O.U. hall in Middle street. During the meeting many men and women volunteered their services for the day.

The destitute condition of the people of India, due to lack of food and lack of homes, was graphically described by Nomi Dose, one of the principal speakers, who has just come from there. He says that his country is looking toward America for help in its hour of need.

John Barrett, secretary of the meeting, and John Kenney, who presided, both spoke of the terrible conditions existing in India and asked the support of the people in making this tag day a financial success so that a substantial sum might be sent back to relieve the suffering people.

During the business meeting, which followed the speaking, several captains and lieutenants were appointed to have charge of the girls who will solicit aid tomorrow. Among these are the Misses Sharkey, Hazen and Flynn, and several high school girls. Mrs. Michael Sharkey and Mrs. Sheridan will also be on hand Saturday morning to direct the work of the solicitors.

Headquarters will be established at A.O.U. hall and will be open tonight and all day tomorrow for the purpose of distributing the tickets, boxes and badges. Mr. Bono will be on hand to assist in this work as will also Miss Rebecca Klabriky, a secretary to the Indian relief mission now in this country.

Relief land in Boston road for cemetery purposes, the council voted to acquire 17 acres of this property by the seizure process.

This land is owned by Erasmus A. Bartlett, and the city clerk was authorized to notify him of the council's action and to make the proper entry in the office of the register of deeds.

A similar vote was passed relative to land and buildings acquired for widening a portion of First street.

Another $50,000 Paving Order

Another order to borrow $50,000 for block paving was read and ordered to stay in the office of the city clerk for seven days.

Although the board of public services recommended "leave to withdraw" upon a petition for edgewood and chelmsford sidewalks in Woburn and Eugene streets, the council voted to refer it back to the board for further investigation.

Councilors Gallagher and McFadden expressed the belief that edgewood is greatly needed in that neighborhood.

RAILROADS RETURN TO OLD SCHEDULES

Daylight-saving boosters and carrying degrees of sorrow and relief the big, big-typed poster sheets tacked up on the outside walls of the Middlesex street railroad station yesterday, announcing the impending termination of the summer time-table schedules and the return to the former hours of train arrivals and departures.

The return to the old schedules goes into effect at 12:01 a. m. Sunday morning, Sept. 24. You will be able to locate your train a little more easily after the change, the present method of adding or subtracting one hour, etc., will be in the discard, once more and the time-tables will read the way they ought to, same as your luggage or the clock in the railroad station house.

Announcement was made today that the new time-tables for patrons of both the Boston and Maine and the N. Y. N. H. and H. railroads would be ready bright and early Friday morning, Sept. 22. It will pay all you rail travelers to do your time-table shopping early, as the supply may be limited.

LOCAL RAILROAD STRIKE

Federated Crafts Await Return of Delegates—Mass Meeting Tonight

The delegates of the local federated crafts of the Boston & Maine railroad, who attended a conference in Chicago last Monday, and who were expected to return to Lowell last evening, have not arrived as per schedule, but the officials of the crafts stated today they hoped the men would arrive in time to attend the big mass meeting, which is scheduled to be held this evening at 8 o'clock.

The meeting will be conducted in the Colonial theatre, Middlesex street, and the gathering will be addressed by Robert Fechner of Washington, first vice president of the Machinists' union. If the delegates arrive in time it is expected that they will bring a message of encouragement to the strikers, which will be delivered at the meeting. Members of the local crafts, 125, are requested to gather in their quarters in Odd Fellows' building, Middlesex street, at 6:30 o'clock this evening as President Harry Morse has some important information to give out. The meeting will be held in order to give the members an opportunity to attend the crafts mass meeting later.

NOTHING NEW IN LOCAL TEXTILE STRIKE

There was great jubilation at local textile strike headquarters this morning when it was announced that the Exeter Mfg. Co. of Exeter, N. H., will resume operations Sept. 15 on a 48-hour week basis and at wages in effect previous to the reduction of Feb. 13. This action on the part of the Exeter company is regarded here as the first step towards the settlement of all the textile strikes in the neighboring state.

No further move has been made here towards the settlement of the strikes at the Hamilton and Massachusetts mills and the action whatever will be taken by John Hanlon, chairman of the strike committee, who is now attending the annual convention of the United Textile Workers of America in Fall River returns. The drive for the raising of funds through subscriptions from local business men, which was started last week, has been temporarily suspended. Mr. Hanley is expected home today and it is probable that upon his arrival he will get in touch with the agents of the mills affected by strikes and if an agreement is reached it is anticipated that the strikers will be called off immediately and the operatives may return to work next Monday.

RAILROADS RETURN TO OLD SCHEDULES

Daylight-saving boosters and carrying degrees of sorrow and relief the big, big-typed poster sheets tacked up on the outside walls of the Middlesex street railroad station yesterday, announcing the impending termination of the summer time-table schedules and the return to the former hours of train arrivals and departures.

The return to the old schedules goes into effect at 12:01 a. m. Sunday morning, Sept. 24. You will be able to locate your train a little more easily after the change, the present method of adding or subtracting one hour, etc., will be in the discard, once more and the time-tables will read the way they ought to, same as your luggage or the clock in the railroad station house.

Announcement was made today that the new time-tables for patrons of both the Boston and Maine and the N. Y. N. H. and H. railroads would be ready bright and early Friday morning, Sept. 22. It will pay all you rail travelers to do your time-table shopping early, as the supply may be limited.

WHITE WAY EXTENSIONS

Mayor Brown Favors White Way Extensions Through Business Sections

White Way Extension in East Merrimack Street is Nearing Completion

Lowell Loses Conventions Because of Lack of Proper Hotel Accommodations

It is expected that the extension of the white way in East Merrimack street from Merrimack square to High street will be completed by the early part of next week and today Mayor Brown notified the Lowell Electric Light Corp. to turn on the lights on the new circuit as soon as the work of installation is finished.

The mayor stated today that he has also requested the Lowell Electric Light Corp. to prepare an estimate of the cost of operating white way extensions in Paige, John, Middle, Market, Dutton, Gresham and Back Central streets, for it is his intention to extend the white way throughout the business section of the town. The installation of the lights, he said, will be borne by the company, but of course the city will have to pay the light bills.

His Honor stated that the business district will be looked after first and then if it is possible the white way will be extended to some of the residential sections.

While discussing the possibilities of white way extensions the mayor also suggested that the chamber of commerce or some other civic organization take up the proposition of the erection of a large and modern hotel in this city.

"Through the lack of proper hotel accommodations in this city," he continued, "Lowell has lost a number of important conventions. For instance, last year the big French organization, 'Union St. Jean Baptiste d'Amérique' would have held its convention in this city instead of in Lewiston, Me., but hotel facilities were not adequate for the large number of delegates. Their again the convention of the American Legion, which will be held next year, would probably have come to this city, but the hotel question was again in the way. Now that the Auditorium is available for conventions, I believe that some move should be made for the erection of a large hotel, as the holding of conventions in this city would mean a lot for business in general."

LILA LEE NOT TO MARRY CHARLIE CHAPLIN

ELYRIA, Ohio, Sept. 15.—Denial that she is going to marry Charlie Chaplin, the comedian, has been made by Miss Lila Lee, film star, who stopped off here for a brief visit to her sister, "Charlie Chaplin's" Mary. Miss Lee said, when asked if newspaper rumors to that effect were true: "No, we are not going to be married. In fact, I don't think Mr. Chaplin will ever marry again."
